PRICE OF GAS IN BELFAST.

INCREASE REJECTED BY THE CORPORATION.

The Belfast Corporation, at a special meeting yesterday, rejected the recommendation of the Gas Committee, which proposed to increase the price of gas from two shillings and fourpence to two shillings and eightpence net per thousand cubic feet.

Councillor McLaurin, Chairman of the Committee, urged the increase on economic grounds, and pointed to sixteen cities across the water where increases from 6d. to 2s. 2½d. had taken place.

Several members expressed the view that everything possible should be done to avert the increase, in view of the hardship that it would inflict on the poor.

It was pointed out that the loss to the end of September, owing to the higher prices paid for coal in consequence of the coal strike, was £37,797.

Councillor Captain Browne said that he felt very strongly that the increase would press very heavily on those least able to bear it. (Hear, hear.) They should draw on the reserve to meet any loss, and so avert any increase in the price.

The Lord Mayor said that they had a duty to discharge to the whole of the ratepayers, and they were the custodians of that big undertaking. While he appreciated what had been said with regard to the poorer classes of the people, the Committee had not ignored their claim, as the increase in the case of the slot meter consumers would only be 2.38d., or less than 2½d. per 1,000 feet.

THE BOYLE SHOW.

FINE TURN-OUT OF DAIRY STOCK.

ALL SECTIONS WELL SUPPORTED.

From Our Agricultural Correspondent.

BOYLE, Tuesday.

Two years ago Boyle Agricultural, Horticultural and Industrial Society's Show was revived after a lapse of many years. Last year it was again allowed to fall through owing to the depression amongst farmers. Its resuscitation this year under such conditions as prevailed here to-day may be regarded as a hopeful sign for the future. In all, prizes were offered for competition in 130 sections, and the aggregate entry amounted to 640, as compared with 311 at the previous Show. All sections were well supported, and a high standard of merit was observable throughout. If not remarkably stylish, horses generally were more than usually good, especially amongst the Irish draughts, which were fit to win anywhere. Brood mares were specially worthy of mention. Cattle were notable for the fine turn-out of Aberdeen-Angus and dairy stock, the Great Southern Cup for the best Aberdeen-Angus going to Mr. W. Moroney, Ardcarne, for a deep, level, lengthy bull of great substance.

There were really fine displays in the other departments, farm and garden produce, as well as poultry, exciting general admiration.

The Show was held in portion of the grounds and buildings of the old Boyle Union, and the general arrangements were well carried out under the direction of the secretary, Mr. F. J. Monson.

Amongst the judges were the following:—Horses—Messrs. G. O'Neill, Castlepollard; J. Scott, Ballina. Cattle and sheep—Messrs. James Ganly, Dublin, and R. Downes, Mullingar. Farm and garden produce—Mr. A. Moore, Mullingar. Poultry, butter and eggs—Miss Burke. Rabbits—Mr. D. J. Carton, Dublin. Needlework and cookery—Miss Ryan, Mullingar.

HORSES.

The first class to come under notice was the open one for Irish draught stallions. Here the first prize went to Mr. E. Clyne, Strokestown, for a horse of great substance and quality. In the open class for hunter brood mares Mr. P. Neilon, Tourlestrane, was first with a fine roomy mare, that carries herself well. Mr. F. J. Monson, Rockmount, was second and Sir Thomas Stafford, Rockingham, third. In the foal class Mr J. J. Cox, Strokestown, was first, Mr. Callaghan second, and Sir Thomas Stafford third. For yearlings, by thoroughbred sire, Mr. J. Cullen, French Park, was first, and Mr. R. Bagnall, Ballymote, second.

A good class for two-year-olds likely to make hunters was headed by Mr. A. Little, Navareno, with a nice grey filly, by Gipsy Admiral. Mr. F. J. Monson was second.

In the open class for three-year-olds suitable for hunters Mr. R. Bagnall was first with a horse of fine type. Mr. A. Little was second with a chestnut colt, and Mr. H. Craig, Boyle, third. For trained hunters, four-year-old or upwards, Mr. P. P. Hanley, Ballina, was first, Mr. A. Little was second with a promising colt by Irish Marine, Mr. R. Cotton, Moylurg, being third.

A good lot of draught mares was led by Mr. J. J. Cox, Strokestown; Mr. J. Callaghan, Moygara, being second, and Mr. James Bright, Ballymote, third. The best foal of draught type was shown by Mr. J. Callaghan. A capital lot of trained ponies, not exceeding 14.2 hands high, were shown. Mr. B. Brown, Sligo, was first, Mr. F. Gardiner, Towerhill, second, and Mr. F. O'Dowd, Boyle, third. For ponies under 13 hands high Mr. T. Conry, Drum, was first, and Mr. R. Hans, Boyle, second.

For trained mares or geldings, for general purposes three-year-old and over, Mr. P. Beirne, Boyle, was first, Mr. P. Bright, Ballymote, second, and Mr. John Taylor, Boyle, third.

The class confined to Irish draught mares, six-year-old or over, was led by Mr. J. J. Cox; Mr. J. Glynn, Knockwear, being second, and Mr. John Drury, Ardsallagh, third. Mr. P. Mullany, Strokestown, led the only Irish draught mare under six years old, and for this he was given a first prize.

CATTLE.

The display of cattle was worthy of the stockbreeders in this part of the country. In the open class for shorthorn yearling bulls, Mr. J. R. Barbour, Collooney, led with his red roan, Double Chance, a compact, level, good-ribbed Luxury bull, by Bernagh President, sold for 300 guineas as a yearling. He was first at Dublin, Belfast and Sligo this season. Mr. G. Costello, Keash, was second, and Mr. E. Moran, Ballinamore, third.

For shorthorn bull calves, Sir Thomas Stafford was first, Mr. J. R. Barbour second, and Mr. G. Barrett, Carrickmore, third. In the class for older shorthorn bulls, Mr. A. Percival, Ballymote, was first, and Mr. James Bruen, Boyle, second.

A nice lot of Aberdeen-Angus bulls were headed by a lengthy, strong-ribbed, low-set sire from Mr. W. Moroney, Ardcarnes. He was subsequently declared the best specimen of the breed. Mr. W. Fallon, Aughnasburn, was second with the three-year-old Veitch of Ellesmere, by Bill of Millford, while Mr. P. O'Connor, Ardsallagh, was third.

In the class for registered dairy bulls, Mr. J. R. Barbour's Double Chance was first, his dam, Madam Luxury, being a 988-gallon cow. Mr. P. Anderson, Boyle, was second with the light roan, Cloonastilla's Champion, while Mr. P. Kearns was third with the red, Lord Broadhooks.

A wonderfully good class for cows of any breed in calf or in milk was led by Dr. Madden, with a matron of great scale and milking quality. Mr. R. Hans, Boyle, was second and Major Bryan Cooper third, the latter with a shapely Aberdeen-Angus.

The open class for heifers in calf was headed in fine style by an animal from Mr. J. R. Barbour. Mr. A. Perceval was second and Major Cooper third. In the open class for yearling shorthorn heifers, Mr. A. Perceval was first, Mr. J. O'Healy second and Sir Thomas Stafford third.

First in the open class for yearling bullocks went to Mr. M. Morrison, Ballymote. Mr. J. Barrett, Carrickmore, was second and third.

In the heifer class, Major Cooper was first, Mrs. Poynton second and third.

For store bullocks, any breed, having not more than six permanent teeth, Mr. James Farrell, Boyle, was first, Mr. A. Smith, Oaklands, second and Mr. Morrison, Ballymote, third.

For store heifers, with not more than four permanent teeth, Major Cooper was first and Mr. J. Poynton second.

For store bullocks, Angus type, with not more than four permanent teeth, Mr. J. McDermotroe was second.

The Ganly Cup, for Angus heifers, having not more than four permanent teeth, went to Major Cooper, Mr. H. Boles being reserve.

FARMERS' CLASSES.

Under £30 valuation. In this section, first for dairy cows went to Mr. P. Conlon, for a shorthorn, Mr. J. Higgins was second and Mr. O. Mullaney third.

For yearling bullocks, any breed, Mr. M. Morrison was first, Mr. J. Barrett second and Mr. J. Drury third.

For bullock or heifer calves, Mr. B. McDermott was first, Mr. M. Barrett second and Mr. Morrison third.

Under £10 valuation—For cows, Mr. J. Higgins was first and Mr. M. Conry second. For yearlings, Mr. McDermotroe was first, Mr. J. Egan second and Mr. J. O. Healy third.

For the Bibby prize, Joseph Poynton was first and W. Clarke second.

SHEEP AND PIGS.

All things considered, the show of sheep was good, though it might easily have been larger. Roscommons made a nice turn-out, and in the section confined to registered sheep, Mr. P. J. Fitzmaurice, Elphin, was first for rams, while Mr. G. Acheson, Rushill, won firsts for ewes, ewe lambs and ram lambs. Another successful exhibitor was Mr. M. J. O'Connor.

In the open section for ewe lambs, Mr. G. Acheson and Mr. G. Barrett were first and second. For ewe hoggets Mr. Acheson was again first and Major Cooper second. For Roscommon rams, Mr. M. J. O'Connor was first, Sir T. Stafford second and Mr. J. Barrett third. For rams of any other breed, Major Cooper was first and Mr. J. Barrett second. For Roscommon ram lambs, Mr. G. Acheson was first, Mr. James Glynn second and Mr. J. Cullen third.

In the farmers' class for hoggets, Mr. J. Drury was first and Mr. J. Barrett second. For two ewes, Mr. M. J. Connor was first, Mr. J. Barrett second and Mr. J. Drury third.

For brood sows, Mr. R. Hans was first, Mr. B. McDermott second and Mr. J. Coleman third. For boars, Mr. B. McDermott was first; while for fat pigs, Mr. A. Little was first and third and Mr. James Bruen second.

POULTRY.

There was a creditable muster of poultry, and for live birds first prizes went to Mrs. Coleman, Mrs. Lee, J. Regan, Captain F. Nelson, Mrs. P. J. Dorr, Mrs. Dowd, Mrs. J. Spellman.

First prizes for dead poultry went to Mrs. Lee, Mr. A. Little, Mrs. Cryan and Mrs. Dorr.

First prize butter-makers were Mrs. Dorr, Mr. O'Mullaney and Mrs. Haus.

In the farm produce section there was a particularly fine display of potatoes, and first prizes were accounted for by Mr. T. Garvin, Carrowcrory (5); P. Hopkins, A. Millrooney, Kingsland (3), and J. McGlynn.

An outstanding feature of the vegetable section was the class for collections. So good were the exhibits of the Earl of Kingston, Ballyfarnon, and Mr. G. Stewart, Boyle, that first and second prizes were divided. The Earl of Kingston's exhibit (F. Doherty, gardener) included two giant vegetable marrows, grown out of doors. A specimen of the round variety astonished everyone by its size and apparent soundness. Its weight was estimated at 3st. A long variety marrow weighed 2st. 2lb. Mr. Stewart's exhibit was rather more uniform.

The Richardson and Fletcher and Special for the best collection of crops went to Mr. J. Drury.

There was a fine display of cookery, needlework, honey, apples and flowers.

The four classes for rabbits filled well, Angoras making a particularly good show. Most of the exhibits came from the neighbourhood of Dublin, and the Cup for the best rabbit in the Show (any breed) went to Mrs. S. Townsend, Sandycove, for her first prize Angora. She was second and third in the same class. In the Chinchilla class, Mrs. Mathers, Dublin, was first; Mr. H. Quinton, Sligo, second, and Mrs. Lowe, Dublin, third. For Havanas, Mrs. Galbraith, Dromahair, was first and second.

Muriel Leech was second for the Cup for the best rabbit, and Mr. C. G. Monson, Dublin, third.

DRIVING AND JUMPING.

DUBLIN DISTRICT COURT

RAN INTO HEARSE.

MOTORIST FINED £20 FOR DANGEROUS DRIVING.

Alfred R. Kelly, painter, Ranelagh road, was charged with having been drunk in charge of a motor car on the Chapelizod road on Monday evening, and with having driven the car in a manner dangerous to the public, with the result that he knocked down two horses in a hearse.

HORSES KNOCKED DOWN.

George Dobbs, hearse driver, stated that at about 8.10 o'clock he was driving a hearse, with remains, along Conyngham road, between the boat club and Chapelizod Gate, on his proper side. A motor car approached, and another car came out from behind it and came along on the channel on the witnesses's side of the road; struck the front horses of the hearse and knocked them down.

The witness had stopped the horses, and shouted: "Where are you going to?" when he saw the car. After knocking down the horses the car went on for about 50 yards. There were three or four men in the car when the collision took place.

Replying to Mr. P. Campbell, solicitor, defending, the witness said that he did not notice a man being pitched out of the motor car, but when he looked behind after the car had passed he saw a man lying on the road. One of the horses was struck in the chest by the motor car and was cut on the breast. He could not say what became of the other motor car. The car which struck the horses seemed to be trying to get between the hearse and the witness's side of the road. It was quite light at the time.

WIDOWER'S ACCOUNT.

Joseph Connolly, labourer, stated that he was in a mourning coach behind the hearse, which bore his wife's remains. He heard a crash on the Conyngham road. He opened the door of the coach, jumped out and saw two of the hearse horses lying on the ground, and a man lying in the middle of the road, bleeding.

James Kelly was sitting in the back of the motor car, also bleeding. The defendant had been driving the car, and when the witness saw him he was staggering about alongside the car. He was under the influence of drink.

Another car came up and the injured men were put into it. The defendant refused to get in, saying that he would stop there until a policeman came. There were no signs of injury on him. "He was like as if he was excited," went on the witness. "I smelt liquor off him."

Replying to Mr. Campbell, the witness said that if the man got a blow it could account for his staggering about, but he was under the influence of drink.

THROWN FROM CAR.

Agnes Reilly, who was cycling behind the hearse at the time of the collision, said that she saw a motor car approaching on the wrong side of the road. It skidded in trying to get away from the hearse, and the next thing she saw was one of the horses lying on the ground. She saw one of the men in the car "make a somersault" out of the car as a result of the impact and fell on the roadway. A tyre of the car rolled away down the road. The witness did not approach near enough to observe the men's condition.

In reply to Mr. Campbell, the witness said that the car had gone on for about ten or fifteen yards after the collision when the tyre came off.

To the Bench—Her attention was taken up with the man who was thrown from the car and who was bleeding from the head.

Edward McCready, billiard marker, of 1 Ranelagh, whose head and face were extensively bandaged, gave evidence that on Monday evening Alfred Kelly brought him for a drive in his motor car, together with James Kelly. They went to Lucan, where the defendant had two small whiskeys. On the way back from Chapelizod the defendant tried to pull out to pass another car in front. The witness heard a shout, and he was thrown out on the roadway. He knew no more until he found himself in Steevens's Hospital.

In reply to Mr. Campbell, the witness stated that the defendant was not under the influence of drink that evening.

Sergeant McGrath, Chapelizod, gave evidence of finding on the road at the scene of the collision the tracks of a motor car 6½ feet from the right-hand side. He saw both Kellys in Steevens's Hospital at nine o'clock. Both were under the influence of drink.

DRUNKENNESS NOT PROVED.

The defendant in evidence denied that he was under the influence of drink that evening. On the way home from Chapelizod he attempted to pass a car in front of him. He found that the other car was going too fast for him to pass and turned in to his own side again. As he did so his car skidded and struck the leading pair of horses with the hearse. Later that night he found that the cause of the skid was that a tyre had come off.

In reply to the Justice, the defendant said that his brakes were fairly good.

Mr. Little said that there was no evidence to convince him that Alfred Kelly was drunk, and he dismissed that charge. He convicted on the charge of driving in a manner dangerous to the public, and fined the defendant £20 and suspended his driver's licence for twelve months.

THEFT OF BOOT POLISH.

Henry Doherty, whose address was given as 5 Verschoyle court, was remanded till Monday on a charge of stealing from the premises 5 Eustace street 35 dozen tins of boot polish, value £7, and 180 boxes of suede ball, value £2 18s. 9d.

Detective Gordon stated that the accused made a statement admitting having stolen the polish and sold it to several people at eightpence a dozen tins.

MORE BURGLARY CHARGES.

Ten youths, aged from 15½ to 20, all living in the Railway street-Gloucester place area, were before the Court on fresh charges of burglary and theft from shops, having been already returned for trial on other charges.

The premises entered are situated in Drury street, Camden street and Parnell street, and the robberies took place in April and May last.

EXHIBITION IN BELFAST.

The second annual exhibition under the auspices of the Ulster Wireless Traders' Association was opened yesterday afternoon in the Ulster Hall, Belfast, by the Right Hon. the Lord Mayor (Sir William Turner, J.P.), and will continue until Saturday.

Last year's initial exhibition proved an unqualified success, and this year the association have the advantage of being supported by leading cross-Channel manufacturers, whose exhibits, in addition to those of local retailers, are certain to prove of great interest to wireless enthusiasts, and will give the public an opportunity of judging the wonderful strides that this fascinating science has made in recent years.

In addition to the exhibits in the main hall various smaller rooms are used as demonstration chambers. The following Organising Committee are to be congratulated on the success of their efforts—Mr. Leo Scop (chairman), Messrs. Frank Galt, R. J. Smyth, W. I. Smith, L. T. Dobbin, D. J. Hill, G. T. Webster, and R. Scott.

There was a large attendance at the opening ceremony. Mr. Scop, the chairman of the association, referred to the progress of the association, which, he said, was only in existence about 18 months. Its membership had, however, increased since their first exhibition, which proved that traders throughout Ulster fully appreciated the splendid services it was rendering.

The Lord Mayor, who was cordially received, said that they all knew the marvellous grip that wireless had obtained throughout the world and it was satisfactory to know that Ulster was not behind the times, but, indeed, that several of their amateur operators had already created world "records" in the matter of long-distance reception and transmission.

Looking round that hall they could not help being struck by the great improvement and inventions introduced since the association's last exhibition a year ago, and he was certain that the public generally would avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing such a varied display of the latest in wireless sets and components.

CHRIST CHURCH CATHEDRAL CRYPT.

In an article on Christ Church Cathedral, published in this paper last week, a description was given of an officer who met a tragic death in bygone days in the crypt of the Cathedral, where he was accidentally locked in and was attacked and devoured by rats. The name was given in error as Sir Samuel Auchmuty; it should have been Lieutenant Mercier.

CRIPPLED FISHING INDUSTRY.

GENERAL REFORM REQUIRED.

At a meeting of the Standing Committee of the Irish Fishermen's Association, held in Dawson street, Dublin, last night the recent statements by the Minister for Fisheries were considered, and it was resolved to stand by the following resolutions passed at the Howth-Arklow meeting:—

(1) "That this meeting of fishermen, representing the four coasts of Ireland, realising that any drastic action by the Department of Fisheries with respect to outstanding arrears on loans granted during and following the Great War would be very injurious to the fishing industry as a whole, and would cut away completely from the fishermen the help hitherto given them by public spirited citizens who acted as guarantors, calls upon the Department to withdraw forthwith any writs it has issued against fishermen or guarantors, and to desist from any such drastic action in any district until the whole question of loans and arrears, in conjunction with other important matters bearing on the industry, has been examined into and reported on by a competent committee. We call upon the Minister for Fisheries to put into operation, without further delay, his promise, given over nine months ago, to have a revaluation carried out of the boats and gear supplied to fishermen by the Department."

(2) "This meeting of fishermen, salesmen and buyers, assembled at Howth from nine different counties, request deputies who represent maritime constituencies to take steps during the parliamentary recess to ascertain the position of fishing in their respective districts, so that on the re-opening of the Oireachtas they may be in a position to impress upon the Government the necessity there is for holding at an early date a conference of all the interests connected with sea fishing with a view to the formulation of a scheme for the general improvement and development of the industry. We would further ask deputies to move that the conference include in the scope of its enquiry the re-organisation of the Department of Fisheries on lines more in consonance with the needs of the industry, which needs have not been met during the past three years. We are determined that this question shall not be left over indefinitely, and we pledge ourselves to use every means in our power to ensure that the desired conference shall be held and its findings put into operation without undue delay."

COURTS OFFICERS.

FORMATION OF THE CENTRAL OFFICE.

The formation of the Central Office—comprising fourteen of the former offices—in connection with the Law Courts in Dublin Castle is nearing completion, and already many of the High Court officials have removed to new locations in the building. While it is stated that resignations under the Courts Officers Act are not numerous, many familiar faces will be missing when the Courts sit again, the limitation of age being responsible for the departure of some of the senior men.

The reconstruction that is taking place will bring officials of distinct departments into closer proximity with their Courts. For instance, the office put at the disposal of the Registrar of the Supreme Court now is found, not in a part of the Castle furthest from the Supreme Court, but close to the seat of that tribunal. The Master, Mr. Gerald Horan, K.C., has removed from his old office to a more convenient one in the Castle, where he can be in close touch with all the activities of the Courts, while changes in location are going on in other departments.

The three taxing masters who have been appointed are Masters Kilbride, McNamara and Denning—all existing officers.

Mr. E. H. Kenny has been appointed Probate Officer, and Sir Walter Boyd retains his position as Bankruptcy Registrar.

Mr. E. J. Hollinshead continues as Official Assignee.

Mr. James O'Brien, K.C., remains as Registrar of the Supreme Court, and Mr. John Muldoon, K.C., has been appointed Registrar to the Chief Justice.

The examiner is Mr. T. W. Ellerker, and Mr. E. P. O'Toole is the accountant.

Workmen were engaged in some of the rooms yesterday, carrying out necessary alterations, and the public in future will have to familiarise themselves with the new location of offices that has taken place.

Examiners' Office—T. W. Ellerker.

High Court.—Accountans' Office—E. P. O'Toole, George Henderson.

PROTECTION ADVOCATED.

Addresses, urging Protection for the agricultural industry, were delivered to the Louth County Committee of Agriculture yesterday by Mr. J. Bergin, Athy, and Mr. B. Halligan, Dublin.

Mr. Bergin said that the great necessity was to enable the farmers to live in the country, and unless the industry was protected this was impossible. He urged the prohibition of imported wheat until the Irish harvest was sold, and said that the mills in the country were able to make all the wheat that we wanted. The one wise thing that the Department of Agriculture had done was to cultivate 300 acres with Yeoman wheat, and he appealed to farmers, in their own interests to grow wheat of a good variety.

Mr. Halligan stated that the Government had seized the wrong end of the Protection stick by starting at industry. He commented on the alarming decrease shown in the returns of live stock, and said that this represented an appalling loss of capital to the country.

The Chairman (Mr. James McCarthy) said that few people realised the desperate state in which the country was at the moment. Unless they could pay reasonable wages to the workers and reduce the unnecessary taxation to which the country was subject they must become bankrupt.

Mr. Patrick Carroll said they all realised that the country was on the down grade, and it would require the hearty co-operation of all sides to pull it back again.

THE DUNDALK SHOOTING.

A VERDICT OF WILFUL MURDER.

The story of the manner in which John Doyle, a well-known Dundalk sailor, was shot during an armed raid in a public house was told at the adjourned inquest yesterday in the Dundalk Courthouse. Doyle, a married man who lived within a short distance of the public house was with a companion on Friday night, 20th August, when the place was entered by armed men. He was shot by one of them and died on the following day.

Mr. J. B. Hamill, State Solicitor, appeared for the authorities.

Patrick Markey, an assistant with Mr. McGuinness in Seatown, said that on this night, at 9.30, Doyle and a companion named Quigley came into the shop and had two drinks. At five minutes to ten the witness closed the two doors and proceeded to count the cash in the till. While engaged at this he heard knocking at the side door, but did not open it. When the knocking was repeated twice he went to the door, with the object of allowing Quigley and Doyle out and seeing who was there. Instantly three men rushed in, jamming the witness behind the door. The men all wore dark masks across their faces and the first man carried a revolver. As he rushed across the shop Doyle made for the door, asking what was up. As soon as he asked this the raider fired and Doyle lay across the counter, moaning. The raider then ordered the others to put their hands up, went behind the counter and took all the money there—£19 odd. He then cleared off with his companions.

Mr. Hamill, State Solicitor, asked the jury to find a verdict of wilful murder against some person or persons unknown.

Of the jury of fourteen twelve were in favour of a verdict of wilful murder, and the Coroner (Mr. J. H. Murphy) said he would take their verdict. Any man who went to raid a house armed with a revolver had to put up with the consequences if he shot a man.

A telegram from Wellington, New Zealand, states that the bequests of the late Mrs. Mary Buckley, widow of the late General Augustus Buckley, who served with the Army in India, include one of £500 for the crippled children of London and one of £1,000 to Dr. Barnardo's Homes.

TRAMWAY ACCIDENT.

BOY'S SERIOUS INJURIES.

George Cadwell, a lad aged 12 years, residing at 20 Brian Boru street, Clontarf, met with an accident last night between 9 and 10 o'clock at Dollymount.

It is stated that he was hanging on to a tramcar which was travelling in the direction of Howth. The car stopped, and as the boy got off he was struck by an incoming tram, knocked to the ground, and his right leg and right arm were very badly crushed and torn. He was taken to Jervis Street Hospital in the Fire Brigade ambulance, where he lies in a serious condition.

FINANCIAL NEWS AND NOTES.

TONE AND COMMENT.

TENDENCY IN DUBLIN ADVERSE.

GUINNESS WEAK.

The improvement in the volume of business noted the previous day or two was short-lived, as dealings on 'Change yesterday were few and far between. There were a few outstanding adverse features in the sharp slump in Great Northern Railway Ord. Stock and the renewed weakness exhibited for Guinness Ord. Shares and B.A.T. "Fractions." Government National Loan improved, but Compensation 5 per cent. Stock fell a full point on some inconsiderable realisations. British Funds were well disposed, with keen support for Trading 4 per cent., and especially Conversion 3½ per cent. Stock at good improvements. Banks were almost drawn blank. Guinness Ord. opened weak, and slipped further away later, but at the final close the market steadied, and closed firm at the reduced level. The feature in Rails was the sharp further slump of a couple of points in Great Northern Ord. Stock. The Pref. also came on offer. Great Southern issues, on the other hand, held firmly the previous day's advance. A further satisfactory rise was established in Alliance and Dublin Gas Consumers Gas Shares, and all offered at the advance were absorbed. Manufacturing Shares all tended to ease, but the set-back in prices was generally light, and did not often exceed 9d. to 1s. per share. Chartered Shares were bid for, and Oil Shares closed harder, with the exception of British Controlled Oilfields Common, which fell back.

LONDON QUIET.

TIN SHARES AN ACTIVE FEATURE.

Business in the majority of sections of the London stock markets yesterday remained on a quiet scale, but, despite the slackness of interest, the general tone was steady, while here and there brighter spots presented themselves. Considerable activity was witnessed in the Tin share market, a general rise occurring in share values in sympathy with the advance in the quotation for the metal, which closed well over the £300 mark, after having touched £301 at one time. South African mining shares also showed more animation, while in other directions a steady tone prevailed. Business continued rather small in the gilt-edged section, but the tone was a trifle firmer, and quotations, where changed, showed a margin in favour of holders. Among Foreign Government stocks, Chinese issues went back further on the military situation. With the exception of Southern Def.-Ord., which closed the turn better, Home Rails were quiet and easier inclined. An extremely quiet tone ruled in Colonial and Foreign Rails, and values eased a shade in a couple or so instances. Industrials were quiet and generally steady, while movements in Oils were small and irregular.

NEW £1,000,000 INVESTMENT CO.

Plans are well advanced for the formation of a new investment company under powerful auspices, having as one of its objects the care of the financial interests in London of a number of leading Irishmen throughout the world. The new company will have an authorised capital of £1,000,000 in shares of £10 each, which will be divided, when fully paid, into £6 of 5 per cent cum. pref. stock and £4 of ord. stock. According to the preliminary prospectus, which is in private circulation, the chairman will be Mr. F. R. A. Shortis, for some years past well known in the city as vice-president of the Guaranty Trust Company of New York. The other members of the board are—Sir Henry Forde, of Waterford (deputy Chairman); Sir Alan Hughes Burgoyne, J.P., M.P., director Army and Navy Co-operative Society, Ltd; Mr. H. Ernest Garle 11 Portland Place, W.1., barrister-at-law, late representative of Great Britain upon and president of the Inter-Allied Assessment Committee: Sir Robert Lynn, M.P., Bridge street, Belfast, managing director, Northern Whig, Ltd., Belfast; Sir Edmond Russborough Turton, Bart., D.L., J.P., M.P., of Blessington, Co. Wicklow, director Midland Bank, Ltd., and Yorkshire Insurance Company, Ltd.; and Mr. Martin Coles Harman, chairman of the Rock Investment Company, Ltd., and the Gas, Water, and General Investment Trust, Ltd. The issue will be underwritten. Subscriptions will be received by the Bank of Ireland and the Bank of England as their agents.

STOCK MARKETS AND MONEY.

From the recent movements in Gilt-edged Stocks, and particularly British Funds, it appears (says the Evening Standard) that the market is more sensitive to immediate monetary conditions than to prospects further ahead. A little time back, when money became unusually stringent for the time of year, when the prospect of a reduction of the Bank rate this year definitely faded out with the advance in the New York Federal Reserve Bank rate, and the resumption of negotiations in the coal dispute gave rise to the belief that a revival in industrial activity would cause selling of Gilt-edged Stocks bought for temporary investment, there was a fall, but the decline did not go far. The coal negotiations broke down, and an immediate settlement is not apparent, while, since the turn of the month, money has become easier. As a result, the Gilt-edged market has firmed up again. At the same time, business has not been particularly active. An exception, however, has been in Victory Bonds and Funding Loan. Since we drew attention to the opportunity presented for Victory Bondholders to exchange into Funding, some large operations of this nature have been carried out. The price of Victory Bonds has, therefore, given way, and at 92¾, at which it stood last night, the exchange is not so attractive as before, although it can still be effected. Funding Loan has not moved up to any extent, but is decidedly firm.

SUBDIVISION OF TRONOH MINES SHARES.

Proposals will be submitted to the shareholders at an early date for the subdividing of each of the company's £1 shares into four shares of 5s. each.

ARGENTINE CROPS.

The Anglo-South American Bank has received the following cables:—

"Buenos Aires 25th August.—A moderate rainfall has occurred, and ploughing and sowing for the linseed crop continues. Frost, however, is required to check premature development of the early-sown fine cereal crops. The picking of maize is practically finished, and shelling is continuing slowly. The camps are in good condition."

"Buenos Aires, 2nd September.—There is no change to report in general conditions since the date of our last cable. In the local market cereal prices are again generally lower on the fortnight."

LONDON MOVEMENTS.

There was little going on in the gilt-edged section, but a firmer tendency was manifest and final quotations were higher where altered. War Loan 3½ p.c. at 98 were ⅛ firmer on the day's business, while 5½ p.c. Treasury Bonds at 102¼ were also ⅛ to the good.

Business continued small in Foreign Government stocks, and price movements were few and far between, and of a somewhat irregular character. French Loans hardened up, the Fives finishing ⅛ better at 9⅞, while the Fours, although materially unaltered, were firmer inclined. Reconstruction Loans were quiet and steady, as were Peruvian Corporations and Mexicans, but Argentine 5 p.c. 1909 at 95 x.d. were a full point higher. Chinese issues, on the other hand, were decidedly easier, the 5 p.c. 1896 losing ½ to 89½, while the 5 p.c. 1912 at 55½ were a full point down.

RAILS EASIER.

Home Rails presented an irregular appearance, while on balance movements were against holders. Great Western Ord. at 89 and Midland Ord. at 73 were both ½ easier on the day's business, while Metropolitan Consols at 63 and Districts at 51½ were also both ½ lower. Southern Def.-Ord., on the other hand, were finally ½ better at 46, while Metropolitan 5 p.c. Pref. at 90½ were a full point higher.

Little of interest transpired in Colonial and Foreign Rails, closing quotations showing but little alteration. Mexican Rails, however, dropped back the turn to 7, or ½ lower, while Antofagasta Ord. at 79½ were a similar amount lower. Argentines were quiet and steady, while Canadian Pacifics and Grand Trunks were content to repeat their overnight value. United Havana, on the other hand, firmed up a trifle to 72, or ½ better.

RUBBER SHARES IDLE.

Business continued on an extremely small scale in the Rubber Share market yesterday, but prices generally showed little alteration, despite the paucity of interest. Here and there lower values were quoted but movements were few and far between and narrow to an extreme. A steady tone ruled in the commodity market during the early hours, but later on a slightly harder tendency developed and the quotation for the raw material hardened a trifle. Spot sold from 1s. 7⅞d. to 1s. 8d. per lb., and October fetched 1s. 8d. per lb. October to December realised 1s. 8¼d., and January to March, after opening at 1s. 8⅜d., were finally 1s. 8⅞d per lb. In the share market, Kasintoe rose to 43s. 9d., or 1s. 3d. to the good. Telogoredjo, on the other hand, dropped back rather sharply to 67s. 6d., or 1s. 3d. lower. B.N.B.R. Trust and Jugra Land both dropped 3d., while Bukit Sembawang at 3s. 1½d. and Batang Cons. at 2s. 9d. were both 1½d. down on the day. Elsewhere a quiet and steady tone prevailed.

TEA SHARES FIRMER.

A firmer tendency developed in the Tea Share market yesterday, while the volume of business put through showed some slight expansion from that of the previous day. Bogawantalawa at 78s. 9d. registered an advance of 2s. 10½d., while Consolidated Tea and Lands rallied, and finished ⅛ higher at 32 13/16. Darjeeling and the Consolidated both gained 4½d. to 45s. 7½d. and 64s. 6d., respectively; while Doom Dooma at 93s. 6d. were 1s. 6d. to the good. Jhanzie were another firm spot, rising 1s. 4½d. to 88s. 7½d. Jokai put on 7½d., and Jorehaut at 91s. were 1s. 3d. better.

OIL SHARES REMAIN STEADY.

A satisfactory feature of the Oil Share market yesterday was that while renewed weakness developed in British Controlled, the leaders and dividend-payers generally were not affected. In fact, a steady demand was experienced for the better class shares, and price movements in the majority of cases were in favour of holders. Interest continued to centre mainly on British Controlled shares. During the early hours they were not looking too bad; in fact, from the opening price of 6s. 1½d. the Common shares improved to 6s. 4½d., while the Preferred, which started at 8s. 3d., strengthened to 8s. 6d. About mid-day, however, they came on offer and fell away steadily, finishing flat in the "street," the Common shares registering a decline of 1s. at 5s. 3d., and the Preferred being 9d. down at 7s. 6d. The selling was of a very heavy character, many thousands of the shares being thrown on the market, while option stock came out freely, for option dealers realised that the shares were not likely to be called following the decline. Accompanying the fall in the price of the shares, it was freely rumoured that the production for the past week had again declined, and this received confirmation after business hours, as will be seen in a report elsewhere in this issue. As regards other Vens., V.O.C. Holdings met with support, the Ordinary shares rising to 3 5/16 and finishing with a gain of 1/16 at 3 5/16, and the Prefs. being up to a like extent at 3 3/16. Lagos were a firm market, rising 1/16 to 4 17/32. An improving tendency developed in the leaders. Shells met with buyers and gained 1/16 at 4 7/16, the bearer shares being up to a like extent at 4 15/32, while Royal Dutch rose ⅛ to 32¼. Anglo-Americans were a better market, strengthening 1/32 to 3 5/32. Anglo-Persians put on 1/16 at 5 3/16, and Burmahs also improved 1/16 to 5⅜. Mexican Eagles, although closing below the best, were a firm market throughout the day. The Ordinary shares touched 20s. 9d., and finally registered a small gain at 20s. 6d., while the 8 p.c. Part. Prefs. and the 7 p.c. First Prefs. were well maintained at 19s. 3d. and 17s. 3d. respectively.

SMALL BUSINESS IN INDUSTRIALS.

Trading in the Industrial market yesterday remained on a small scale. However, the tone was fairly steady, although here and there prices were allowed to sag. The coal uncertainty still acts as a deterrent to fresh business. Coal, Steel and Engineering descriptions maintained a firm level. South Durham Steel found supporters and rose 1s. to 51s., with Swan Hunters a few pence higher at 23s. 9d. Few alterations occurred among Textiles, the only movement worth recording being an advance of 6d. to 44s. 9d. in Bleachers. Bradford Dyers, Calico Printers, Sewing Cottons and Fine Spinners were stationary. Of the Artsilks, Courtaulds were subject to a few end-account sales and receded 1/16 to 5 13/16; Snias held at 2 1/16. Buyers appear again for Cellulose Holdings, which were marked up 1s. 6d. to 27s. 6d. There was less doing in Electrical Equipments, and values were slightly easier. The passing of the interim dividend on the Ord. Shares of the Newcastle-on-Tyne Electric Supply Company caused a fall of 1/16 to 1 1/16. Tobaccos presented a dull appearance in the absence of support, and prices for the most part were allowed to sag. "Bats" finished unaltered at 97s. 9d., but "Imps" lost the turn at 114s. 6d., with Imperial of Canada 6d. easier at 26s 6d. Godfrey Phillips eased to 5¼ and Copes to 3 1/16, with R. and J. Hill offered around 45s. 9d.

Idle conditions prevailed in the Brewery Department. Some inquiry for Bass Pref. saw an advance of 1 to 87, but Watney Deferred lost a similar amount at 266½. Tractions were firmer, Barcelona Common improving 1 to 39, with Brazilian Common ½ better at 120½. "Sidros" changed hands freely between 13⅞ and 14⅜, closing buyers at 14. Anglo-Argentine Trams First Prefs. rallied 1/16 to 3. Lipton Ordinary rallied 6d. to 12s. 3d., with the 5 p.c. Prefs. harder at 1/16. Van Den Berghs held their advance at 27s. 6d. Banks moved within narrow limits. The principal movement among Land Shares was an advance of ⅛ to 4 11/16 in Sudan Plantations, quite a number of buyers being in evidence. Steady support was again noticeable for the leading Shipping issues. P. and O. Deferred further advanced 2½ to 247½, and Furness Withy Ord. put on another 6d. to 33s.; Cunards and Royal Mails held firm. A feature among Newspaper issues was the demand for Associated Deferred, which rose ⅛ to 7 3/16. In the Miscellaneous department most of the attention was centred on Crittall Manufacturing issues, which enjoyed a large turnover on further consideration of the capital rearrangement scheme. The Ord. were dealt in up to 42s. 6d. and the Participating Prefs. up to 30s. Swedish Match "B" were dull around 14 11/16, but Bryant and Mays put on 6d. to 49s. 6d. Nobel Ord. hardened 3d. to 28s. 9d., with the Deferred unaltered at 13s. 7½d. A fresh inquiry for Wall Paper Def. sent the price up to 36s. 3d. Dunlops remained a quiet market around 28s. 4½d. Among recent new issues, Anglo-Canadian Pulp Debs. hardened ⅛ to 3¼ premium.

LONDON MINING MARKET CHEERFUL.

UPWARD TREND OF VALUES.

Although complaints were again heard of a slackness of business in the Stock Exchange yesterday, yet a cheerful tendency continued to prevail, and the trend of values in the Mining market, at any rate, was upward. Kaffirs generally could hardly be described as active, but there were several bright spots, and the volume of trading in these served to offset the paucity of transactions in the rank and file. Considerable attention was directed to the financial descriptions, among which Central Mining stood out prominently. Anglo-American came into favour, and Rand Mines were bought on Paris account, but Generals were perhaps the chief feature. These shares were in strong demand all day in sympathy with the subsidiaries, particularly West Rand Consolidated. Union Corp. were also well supported, the shares being bought for investment, while among the Far Eastern descriptions, Springs Mines were in great favour. We learn unofficially that developments in the mine continue of a highly satisfactory character, recent results being better than for several years' past. Modderfontein were wanted and moved up, and Sub-Nigel came in for a good deal of attention on home and Cape account, and closed substantially higher. West Springs were a good market. The harder tendency which developed in the Rhodesian section on the preceding day was well maintained, and Chartered marked a further improvement. Tanks and Zams also strengthened, but Cam and Motor and Sherwood Starr slipped back. Of the base metal issues, Congo Border were strong, and Kasempa and Northern Rhodesia improved. Rhodesia Broken Hill were being quietly picked up, but closed without quotable alteration. Among Diamonds, De Beers Pref. were being bought for investment, and went ahead, but Premier Pref. receded. The price of tin at one time rose to £301, and finished at £300 7s. 6d. per ton, a gain of £1 15s. on the day. The £300 mark has been long expected, and in view of the statistical position no surprise was felt that the metal had passed this figure. Not unnaturally, Eastern descriptions again went ahead in no uncertain manner. In many cases the shortage of floating supplies is very marked, and, as a large proportion of recent purchases are for investment, no immediate amelioration of the position in this respect is looked for. Tavoy were another strong spot, and Kamunting, Kramat Pulai, Renong, Bangrin, Malayan, and many others, registered substantial gains. Several of the Nigerians came to the front, among them being the Bauchis, Ropp, Kaduna Syndicate and Rayfield, while of the Cornish issues East Pool were better. The whole market closed strong, and only two small shrinkages could be recorded. Coppers were steady, and, in the Canadian list, Can Lorrain were wanted and moved up. Elsewhere, San Francisco were in request, and higher in anticipation of another good return, and Burmahs moved up. Closing prices:—

FREE STATE REVENUE.

A HEALTHY EXCHEQUER.

The revenue return shows that the Exchequer is in a satisfactory position. Total receipts to September 4 exceed total issues by £8,686, and the balance in the Exchequer on the same date is £241,936, as compared with £233,250 brought forward on April 1. Total receipts to date, as compared with 1926, are £383,972 less, and total issues £21,599 more.

The total revenue from April 1 to September 4 shows a decrease of £461,972, and the expenditure in the same period is £113,601 less. The totals are:—

Revenue.		Expenditure.
1926	£10,195,546	1926	£10,145,960
Dec.	£461,972	Dec.	£113,601

LAST WEEK'S FIGURES.

Last week's revenue was £85,527 better than in the same week of 1925, and the expenditure was £120,771 higher. The details for the two weeks are as follow:—

THE MONEY MARKET.

LOANS IN BETTER DEMAND.

DISCOUNTS WEAK.

Money was more unsaleable yesterday owing to the calling in of funds by the banks for balance-sheet purposes, while an instalment of £2,500,000 fell due on the Birmingham loan. As a consequence short loans usually commanded 4 per cent., with occasional transactions at 4¼ per cent. Fixtures for a day or a week were continued at 4 per cent. The tendency of discounts remained weak, there being still a fair inquiry for commercial bills, while the amount offering was small. The general rate for fine three months' bank paper was not better than 4½ per cent, while there were buyers of the New Treasuries at 4 7/16 per cent.

Speculators bought bar silver, but the China banks sold, and the quotations were lower, spot and forward both declining 1/16d. to 28 1/16d. and 28 1/16d. per ounce, respectively. The price of gold was fixed 1d. lower at 84s. 10½d. per fine ounce. The Continent took about £250,000 of the gold offered yesterday, the balance being taken by India and the trade. No bullion operations were announced at the Bank of England.

The American exchange further reacted against us, the rate dropping 1/16 to a shade under 4.85⅛. The French and Belgian quotations appear to have become stabilised, at least for the time being, and once again finished without quotable alteration. Lire were cheaper at 131⅜, but pesetas made good part of the previous day's decline, the quotation falling to not much over 32. Roumanian lei were again better, the current rate being 975 as compared with 1,010 on August 25, and Turkish piastres were nominally dearer. German marks showed some improvement, but Greek drachmae were rather cheaper. There was again little alteration in South American currencies. Among Eastern exchange rates, Japanese yen improved to 1s. 11⅞d.

BRITISH FISHING FAILURE.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, Tuesday.

A decrease in the home landings and a "record" import of fish during 1925 are two of the features of the annual report of the Ministry of Agriculture and Fisheries on Sea Fisheries during last year, which was issued to-day.

The total landings of wet fish, exclusive of foreign landings, in Great Britain and Ireland amounted to 19¾ million cwts., a decline of one and a quarter million cwts., and the total value, including shell fish, £19,666,000, was also lower than in the previous year by a little more than £1,000,000. The corresponding figures for England and Wales were 13,500,000 cwts. and £14,750,000, these figures being less than the 1924 figures by 1 per cent. and 6 per cent., respectively.

The average value of wet fish, which declined by 5 per cent., was only 50 per cent. above the average for July, 1914, as compared with the 75 per cent. increase in the cost of living based upon the same datum line.

The landings of mackerel were very poor, the quantity falling by 11 per cent. from that of 1924, which was then—except for the war years—the lowest on record. Herrings fell by 17 per cent. from the high figure of 1924.

OYSTER DECLINE.

Since the years 1920 and 1921, when the oyster beds were ravaged by a mortality which has baffled investigation, there has been a progressive decline of the oyster fisheries, although since 1921 there has been no evidence of any unusual mortality.

During 1924, the latest year for which there are details, 70 vessels were totally lost and 76 sustained serious casualties, while of the crews 49 ratings died as the result of casualties to vessels and 53 as the result of other accidents. In Great Britain and Northern Ireland there were 67,000 men and boys employed in the fishing industry, and the casualties gave a death-rate of 1.5 per thousand.

HERRINGS FROM NORWAY.

The imports of fish again broke all "records," the main contributing factor being a great increase in the quantity of fresh herrings from Norway. This import occurs in the early spring months, when the product of British herring fishing is at its lowest.

Exports showed a considerable reduction, principally due to smaller consignments of cured herrings to the Baltic countries. There was some increase in the quantities from British possessions, but the quantities despatched thereto were slightly less.

FOREIGN LANDINGS.

The total landings by foreign fishing vessels direct from the grounds showed again a slight increase, German vessels landing over two-thirds of the total; but Italian vessels, which appeared for the first time in 1924, stood next in importance, and landed over one-ninth of the total.

The appearance of Italian trawlers on the Northern fishing grounds was abnormal. These ships, which are understood to be eighteen in number, are German-built trawlers delivered to Italy under the Treaty of Versailles. They are based on Cuxhaven and are manned largely by Germans.

With respect to the herring fishery, it is stated that the combined landings at Yarmouth and Lowestoft were more than 600,000 cwts. lower than those of the previous year, and their total value £636,000 less. "The extent of the failure of the East Anglian fishing as a whole," adds the report, "will be best appreciated in the light of the fact that there was assembled at Yarmouth and Lowestoft the largest fleet that had met for this fishing since the war and the largest number of women for the gutting ever recorded. On the whole, the West of England winter fisheries were also a failure, and failed to provide any compensation for disappointed hopes."

OYSTER EXPERIMENTS.

Some interesting experiments with regard to oyster-breeding at Conway and Lympstone are recorded. Ordinary yeast cells were used for feeding, and the young oysters were observed to swallow these. At Lympstone a very heavy spatfall was obtained, as many as 150 oysters settling on a tile.

The Lympstone oysters showed phenomenally rapid growth, reaching a diameter of two inches in less than two months, a rate of growth outside all previous experience. The spat had been laid down in the Exe estuary, and in the Menai Straits the mortality had been negligible. Virtually all oysters that had died had obviously been injured during removal from the tiles.

SIR W. ARBUTHNOT LANE.

NEW HEALTH SOCIETY'S STATEMENT.

The general secretary of the New Health Society issued a further statement yesterday evening in regard to the resignation of Sir William Arbuthnot Lane from the British Medical Association.

Sir William Arbuthnot has no recollection of having refused assent to the publication of the correspondence between himself and the British Medical Association, states the general secretary, nor has he the slightest objection to its publication.

At the same time, however, he takes the view that it would seem wise, in the interests of all parties, that this discussion should cease, in order that, with the cordial co-operation of the medical profession, and of the British Medical Association, the New Health Society shall be able to get on with its task of affording the people such information that the general health, freedom from disease, and the happiness of the community, shall be increased to the utmost.

A PRE-ROMAN FIND.

HUMAN BONES 3,000 YEARS OLD.

There were disclosed yesterday details of a discovery of much archæological value. Archæologists on Monday evening unearthed at Birchover, Derbyshire, a tumulus, which contained a cinerary urn and calcined human bones in a good state of preservation.

These are stated to date to pre-Roman days, probably three thousand years ago, and the find is regarded as of exceptional importance by experts. Exploration work is proceeding.

INDIAN EDUCATIONIST IN LONDON.

Sir Chimanlal Setalvad, Vice-Chancellor of the University of Bombay, member of the Legislative Assembly, and sometime President of the Central Parliament of India, who has been staying with the Jamsahib Ranjitsinhji at his estate at Ballynahinch, County Galway, returned to London yesterday morning.

MODERN PUBLIC LIBRARIES.

THEIR FUNCTION IN THE WORLD.

CRITICS AND WORKS OF FICTION.

The modern municipality had many activities, but he knew of none which had more to commend it or was more likely to produce great results for the community than that of municipal free libraries, the Lord Mayor of Leeds declared in officially welcoming delegates to the Conference of the Library Association at Leeds yesterday.

Referring to fiction, the Lord Mayor said that some people lamented that municipal libraries provided that form of entertainment, but the novel nowadays had come into its place not only with the multitude, but also with scholars and literary folk. Poets and novelists had, perhaps, done as much to shape the destinies of countries as had scholars and statesmen.

PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

WORKS OF IMAGINATION.

In his Presidential address, Dr. Henry Guppy, of Manchester, said that the modern development of the public library had been remarkable, and the people themselves were responsible for bringing it about, they having established the necessary machinery by voluntary effort in the old Mechanics' Institutes. The function of the rate-supported public library was to make provision, not merely for the things that make life possible, but for the health of the mind, and for the things which tend to elevate, beautify, and ennoble the life of the people, without which our prosperity and happiness as a nation would perish.

A good deal of nonsensical criticism had been levelled against the public library because of the preponderance of fiction which was said to figure amongst the records of circulation. The critics, however, overlooked the fact that the public library was intended to minister to our recreation, our æsthetic and spiritual needs, as well as to serious study. Works of imagination are despised by some of these carping critics, as having to do with fiction rather than with fact, and as being of no value to the student who wishes to acquire exact knowledge. That is a great mistake, he said, for many of our foremost scientists have been led to their most important discoveries by the quickening power of a suggestive imagination. In history and in the whole world of concrete facts imagination is as necessary as in poetry.

LIFE WITHOUT IMAGINATION.

A man may live, and live bravely, without imagination, just as a house may be well compacted to keep out rain and let in light and yet be ugly. But no man would prefer to live in an ugly house if he could have a beautiful one; so beauty, which is the natural food of a healthy imagination, should be sought after by everyone who is anxious to make the most of himself. The great outstanding masterpieces of literature, the books which are superior to the ebb and flow of popular fancy and critical opinion and which refuse to die, are the products of the great imaginative teachers who have created the masterpieces which have immortalised their names.

Those great books owe their greatness to the greatness of the personalities that gave them life. They grow directly out of life, and in reading them we are brought into large, close and fresh relations with life. A great novel is born of the brain and heart of its author. He has put himself into its pages they partake of his life, and are instinct with his personality. His utterances are the utterances of one who has himself been close to those aspects of life of which he speaks, who has looked at them with his own eyes, and by the keenness of his vision has seen more deeply into things, and by the strength of his insight has apprehended their meaning more powerfully than the common race of men, and who, in addition, had the artist's faculty of making us see and feel with him.

THE TRAINING OF CHILDREN

Even supposing that the libraries circulated a preponderance of fiction, that was no argument against the public library. It was an argument for supplying only the best in fiction; but in addition to the recreational reading a great deal of serious study was conducted through the public library.

Referring to the importance of training children in the use of books, Dr. Guppy said that if once the necessity for literature forced itself into the sub-consciousness of the people the new age would have begun. Mean streets would disappear and mean souls would grow into something higher.

LIBRARIES AND POLITICS.

In a paper on "Books, Libraries and Politics," Mr. L. R. McColvin, Ipswich, argued that politics were organised on a protagonist basis, with appeals to sentimentality and emotion rather than reason. The library could be, he contended, the instrument for political emancipation, emancipation from ignorance, prejudice, hate and emotionalism. Books encouraged impartial studies.

Mr. L. Stanley Jast, Manchester, declared that man was an emotional animal and the elector who divested himself entirely of emotion and prejudice and went to the public library to make a dispassionate scientific study of every political question before he voted would not be a human being but a monster.

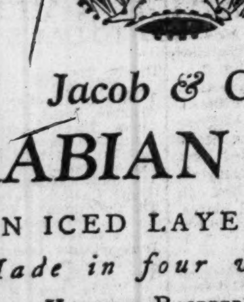

POLISH MISSION TO ENGLAND.

MUTUAL UNDERSTANDING DESIRED.

Messrs. Edward A. G. Chwatozynski, William B. Higgs, and A. Mlynarski are in England as a mission to study industrial, financial, political and social conditions, with the purpose of informing the Polish people, and of promoting good relations and mutual understanding between the two nations.

Mr. Chwatozynski said that the two countries had mutual need of each other, but there was a lamentable dearth of knowledge on both sides, and the mission aimed at making a commencement with an educative task.

The head of the mission declared that Poland was passionately devoted to a policy of peace and industrial development. She had been credited with warlike aims, but had neither the means nor the faintest desire to make war on anybody. Mutual knowledge, he said, would lead to mutual understanding between England and Poland. Poland wanted up-to-date machinery and equipment for her agricultural development, and England had need of the produce which would result from that development.

TWO SISTERS SHOT DEAD.

BUTLER CHARGED WITH DOUBLE MURDER.

Burghill Court, Herefordshire, was yesterday morning the scene of a shocking affair, in which two maiden ladies met their deaths from gunshot wounds. The victims were Miss Elinor Drinkwater Woodhouse, aged about 60, and Miss May Gordon Woodhouse, aged 57, her sister. The former was discovered shot through the head, and the latter through the heart. Their butler, Charles Houghton, who is about 40 years of age, and has been in the employment of the Misses Woodhouse for twenty-two years, is in custody and has been charged with the murder of the two ladies.

The details at present available show that yesterday morning the two ladies after breakfast, at which they were waited upon, as usual, by Houghton, began to carry out their customary morning activities. Mr. Ernest William Jackson, their cousin, who was paying one of his periodical visits to the house, was engaged about 10 a.m. with his wife in the smoke room upstairs when the reports of two shots rang out. Dashing downstairs to investigate, Mr. Jackson found Miss Elinor lying in the passage by the kitchen entrance and Miss May on the floor near the back door. Both died soon afterwards.

The weapon used was a double-barelled shot gun, which was usually kept in the pantry. Houghton, who was formerly in the service of Mr. Gordon Woodhouse, the only brother of the two ladies, served during the war in the R.A.M.C. on a hospital ship between England and France.

POLICE COURT PROCEEDINGS.

Houghton was brought before the county magistrates and charged with the double murder yesterday afternoon.

The only evidence given was that of the Deputy Chief Constable of Herefordshire, Mr. A. Weaver, who said that he went to Burghill Court in the morning and saw the bodies of the two ladies. Later he went up to Houghton's room and found that the door was locked. He called out: "Houghton get up; open the door." The accused then opened the door slightly, but immediately shut it again. The witness again requested him to open the door, and this time he came out. Houghton was bleeidng from the throat, having apparently inflicted several gashes with a razor. The witness led him downstairs, and on reaching the bottom of the staircase accused exclaimed: "Oh, dear, this is a bad job." The witness replied: "Yes, it is." Afterwards Houghton said: "It is passion." He was afterwards taken to Hereford, where his injuries were stitched and dressed. When formally charged with the murder he replied: "I dont wish to say anything."

On this evidence the accused was formally remanded until next Tuesday.

DUKE OF ABERCORN.

VISIT TO FERMANAGH.

The Duke of Abercorn arrived at Newtownbutler on his first official visit to the County Fermanagh since his appointment as Governor of Northern Ireland.

During his journey through the villages en route he received a warm welcome. In Tempo, Maguiresbridge, and Lisnaskea the towns were decorated profusely.

To-day he will receive addresses of welcome from all the public bodies in the county, and also from the Governors of Portora School, Enniskillen, where the Governor will be entertained to tea.

The guard of honour will be furnished by the "B" Special Constabulary, and there will be also guards of honour of Girl Guides, Boy Scouts, and British ex-Service men.

POULTRY CONGRESS.

EXHIBITION IN OTTAWA NEXT YEAR.

A Congress and Exhibition under the title of the World's Poultry Congress and Exhibition, 1927, will be held at Lansdowne Park, Ottawa, Canada, from July 27th to August 4th, 1927. Mr. Edward Brown, F.L.S., of England, has been elected President of the Congress, and the Dominion and Provincial Governments in Canada are taking steps to extend to delegates and visitors a cordial welcome, and make their visit of the utmost interest and profit.

The Managing Committee hope to issue a programme of the Congress in English and French as soon after October 1st, 1926, as possible, and application for it and for the preliminary announcement already issued should be made through National Congress Committees, where formed, or direct to Mr. Ernest Rhoades, Secretary, World's Poultry Congress, Experiment Farm, Ottawa, Canada.

Offers of a number of papers to be read at the Congress have been received from many countries, and the Selection Committee are preparing a list of those approved. As time is short, it is requested that any further offers be sent to the Congress Secretary at once. Subjects for inclusion cannot be entertained after publication of the programme.

The Sections of the Congress at which papers will be submitted will be as follows:—(a) Breeding and Genetics; (b) Nutrition; (c) Diseases of Poultry; and (d) Instruction and Investigation.

The Exhibition will represent the progress in poultry husbandry that has taken place in recent times. It will be divided into three main sections: National, International, and Commercial.

It is suggested that delegates and visitors from Europe and other countries overseas should arrange to arrive at Montreal not later than Monday, July 25th, 1927, and reach Ottawa on the following day. Arrangements will be made for delegates to be met at the various points of entry into Canada, and guidance will be given to them.

As it is anticipated that a large number of delegates and visitors will be in attendance, it is desirable that early application for accommodation be made, stating what is required. As far as possible this should be through National Congress Committees where formed.

ULSTER GRAND PRIX.

DEATH OF A COMPETITOR.

The death occurred yesterday afternoon of Mr. Edward Stuart, who was injured while competing in the Ulster Grand Prix last Saturday. His machine crashed, and Mr. Stuart was hurled through the air, alighting on his head. An operation was performed at the Massereene Hospital on Monday evening in an effort to save his life. He was the third son of Henry A. Stuart, motor agent, of Bridge street, Coleraine, and was a prominent figure in local motoring and sporting circles.

ANTRIM SPEED TRIALS.

APPLICATION TO COUNTY COUNCIL.

In their report to the Antrim County Council yesterday, the Finance and Law Committee stated that they had received an application from the Ulster Automobile Sports Club for the consent of the Council to hold a hill climb for motor cars at Red Brae, Carrickfergus, on 15th September at 6 o'clock p.m., and also a request from the Randalstown and District Motor Cycle Club for the permission of the Council to hold a speed trial hill climb for motor cycles at Roguery Brae on 18th September between 1.30 and 4.30 p.m.

They recommended that permission be granted without formally closing the road, on condition that the clubs take out a policy of insurance indemnifying the Council against any liability in the event of accidents owing to these races being held—this policy to be taken out in the name of the County Council.

The report was passed.

HOTEL PROPRIETOR FINED.

The defence in a prosecution against Joseph Isdall, hotel proprietor, Shanganagh House, Shanganagh Grove, Ballybrack, at Shankill District Court yesterday, for selling intoxicating drink without a licence, was that a number of friends, who had served in the European War, met after many years and decided to hold a dance in this hotel. A fine of £5 was imposed.

TRADE UNIONS AND EDUCATION.

REBUFF TO THE GENERAL COUNCIL.

MR. COOK AND THE MINERS.

The Trades Union Congress debate on organisation by industry, at Bournemouth yesterday, brought the controversy between the Miners' Federation and the colliery enginemen to a head. Mr. Cook sought to launch an attack on other unions for their treatment of the miners, but Mr. Shirkie, by a skilful stroke, diverted it.

A debate on the education of the worker resulted in a serious set-back to the General Council's scheme for the development of Easton Lodge, which has been placed at the disposal of the Trade Union Council by the Countess of Warwick for use as an education centre.

On a card vote the portion of the report concerned was referred back, a step which means its possible abandonment. The grounds of the reference back were financial, the speakers making special reference to the drain caused by the general strike and the coal dispute.

ORGANISATION.

THE ONE-BIG-UNION IDEA.

Questions of organisation were raised by a resolution submitted by the General Workers' Union, which declared against organising upon a basis of occupation. It asked the Congress to discourage the formation of new organisations with the object of promoting amalgamation of kindred unions, and with the one big union as the ultimate goal.

Mr. C. Dukes, Manchester, in moving the resolution, contended that organisation by industry would increase the number of unions.

The Furnishing Trades Association moved an amendment asking the General Council to call conferences of trade groups in order to promote the merging of separate unions within those groups into industrial unions.

Mr. P. J. Johnson, Leeds Furnishing Trades, in a reference to the general strike, asked if negotiations could have been carried on any better if there had been one big union.

Mr. T. E. Naylor, M.P., London Society of Compositors, opposed both the resolution and the amendment on the ground that the General Council was holding an inquiry into the subject. In regard to the one-big-union idea, he declared that mass formation on the part of trade unions would produce mass opposition on the part of the employers.

THE MINERS' STRUGGLE.

Mr. A. J. Cook, Miners' Secretary, was loudly cheered when he took part in the debate. Supporting the amendment, he said that they feared more the sectional unions than they did the employers. He complained that the miners, in their struggle, had to face other unions supposed to be passive. "You cannot be passive," he declared; "you have either to help the employers to defeat the individual who is in the dispute, or help that individual. There is no half-way."

Declaring that while the miners were fighting others were working, Mr. Cook added:—"In the industry you must either be a fighter for us or a 'blackleg' against us." He complained of a circular issued by a craft union during the miners' dispute. The circular, he said, had been issued by a union connected with his friend Shirkie, of the Colliery Enginemen's Union, while they were fighting for their lives, declaring that they should take no notice of the struggle, and that they could not maintain national agreements. He declared that the other sections were waiting to get the advantage while they were fighting, and were prepared to go behind their backs.

A POINT OF ORDER.

The President suggested that Mr. Cook was not speaking properly to the amendment. There were more cheers for Mr. Cook, and a delegate shouted: "Just tell him the truth."

The President—It is not a case at all of speaking the truth, provided you speak to the resolution.

Mr. Cook then sat down and Mr. Shirkie rose, and the President said that the point was that delegates must not use a resolution to make an attack upon any person or body. He called upon Mr. Cook to proceed.

Mr. Cook, continuing, said that this was a question of vital principle, when a union was fighting for its existence. It was in the employers' interest to have, in each industry, different sections of workers making different agreements at different times. The coalowners were refusing to meet the miners nationally, because they said that never again would they have a national settlement if they could get separate agreements, district by district. "Class before craft" had been the argument that had built up the Labour movement. Why not apply the same theory in the industrial as in the political field? Craft unionism had done good, but it had outlived its usefulness, and had now become the aristocrat of industry, setting up a new autocracy.

Mr. Shinwell, Marine Workers, said that they could not scrap the existing machinery of the trade union movement, and Congress should not come to a hasty decision. Everybody deplored what had happened in the mining industry, but it had nothing to do with this issue.

Mr. Beard, Workers' Union, said that it was all very well to talk about loving one another, but there was such a thing as human nature. The bricklayer loved his trowel much more than he loved his neighbour.

MR. SHIRKIE'S REPLY.

Mr. R. Shirkie, Glasgow Colliery Enginemen, said that in regard to the attack Mr. Cook had made on his union he was quite prepared to refer the matter to the General Council. They thought that they were quite justified in the position they had taken up, and if Mr. Cook felt the same, he was satisfied to leave it to the Council. An organised body would always make the best fight, but there was another side—the interests of the various classes in the industry. That was where the shoe always pinched. It was in the division of the spoils that the trouble took place.

All their trade union lives they had endeavoured to get unity, and his own organisation went so far as to become merged in the Miners' Federation in 1921. The whole trade union world knew how the interests of his members were protected in the struggle of 1921, when the British Government asked for volunteers to protect the mines and the Miners' Federation allowed it. In this country their failure as a movement began with the coming of the big amalgamations. Britain always had been, and he hoped would always remain, the home of craft unions. (Cries of dissent.)

"FUTILE AND STUPID."

Mr. Ernest Bevin, Transport Workers, declared that it was futile and stupid to try to destroy craft ideas. The Congress, he said, should congratulate itself upon the progress made towards amalgamation and the greater unity. He saw no other way but the group idea. A great deal of mud had been thrown at what was called the friendly side of the movement, which found expression in unemployment benefits, superannuation, and in other ways; but he thought that it would be a pity to destroy it. He did not want that side to be ignored.

You are not going to overthrow capitalism by the next Congress, he remarked. The General Council could be criticised and pulled to pieces, added Mr. Bevin, but at least it had produced a class consciousness that nothing else ever produced, and it was going a long way to return a Labour Government at the next election.

For the amendment	2,172,000
Against	1,480,000

Another card vote was demanded on the amendment as a substantive resolution, this being carried by 2,164,000 votes to 1,658,000.

NATIONAL MINORITY MOVEMENT.

On a report that the General Council could not approve the affiliation of trades councils with the National Minority Movement, Mr. J. Tanner, London Amalgamated Engineering Union, said that the division placed the engineers in a peculiar position, as their union had decided that it was perfectly competent for a branch to become affiliated to the National Minority Movement.

The President replied that he could not accept responsibility for what an individual union did. The division defined the policy of the Council.

Mr. A. Conley, General Council, said if the Council had agreed to this affiliation, within a short period the minority movement would become the majority. Perhaps the minority movement would like that. They would certainly go out of existence.

Miss Walkinson, M.P., said that there was nothing inconsistent in the minority hoping that by affiliation it would become the majority, and that the resolutions it put forward would become the policy of the Congress.

The reference back was moved and declared defeated, but a card vote was demanded. The card vote resulted:—

For the reference back	738,000

COUNCILS' AUTHORITY.

Mr. Walton, Miners' Federation, drew attention to a paragraph in the Council's report which, he said, suggested that certain trades councils in some way overstepped their authority, and had shown a tendency to too much enthusiasm during the period of the general strike. He contended that that comment was altogether unjustified, if not incorrect. The experience of many of them was that trades councils sought to fulfil in a noble sense the functions which the General Council called upon them to perform.

Mr. Conley, replying for the Trades Council, said that it was a fact that certain trades councils, believing that they were doing the right thing, called out men on strike who ought not to have been called out at that time.

EMERGENCY POWERS.

THE GOVERNMENT AND INDUSTRIAL DISPUTES.

An emergency resolution expressed the concern of the Congress at the tendency of the present Government to interfere needlessly with the liberty of the subject and to utilise measures of repression in industrial disputes. It urged that at no time during the mining dispute had there existed any condition to warrant the application of the Emergency Powers Act, and it protested against the continuance of measures designed for use only in time of great danger to the State.

In moving the resolution, Mr. Ben Turner, General Council, claimed that the peaceful atmosphere which had prevailed during the mining dispute was a tribute to British trade unionism. Contending that there was no need for the Emergency Powers Act, he said that the war spirit was still in the minds of the mad Kaisers, Churchills, Birkenheads, the Joynson-Hickses, and others. He declared that some of the sentences imposed upon workmen had been needlessly severe, and that the utmost repression had been used, while a bias had been shown in some magisterial courts.

Mr. John Hill seconded the resolution, and it was opposed by Mr. S. Elsbury, London Garment Workers, on the ground that it was too mild. Mr. Hill said that if the twelve Communists were in prison for their utterances, there were gentlemen on the platform who at some period of their career had been deserving of even greater sentences. "Not lately, I agree," he added, amid laughter.

The resolution was carried, with Mr. Elsbury as the only dissentient.

LABOUR EDUCATION SCHEME.

A proposal by the General Council to impose a levy of one penny per member for the next three years in connection with the Easton Lodge Labour education scheme, for which it was estimated that £50,000 would be required for alterations and development, led to some opposition.

Mr. R. G. Henderson, Transport Workers, moved the reference back of the report, and said that since the general strike unions had to review their finances.

Mr. Herbert Smith, in seconding the reference back, said that the Miners' Federation could not commit themselves to a scheme of this character at the present moment. It was more important to pay for their indebtedness.

Mr. W. J. Brown, Civil Service, in supporting the motion, said that the need for education was at least as acute among the leaders as among the rank and file.

Mr. Jack Jones, M.P., said that men had gone to Ruskin College dressed up as workmen, and had come back with halos. "Down in Oxford you can see them in plus fours," he remarked, amid laughter. Easton Lodge, he added, was a very nice place to look at, but he suggested that the Labour movement was not going to be saved by the kind of people produced by such institutions. They wanted no Universities at Oxford, but at West Ham, East Ham and all the other Hams. (Laughter.) I do not object to their going down to Easton Lodge, but only for the day," said Mr. Jones.

Mr. J. Walker, Glasgow Iron and Steel Trades, said that even Jack Jones, good as he was, would have been all the better for twelve months' training. The man who had had a University education would be of more use to the Labour and Socialist movement than the man who had only been educated as a doctor.

GENERAL COUNCIL'S REPLY.

Mr. Bowen, replying for the General Council, said he recognised that they were all facing a difficult time, but if they did not make a practical start now on workers' education, when were they to begin.

The President said that they must play the game with Lady Warwick, and tell her whether they were sincere in their acceptance of her offer of Easton Lodge. They could only construe the reference back of the report as an instruction not to proceed with the scheme.

A card vote was taken, and resulted:—

TRADE BOARDS.

On the section of the report affecting trade boards, the Shop Assistants' Union carried a resolution which protested against a decision of the Ministry of Labour to abolish the Grocery and Provision Trade Boards, and not to establish trade boards for the catering, drapery and allied trades.

Mr. W. C. Hutcheson, President of the American Carpenters' and Joiners' Union, conveyed fraternal greetings from the American Federation of Labour.

Mr. Hutcheson was presented, by the President, with a British-made gold watch, and a pendant for his wife.

The Conference adjourned until to-day.

A POPULAR PIONEER.

OLD INNISKILLING OFFICER'S DEATH IN ZULULAND.

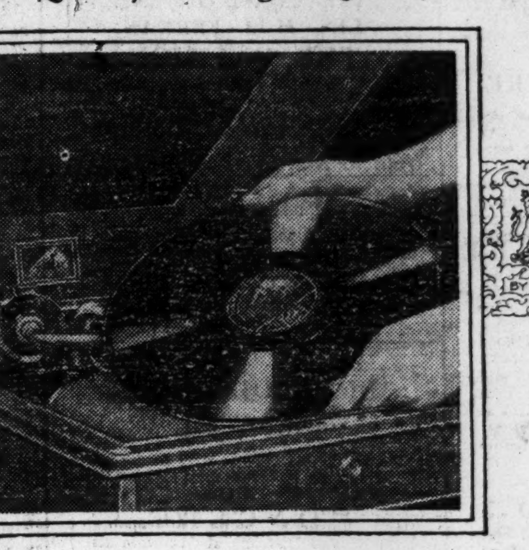

Captain Charles E. Pearse, late of the 6th (Inniskilling) Dragoons, has died at Idhlebe, Mahlabatini, Zululand, at the age of 71. He was regarded as one of the few remaining links with the early civilised days of Zululand.

Captain Pearse joined the Life Guards in his youth, and served with them in the Egyptian campaign of 1884-85. Later, obtaining a commission, he was transferred to the 6th (Inniskilling) Dragoons. After a period of service with that regiment, Captain Pearse was seconded to the Zululand Police, the old "Nongqai," as sub-inspector, under the late Commandant Mansell. He was stationed at Nongoma, where he served during the disturbances of 1888 which ended in the exile of Dinizulu (son and heir of Cetewayo) to St. Helena.

On June 20th, 1895, Captain Pearse married Miss Thring, of Stanger, Natal, the ceremony taking place at the Ivuma Store, in Northern Zululand, there being no church in that part of the country. Two years later Captain Pearse retired from the Zululand Police, and purchased the store at Idhlebe. Here he remained until his death.

Strictly upright in his dealings, Captain Pearse was held in high esteem by everyone. He has left a widow, two sons and four married daughters, also several grandchildren. The funeral took place at Mahlabatini. Captain Pearse was a son of the late Rev. G. W. Pearse.

WEATHER FORECAST.

General Inference.—A ridge of high pressure is spreading from the West across the British Isles. Weather conditions will improve, at least temporarily, but secondaries indicated further out on the Atlantic will probably cause an early return to unsettled conditions.

Ireland.—Westerly to variable, then south-west winds, light to moderate, stronger locally at times; variable skies; occasional local showers; visibility mainly good; cooler.

All Irish Seaboards.—Westerly winds, moderate, stronger at times locally; variable skies, occasional local showers; visibility mainly good; sea moderate or rather rough.

The Prince of Wales is enjoying his holiday at Biarritz more and more. He is evidently in brilliant health. He spent the greater part of yesterday golfing at St. Jean de Luz.

The Irish Times.
WEDNESDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1926.

NEWS SUMMARY.

IRELAND.

President Cosgrave is to open a relief fund in connection with the cinema fire disaster. A concert in aid is being given at La Scala, Dublin, this evening.—(Page 7.)

Forty-eight victims of the Drumcollogher disaster were buried yesterday.—(Page 7.)

A manifesto has been issued by Captain W. A. Redmond and Mr. Thomas O'Donnell urging the formation of a responsible and constitutional Opposition in the Free State.—(Page 7.)

GREAT BRITAIN.

Yesterday morning two elderly sisters, Miss Elinor and Miss May Woodhouse, of Burghill House, Herefordshire, were shot dead in their own house. Their butler, Charles Haughton, has been charged with the crime.—(Page 5.)

Speaking at the conference of the Library Association at Leeds yesterday, Dr. Henry Guppy, of Manchester, said that he entirely disagreed with those critics who despised works of imagination as having to do with fiction and as being of no value to the student who wished to acquire exact knowledge.—(Page 5.)

The miners' leaders last night hurried from Bournemouth back to London. It was announced that in consequence of a telephonic message from the Government they were about to resume negotiations.—(Page 7.)

ABROAD.

Germany's election to a seat on the Council of the League of Nations is to be discussed at Geneva to-day.—(Page 8.)

It is officially stated that the Government has mastered the situation in Spain. All the "rebel officers" have surrendered.—(Page 7.)

Three British Naval officers and four men have been killed in an encounter between British gunboats and Chinese troops on the Yangtse river.—(Page 8.)

SPORTING.

At Claremorris yesterday Glenmore won the Stewards' Plate, Fighting Bird the Traders' Plate, Glencoe the Committee Plate and the Claremorris Plate, Pearleen the Ladies' Plate, and Georginatown the Commercial Plate.—(Page 10.)

At Doncaster yesterday Seradella won the Great Yorkshire Handicap.—(Page 10.)

FINANCIAL.

London Stock Markets were quiet and slack. Tin shares were an active feature.—(Page 4.)

There was a more urgent demand for money in Lombard street up to 4¼ per cent., with the general rate 4 per cent. Discounts were weak.—(Page 4.)

A New Irish Party.

To-day, after a somewhat prolonged preparation behind the scenes, a new party steps into the arena of Free State politics. Captain W. A. Redmond and Mr. Thomas O'Donnell have been members of the old Nationalist Parliamentary Party, for which they claim plenary inspiration by "the traditional principles of Irish Nationalism"; and it is their evident purpose that the new party shall be in the direct line of succession. If the result of their appeal to "the people of Ireland" fulfils their hopes, this party—which is still unnamed—will begin as an Opposition in Dail Eireann and in due course will assume the reins of government. Of course the party, like its predecessor, will be constitutional. It will "accept without reserve" the Anglo-Irish Treaty and the Free State Constitution; and it will work—as, in practice or theory, all its numerous competitors are working—for the establishment of a united Ireland. The new party will try to restore the nation's economic welfare, to increase production, to lower taxation and to foster "a sense of general security." It will press for sound methods of finance and for the reduction of public expenditure, and will be a vigilant critic of the Government's executive and administrative acts. These are the commonplaces of every political prospectus; but the manifesto ends with an encouraging proof of wisdom. The new party will be "free from all entanglements with past controversies and from any control from previously existing organisations." Messrs. Redmond and O'Donnell, in discarding, with a natural pang, many creditable connections, have jettisoned many others which were a damnosa hereditas.

Simultaneously with the new party's manifesto we publish a review of the Free State's political situation by The McGillycuddy of the Reeks; and the coincidence is useful. No political body can be impartial—least of all, a body that is preparing to assume the functions of an Opposition. Messrs. Redmond and O'Donnell ignore the lights and darken the shadows of the Free State Government's record. We suppose that at the next general election they will invite support from all educated voters; and The McGillycuddy's letter seems to us to be an excellent sign-post to the average view of that important class. A close study of the letter will repay the promoters of the new party if it saves them from the temptation to under-rate their opponents' strength. Their manifesto declares, for instance, that the nation's welfare must be founded on a basis of general security, personal liberty and equal laws; and they promise to bestow these gifts on a grateful people. Rightly or wrongly, however, large numbers of the electors—perhaps, a majority—believe that they are enjoying these blessings now, and credit them to the account of President Cosgrave's Government. That Government has made many mistakes—faithfully summarised in the new party's manifesto—but could any other Government have done better during the last three years? The McGillycuddy cites the familiar proverb about the known and the unknown devil, and recalls the praise that the known devil has received from Dr. Parker Willis, the American economist. A young Government which, in very difficult circumstances, has balanced the national Budget, has restored the national credit and has cleared the road for economic progress, cannot fairly be said to deserve early annihilation. Even its political enemies may be asked to weigh its virtues against its crimes.

To the bare question, "Do the Free State's interests demand a new political party?" the judicious voter will answer, "Yes and no." The answer is "No" if the new party is to be a self-seeking body, destitute of any programme save an unqualified hostility to the Government in office. Such a party merely would be a mischievous addition to the existing number of factions which are courting the electors. The answer is "Yes" if the new party has the intention and the power to fill a sad gap in the nation's political machinery. There is obvious and urgent need for a substantial and responsible party of Opposition in Dail Eireann. The admitted defects of President Cosgrave's Government—its occasional fits of autocracy, its intolerance of criticism, its frank affiliations with a political caucus—result directly from the lack of a strong, consistent and patriotic Opposition in Parliament. Such an Opposition would put country before party, would be a well-informed critic of the Executive's mistakes and, on the other hand, would support the Executive's truly national policies. It would gather force from the gradual adhesion of the best members of other minorities, and, in due time, would be entrusted with the task of government. The manifesto that we print to-day gives us no assurance that the sort of Opposition which the country would welcome eagerly is about to be born. Everything will depend upon the character of the new party's leaders and on the constructive elements of its programme; and, until that programme is set forth in full and plain terms, we shall counsel our readers to adopt The McGillycuddy's wise suspension of judgment.

The Australian Referendum.

The referendum which was held in Australia last week has resulted in a heavy defeat of the proposals submitted to the electorate by the Federal Premier. The purpose of the appeal to the Australian people was to get rid of a very anomalous situation. Under the Constitution of 1900 the functions of the Federal Government and those of the Governments of the Commonwealth's several States over-lapped considerably, especially in regard to industrial affairs. Federal and State Arbitration Courts delivered conflicting judgments on questions of hours and wages. All sorts of confusing decisions were given, and the Federal Government had no real supremacy concerning matters of vital importance to the economic life of the Dominion. Mr. Bruce, therefore, decided to ask the people to allow him to change the Constitution, making the Federal Government supreme in all questions of industrial dispute. He also sought powers to control corporations and to maintain the essential services of the Commonwealth during periods of strikes. Both his suggestions have been rejected definitely; but, as no question of confidence was involved, the result of the referendum will make no difference in the Government's position. Mr. Bruce, who is on his way to London to attend the Imperial Conference next month, makes light of his reverse. "I asked for increased power for the Commonwealth," he declared. "The people said, 'Certainly not!' There is nothing further to be done." It is difficult to explain the result of the referendum, which reveals at once the strength and the weakness of the Federal system of government. Mr. Bruce is immensely popular throughout the Commonwealth, and it was believed that his powerful personal influence would have carried the issue in his favour. The Federal Labour Party supported him strongly, but the various Labour parties in the States opposed him with equal vigour on the ground that his proposals would deprive them of a great deal of local power. In New South Wales the Nationalist Party was enthusiastic in its advocacy of his plan, fearing the return to power of a Labour Government in the State; but the Nationalists of Victoria, who argued that the Labour Party might secure Federal office, protested against further centralisation of authority. All the political parties were divided in this way. Individuals were torn between their loyalty to their States and their interest in the welfare of the Commonwealth, and, as The Times Correspondent suggests, many of them, who did not understand the issues which were at stake, took refuge in a negative vote. Voting in Australia is compulsory under penalty of a heavy fine, and, being compelled to go to the poll, thousands of citizens decided that the safest step was to leave matters as they were. It is admitted generally, however, that certain changes in the law are desirable. The Federal Government will be able to amend the Arbitration Acts within the limits of its existing constitutional powers, and all parties probably will be satisfied. The referendum was largely an experiment, the anomalous result of which, we hope, will be noted by the Free State Government. So many cross-currents sway the mind of a democracy that a really satisfactory referendum is almost impossible.

Photography and Crime.

The keenness with which the young men of the Civic Guard have applied themselves to the mysteries of their craft gives high promise for the future of that Service. In the Garda Review we find an account of a Camera Association recently formed within the force. By order of the Commissioner, and as part of the training of recruits, classes in photography and finger-printing now are held at the Dépôt, and various stations throughout the Free State have formed photographic branches. It is hoped that soon every barracks in the country will have its dark room and photographic equipment, and it is a matter of the highest credit to the Guards that progress is being made wholly by means of voluntary subscriptions among themselves. Superintendent Desmond points to the pleasure to be derived from the cultivation of photography as a hobby. Guards posted in lonely corners of the land could brighten their leisure and build up a pictorial record of their doings by means of the camera. Progress in their profession would be expedited. In other lands the camera already has become a powerful weapon in the hands of the preservers of the law. In the case of crimes a series of pictures "snapped" at the scene of wrong-doing often has yielded important evidence. Identification of suspected persons, again, has been facilitated by the circulation of photographs. Superintendent Desmond narrates an amusing, but significant, example of the uses of the camera. In an agrarian dispute a crowd of lawless persons took to demonstrations against an unpopular landholder every Sunday after Mass. The local sergeant noted the names of the disturbers of the peace, and they paid small heed. Standing beside the sergeant, the Superintendent drew from his pocket a camera and levelled it on the turbulent crowd, creating a more sobering effect than if he had drawn firearms. At the District Court, when the offenders were charged, not one denied his participation in the disturbance.

America's Oil.

The United States Federal Oil Conservation Board—a committee appointed by the President to investigate the extent of the nation's oil resources—has issued a surprising report. It affirms that the present reserves of oil in the States amount to 4,500,000,000 barrels, and that this quantity, at the present rate of consumption, will be exhausted in six years. Over three-quarters of the oil consumed in the world is consumed in North America, and it is evident that the time of dependence on foreign supplies for the maintenance of transport services is approaching fast. The Board recommends immediate measures of economy, the development of better mechanical devices in the use of oil products, and the improvement of means of extraction. All such measures, however, can but delay the day of exhaustion a little while. Producers in the United States, therefore, are urged to develop oil-yielding territories in other lands, and Mexico and South America are named as the proper field for enterprise to this end. Nothing less than a controlling interest in the oil deposits concerned will serve the needs of the United States; for so great a nation dare not be dependent on foreign good-will in the provision of one of the prime necessaries of civilisation. This remarkable report explains much in the attitude of the United States towards Mexico, and suggests that the next few years will see a great effort to attain economic, if not political, control of Mexican resources. If we exclude the United States, Mexico produces more than half the world's supply of petroleum, and the great Mexican oil wells lie but a little distance south of the United States frontier.

LONDON THEATRES.

"VIRGINIA'S HUSBAND" AT THE COMEDY.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
LONDON, Tuesday.

Miss Florence Kilpatrick's new play, described as a farcical comedy, received an enthusiastic welcome when it was presented at the Comedy Theatre.

The theme is another version of an old idea. The marriage that must be kept secret from a wealthy relative has been used times without number as the basis for a farce.

In this play Virginia is a young woman with ultra modern ideas who receives an allowance from a wealthy aunt. When her relative announces a visit, Virginia has to find a husband in a hurry, and the subsequent alarums and excursions provide excellent material for a farce.

In the leading parts last night Miss Francis Carson and Mr. Edmond Breon worked hard to get the fun over, while as the pert little maid Miss Ena Grossmith was a great success.

"THE IDIOT" AT THE LITTLE.

To-night at the Little Theatre an adaptation of Dostoieffsky's wonderful novel, "The Idiot," was presented for the first time. Mr. Michael Hogan is responsible for the dramatisation, and he appears to have done his work with a nice discrimination and with considerable skill. "The Idiot" has that peculiar verbosity which seems to characterise all Russian plays, but it possesses more incident and more definite dramatic action than others that have been seen recently.

It is, of course, quite impossible in a play to give more than the outstanding incidents of Dostoieffsky's lengthy novel. The first two acts of this play, showing the simplicity and beauty of the Prince's real character, are remarkably fine. All through the adapter has brought out the curious characteristics of the novelist's people; they are never exaggerated or overdrawn.

The Prince of Ion Swinley was subtly beautiful. One was made to feel the essential simplicity and purity of the character. It was not an easy part to play, but Mr. Swinley never lost his hold of it.

Mr. Michael Hogan played the part of Rogojin, a drunken ruffian, in a most effective way—the last scene where he goes mad was a fine piece of work. Miss Stella Arbenia gave a finely-shaded performance as Nastasia, a girl with a past and a fortune, while Miss Beatrix Thomson was good all the time, and particularly in her big scene with Nastasia. Other characters were well acted by Mr. Clive Currie and Miss Annie Esmond.

The piece was accorded a deservedly enthusiastic welcome. It should attract intelligent London theatregoers, although, I am afraid, it is too sombre to be really popular.

THE CLYDE TRUST.

£2,000,000 ON NEW DOCKS.

Speaking at the annual banquet of the Clyde Trust at Glasgow last night, Sir William Raeburn, Chairman, said that many people asked why they were spending two millions on new docks when trade was less than in 1914. They were bound, he said, to provide bigger and better docks for the largest ships.

Referring to the general strike, he said that the trustees had never yet been beaten by trades union forces. Any attempt to hold up their great work could only end in one way.

Mr. William Whitelaw, Chairman of the London and North-Eastern Railway, referred to the large amount of capital earning no dividend, and said that it was difficult to realise that in his own company about 90 per cent. of the shareholders drew much less from their railway profits than the lowest-paid male adult in their employment.

Mr. A. J. Campbell, Manager of Messrs. William Beardmore, in pointing out the great depression in the shipbuilding trade, said that the number of the unemployed in the Clyde shipyards last March was about 18,000, as against 27,000 a year ago and 43,000 in 1913. The tonnage under construction on the Clyde was about 23 per cent. below June last year, so that the position was worse than that of all the other shipbuilding centres in the country together. They had 42½ per cent. of the total new tonnage under construction in the world, but in pre-war days they were building 65 per cent. The increased entry of foreign nations into the construction of tonnage accounted for a fair amount of unemployment.

UP BEN NEVIS ON A MOTOR CYCLE.

Mr. Robert MacGregor, of Killin, yesterday achieved the remarkable feat of climbing to the summit of Ben Nevis on a motor cycle, a journey of five miles, the path up the mountain being in a somewhat derelict condition. He was accompanied by Mr. Duncan Grant, motor engineer.

COURT AND PERSONAL.

The King and the Queen, accompanied by several members of the Royal Family, will be present at the Braemar Gathering, which will take place to-morrow.

Princess Mary and Viscount Lascelles are staying with the Earl and Countess of Lonsdale for the Doncaster meeting, which opened yesterday, and for which Lord Lascelles, Earl Fitzwilliam and the Earl of Lonsdale are the acting Stewards. The Earl of Harewood and Colonel and Lady Ethelreda Wickham are included in Lord and Lady Lonsdale's party.

The French Ambassador and Madame de Fleuriau are spending their leave at their country seat near Grenoble, and recently motored to Aix-les-Bains, where they were entertained at luncheon by the British Premier and Mrs. Stanley Baldwin at the Hotel Bernascon.

King George and Queen Elizabeth of the Hellenes have been spending some time at Cromer, and have now returned to London.

The Duke of Abercorn, Governor of Northern Ireland, and the Duchess of Abercorn, have arrived at Crom Castle, Newtownbutler, on a visit to the Earl of Erne and his mother, Lady Mary Stanley, who are entertaining a party to meet them.

The Duke and Duchess of Newcastle are entertaining a party at Clumber for Doncaster races this week. Their guests include Baroness Burton, the Hon. Lady Bailey, the Hon. Mrs. Yorke, Colonel and Mrs. H. Tufton, Colonel Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Mackie Campbell, Mrs. Cundy and Major Stirling. Miss Leatham's party at Weulbridge House, Doncaster, includes Lord Stavordale, Lady Chesham, Sir Frederick and Lady Carmichael-Anstruther, Sir Gordon Cunard, Major S. Green, Mr. H. Stobart and Mr. A. Hay. Lord and Lady Glanely are staying with Sir John and Lady Robinson at Worksop Manor.

Many yachts returned to the Solent at the end of last week, and the Royal Yacht Squadron continues to be a social rendezvous. Lord and Lady Dorchester have returned to Hamlet Lodge; the Earl of Normanton is back from his cruise round the Channel Islands, and Viscount Gort, V.C., has returned from a similar trip. Sir Godfrey and Lady Baring are at Nubia House, where they will spend the autumn. Colonel John Gretton, with his daughter and several friends, has returned to Cowes, after a three weeks' cruise in the "Julnar."

Aix-les-Bains is still crowded with British visitors. Among the recent arrivals are the Hon. Mrs. Arthur Brodrick, Admiral the Hon. Sir E. Bethell, Sir Henry and Lady Curtis-Bennett, Lady Horne, Colonel Sir Henry Brotherton, Sir H. and Lady Hirst, Sir William and Lady Mercer and Lieutenant-Colonel and Mrs. Fitzgerald. Several Indian notabilities are taking the cure at present, including the Maharajah of Mysore and the Maharajah of Kapurthala. Mr. H. Campbell Wallace, formerly United States Ambassador in Paris, has joined Mrs. Wallace at Aix-les-Bains.

Second Lieutenant Shane E. R. O'Neill, who has been commissioned in the 8th King's Royal Irish Hussars, is the grandson and heir of Lord O'Neill, Shane's Castle. His father, Captain the Hon. A. E. O'Neill, M.P., 2nd Life Guards, was the first member of the House of Commons killed in the late war.

The marriage arranged between Captain Henry Wotton Englefield, late of Queen's Own Westminster Rifles, only son of the late Fryal William Englefield, Arborfield, Berks, and Bernardine Blanchefield O'Halloran, B.A., daughter of the late Loughlin B. O'Halloran, Dunmanway, Co. Cork, will take place on 22nd inst. in London.

The engagement is announced between Cornelius E. A. O'Callaghan, The Green Howards, only son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. O'Callaghan, Goodbrook, Delgany, Co. Wicklow, and late of Cahirduggan, Midleton, Co. Cork, and Dorothy, only daughter of Colonel d'Arcy Preston, C.M.G., and Mrs. Preston, Askham Bryan, York.

The marriage arranged between Joseph Jeffares, National Bank, Castlebar, and Annie (Nan), daughter of John and Mrs. Loftus, Knockbane House, Palatine, Carlow, will take place quietly at Rutland Church, Carlow, on Wednesday, September 15th, 1926.

LONDON LETTER.

THE OWNERS' FORMULA.

59 FLEET STREET, LONDON.
TUESDAY NIGHT.

Much disappointment was expressed here to-day that Mr. Churchill was unable to induce the coal-owners to offer any kind of terms, and it is feared that the present situation will not be altered materially for some time to come. The coal-owners have adopted a formula like Mr. Cook, and they will not depart from it, though it must be admitted that they have something to support their view. Talking to a coal-owner this morning, I was informed that the coal-owners want to put an end to a recurrence of these periodic strikes, and that they are of opinion that this can be done only by arranging district agreements. It is of interest that my informant inclined to the view that coal certainly will be much dearer after the conclusion of the strike.

The main fact emerging from the coal situation at the moment is that the coal-owners remain absolutely firm in their refusal to negotiate for a settlement on a national agreement, and it was the opinion to-day in political circles that there will be no change in this attitude after all the district associations have been consulted. It is possible that the Chancellor of the Exchequer will ask the miners if they will not agree to negotiate settlements on a district basis, giving them at the same time an undertaking that Parliament will be asked to give a national basis to this agreement in the course of the autumn session. It is possible that an agreement may be found in this way, but it will take time to bring it about.

The Government's Power.

The coal-owners must realise, however, that their position is not quite the same as the miners, since the public will expect the Government to see that a settlement is not prolonged unnecessarily by undue insistence on any point not of extreme importance. The Government was unable to command that the miners should resume work, while it can bring pressure to bear on the owners. The latter held a meeting this morning to discuss yesterday's proceedings and will seek permission from the district associations to enter again into negotiations. It is pointed out that the Association at present is utterly without power to enter into negotiations as representing the coal-owners throughout the country.

The League's Cost.

The entrance of Germany into the League of Nations will increase the cost of working that expensive body considerably. The League in 1924-1925 cost its members about £900,000 a year, but with the advent of Germany the amount will be increased to nearly £1,000,000. The senior members, however, will experience a slight decrease in their expenditure, since Germany now will have to pay her share. The "units" for League expenditure total 937, of which Great Britain, with 105 units, pays just over £190,000 per annum. The British Empire in all totals 248 units, France has 79 units, Italy and Japan 60 units each and India 56.

Export Credits.

Inquiries regarding the Government's export credits guarantee scheme are so numerous that the Department of Overseas Trade has prepared and printed a summary of the scheme outlining its principal features and the procedure to be followed in taking advantage of it. The Government's arrangements provide guarantees for credits granted in the export of goods wholly or partly produced or manufactured in the United Kingdom. Coal is included in the exports to which the scheme applies, and it is hoped that when normal conditions are restored exports of this commodity may be increased by the aid afforded by the Government. Many of the inquiries relate to goods already shipped, but guarantees in such cases are not given.

London's Lady Mayoress.

London's Lady Mayoress is to be married before her father's term of office expires in November; and it is probable that the circumstance is unique. It is not yet settled where the wedding will take place, but tradition points to St. Paul's Cathedral, since it is there that City functions of any great importance usually take place. In its present truncated form the Cathedral is admirably adapted for a wedding, since the nave is open and the altar can be seen from any part. Miss Pryke became Lady Mayoress on the death of her mother some months ago, and she has filled the position with great ability and charm. It is certain that a civic wedding in the Metropolitan Church would meet with warm approval in the City of London.

A Grape Famine.

The recent heat wave over Europe is responsible for a somewhat serious grape famine, since it is reported that two-thirds of the Almerian grape crop was destroyed, and consequently the supply for the British market this autumn will be only about 800,000 barrels instead of the 2,300,000 which was last year's total crop. It is the valley vineyards of Almeria that usually supply the best winter grapes for this country, and experts in London remarked to-day that they could not remember a more disastrous season.

August Holidays.

The holidays are almost over, and to-day many well-known faces were to be seen in the West End and in clubland generally. It is surprising how many men now go away to the seaside with their families to share in the August holiday of the young folks, and they seem to enjoy that change more than any shooting or golfing holiday. Motors play such an important part in the holiday scheme nowadays that men engaged in business pursuits have found time to spend a long week-end with their families by travelling on Thursday evening and returning on Monday, regardless of trains and their connections. At a number of the smaller seaside resorts a difficulty this summer has been the garaging of cars, the number being too great for the local storage facilities. In many cases a meadow has been turned into a temporary car park.

OBITUARY.

FRANCIS KOELLER, MUS. DOC.

Mr. Francis Koeller, Mus. Doc., died yesterday at his residence, 30 Wandsworth Parade, Belfast. Dr. Koeller had been for many years conductor of the Belfast Philharmonic Society, and had done much, both as teacher and conductor, for the advancement of music. Born at Aix-la-Chapelle, he was educated in Dresden, Berlin, Paris and Oxford, where he took his Doctor's degree. After a few years spent as teacher and as solo player at concerts, he settled in Belfast. In 1912 he went to Australia, where he resided for some time, returning again to Belfast, where he spent the evening of his life.

DRUMCOLLOGHER FIRE.

SEARCHING INQUIRY TO BE MADE.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT.

SEVERAL PERSONS STILL MISSING.

FUNERAL OF FORTY-EIGHT VICTIMS.

FORTY-EIGHT of the victims of the cinema fire at Drumcollogher were buried in one great grave yesterday. It is believed that the death-roll will number fifty, for at least three persons are missing.

President Cosgrave told an "Irish Times" reporter at Drumcollogher yesterday that there would be the fullest possible investigation into the disaster.

"The disaster," said the President, "is a great shock to the nation. I cannot express how deeply I feel for those who have suffered in this tragedy, or how deeply I deplore the appalling loss of life; but it may be of some comfort to those in distress and those who suffered the loss of ones near and dear to them to know that the sympathy of the whole nation, and, indeed, of the world, is extended to them in this dark hour.

"I would like to draw attention to the fortitude and courage displayed in such terrible circumstances. The full truth of it will never be known. However outstanding is the case of Ahern, who, having saved his wife, returned to save his mother and perished in the flames, it is merely typical of the courage generally exhibited. The details of individual acts of heroism will probably never be known.

"I would like to add that, in some quarters this morning, it was reported that women and children had been trampled on in the panic. My inquiries show such statements to have no foundation in fact."

THE FUNERAL.

FORTY-EIGHT BURIED IN ONE GRAVE.

FROM OUR SPECIAL CORRESPONDENT.
CHARLEVILLE, Tuesday.

The grim task of identifying the remains of the victims of Sunday night's fire continued this morning. Twenty-two bodies were identified. Heartrending scenes were witnessed as a daughter was identified by her wristlet watch, a husband by his gold hunter, a girl by her bracelets, yet another by the shoes she wore and so on. Features were unrecognisable. More than half of those who perished, however, take the secret of their identity with them to the grave.

The names of those who have been identified are:—

Mrs. John Egan, Drumcollogher.
Daniel Horan, Drumcollogher.
Mrs. Madden, Drumcollogher.
Mrs. Collins, Drumcollogher.
Mary O'Brien, Drumcollogher.

THE FUNERAL.

The funeral of the forty-eight victims of the fire took place this afternoon. The streets of the little town were crowded from early morning with many thousands who had come from far and near to pay a last tribute of respect to those whom they had known either personally or by repute. Motor cars and horse-drawn vehicles of all descriptions lined the streets in hundreds. The grounds in front of the church were thronged with friends and relatives of the victims. Several women became hysterical and fainted.

At 12 o'clock Requiem Mass was celebrated in the church for the repose of the souls of those who perished. The celebrant was the Rev. D. O'Callaghan, son of Mrs. O'Callaghan, one of the victims; the deacon was the Rev. P. O'Callaghan, St. Patrick's, Limerick; sub-deacon, the Rev. D. Ahearn, Brisbane; Master of Ceremonies, the Rev. Father Darley, C.S.S.P.; Chanters, Fathers Ryan and O'Sullivan. There were about thirty other priests present.

The Bishop of Limerick, the Most Rev. Dr. Keane, arrived at the conclusion of the Requiem Mass and presided at the last offices, and then blessed the graves. President Cosgrave arrived by motor from Dublin, via Limerick, at about the same time, and was accompanied by Deputy Commissioner Coogan. The military chaplains, Fathers Piggott and McCarthy, were also present. Colonel Vize, O.C., 4th Brigade, Limerick; Colonel Hayes, G.O.C., Southern Command, were in attendance. Lieutenant Michael Kelleher was in charge of the military guard. Representatives of all the public bodies were present.

BISHOP'S ADDRESS.

At the graveside the bishop gave an address. He said that words failed him on an occasion like that, but he wished to express to them the sympathy he felt for them in the tragic event that had befallen them. It was well for them to know that they were not bearing their sorrows alone, but that the whole country sympathised with them. President Cosgrave was there to show his sympathy with them in that terrible disaster.

"I have known Drumcollogher since I was a boy," said Dr. Keane, "and I know how devout you are to the Divine Lord, and that it is to Him that you will turn for chief consolation. We can never discern the Divine intentions, and we cannot divine His intentions in the tragedy that has fallen like a heavy dark cloud on this parish."

Those, he added, who were taken suddenly were always those who were best prepared. And it was so in this case. There were some who has shown magnificent courage when they went into the hall and lost their lives in trying to save people.

The people in the hospital were anxious to know who were gone and who were saved, and thought nothing of the cruel marks on their own bodies. The sufferings of the victims would, he hoped, be accepted by Our Lord in full payment for their offences. He exhorted the people to bear their cross like Christian men and women; the Lord had permitted this catastrophe; "the Lord hath given and the Lord hath taken away, blessed be His name."

KINDLY WORKS.

The loss that the people had suffered called for the exercise of charity and kindly works from their friends, so that balm might be brought to their aching hearts. Let charity live amongst them, as it had never lived before. He found it difficult to say anything in face of the magnitude of the catastrophe that had befallen them, but he asked all to extend their prayers for the repose of the souls of those who had departed.

As the Bishop concluded his oration, he asked the people to kneel down and pray with him. Many people broke down and sobbed audibly.

Reports made late this evening go to show that the death roll will be greater than the figure given yesterday, and that it will exceed 50.

THE INJURED.

GRAPHIC STORY OF THE FIRE.

I visited Croom Hospital, Limerick, this evening, and saw the nine survivors of the disaster who were injured. James Kirwan, of Drumcollogher, is in a serious condition.

I stopped at the bedside of John Gleeson, who is clerk of the chapel at Drumcollogher, and got from him the story of how he managed to save his wife from the burning building, although he very nearly sacrificed his own life in doing so. He did not tell me the latter part, but I had it from eye-witnesses that when he had got his wife out he tried to get another woman out, but had to desist because, as he said, the flesh came off his hands, and made it impossible.

"I was sitting inside in the hall, he said, with my wife, about half-way up, a little above the operating machine. The first picture shown was a cowboy one, and the second, a big picture, "The Ten Commandments," was put on. I heard a cry, and looking around, the first thing I saw was the operator firing what I took to be a candle from the inside of the machine on the floor. I then saw a sudden blaze. I remained where I was when the people in the body of the hall all stood up. Although the cry of "fire" had gone up, the people in the front of the screen at the top of the hall did not seem to realise that anything was wrong, and when the people rushed for the front door I heard the operator shouting to the people to go back, that everything was all right. There was a short pause then, and I saw flames and some smoke near the door.

"When the crowd got on their feet the second time they were practically surrounded by flames. Everything happened so quickly that it seemed as if it were but three minutes before the whole hall was in a blaze. The flames in front of the door cut us, at the back of the hall, off from the only exit.

RUSH TO THE WINDOW.

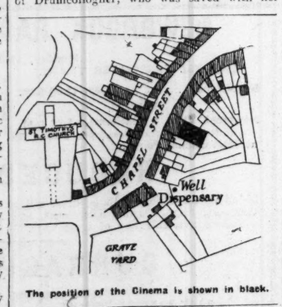

"I thought of the windows and rushed to the one behind the screen. I knew that there were iron bars on the window, but that they would not be hard to remove. I worked frantically at them, while my wife stood by my side. I could feel the heat growing intense. My ears were deafened with the noise and crackle of the flames and burning wood, while my eyes and mouth were full of smoke.

"I got my wife through the window at last, and then turned to assist a grey-haired woman whom I heard moaning at my feet. I helped her to the window and pushed her through. I made to help another woman through, but quite suddenly the flesh came off my hands in junks. I looked and saw the flesh all crinkled and shrivelled; yet I had not been touched by the flames. The heat and suffocation were so terrible I then made for the window myself and got through on to the rick of hay outside. I then noticed the grey-haired woman hanging down with her legs caught in the window. I remember rushing around and getting buckets of water until some men picked me up and took me to a house where I was anointed by Canon Begley and attended to by a doctor. My wife was there also. Then I fainted."

HEROIC ACTS.

Acts of heroism like these—and there were many—provide the one bright spot in that ghastly tragedy.

The next person I saw was Mrs. Noonan, of Drumcollogher, who was saved with her little son of eight years. The others in the hospital are Mary Galvin (25), Maria Russell (40), and Thomas Barry, all of Drumcollogher.

It was stated by police authorities to-night at Drumcollogher that Mr. William Forde and Mr. Patrick Dowling, proprietor and operator, respectively, of the cinema show, left Drumcollogher this morning. Their destination was not made known, but it is thought that they have gone to Limerick.

RELIEF FUND

TO BE OPENED BY THE PRESIDENT.

TO-NIGHT'S CONCERT.

LA SCALA THEATRE PROGRAMME.

WE are informed that President Cosgrave intends to inaugurate a fund for the relief of the dependents of the victims of the cinema fire in Drumcollogher.

The Governor-General, Mr. T. M. Healy, has sent a cheque for £200 to Canon Begley, the parish priest of the stricken village. Donations that have been promised are:—

Mrs. Croker	£100	0	0
Mr. Will Rogers	100	0	0
Belfast Rotary Club	10	10	0
Mr. O'Keefe, solicitor, Chicago	10	0	0

To-night (not Thursday, as announced in some quarters) an entertainment will be given at La Scala Theatre, Dublin, in aid of President's Cosgrave's Relief Fund.

The entertainment has been arranged at the request of President Cosgrave, who received an offer from Mr. Will Rogers, who is, perhaps, the highest-paid entertainer in the United States, to come to Dublin to assist in raising funds.

Mr. Rogers will appear in La Scala Theatre at 8 o'clock to-night. He is to be supported by the No. 1 Army Band, under the conductorship of Colonel Brase; and by Miss May Dovle (soprano).

Mr. Rogers, in addition to giving a personal donation of £100, has cabled to America in connection with the fire, and has informed President Cosgrave of his action, adding that he expects a big response to his appeal.

There will be no further booking of seats for to-night's performance at La Scala, and people will have to pay at the theatre. Seats already booked, however, will be reserved.

Details of the concert were broadcast last night from 2 RN by Mr. C. E. MacConnell, of Publicity House, who is associated with Mr. T. C. Reddin, the manager of La Scala, in making arrangements for the concert.

ROYAL MESSAGE.

SYMPATHY OF KING AND QUEEN.

MANY messages of sympathy with the relatives of those who perished in the Drumcollogher disaster have been received by the Governor-General, President Cosgrave, and Canon Begley, Parish Priest of Drumcollogher. As soon as the news reached Balmoral on Monday the King sent a telegram to the Governor-General. The following is a text of his Majesty's message and of Mr. Healy's reply:—

Balmoral Castle, 6th September, 1926.
To His Excellency the Governor-General, Viceregal Lodge, Dublin.

The Queen and I are distressed to hear of the terrible catastrophe in the village of Drumcollogher last night, resulting in a grievous loss of life. Please assure the families of those who have perished, as well as the injured, of our heartfelt sympathy in their affliction.

GEORGE R.I.

His Majesty the King,
Balmoral Castle.

With my humble duty to Your Majesty and to the Queen I acknowledge with gratitude the Royal Message of sympathy for the sorrowers and people of Drumcollogher, and have transmitted it to the clergy of the village for publication amongst their afflicted flock.

HEALY,
Governor-General.
7th September, 1926.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S GIFT.

The Governor-General sent the following telegram to the Very Rev. Canon Begley, P.P., Drumcollogher, yesterday:—"On my return to Dublin this morning I read with anguish of the disaster which has befallen your flock. I shall ask my son to offer the Holy Sacrifice for the repose of the souls of the faithful departed and for the alleviation of the minds of their afflicted relatives.—GOVERNOR-GENERAL."

Last night the Governor-General sent the following communication to Canon Begley:—"I venture to send cheque for £200 for your suffering flock, and with renewed sympathy remain, faithfully yours.

T. M. HEALY."

THE NORTH'S SYMPATHY.

The Governor-General received the following message yesterday from the Duke of Abercorn, Governor of Northern Ireland: "I am deeply distressed to hear of the appalling disaster at Limerick, and would ask you to express the sympathy of the people of Northern Ireland with the bereaved."

Mr. Healy sent the following reply:—"I thank your Grace for your message of sympathy, which I shall make known to our people."

Mr. H. M. Pollock, Minister for Finance, who is acting as head of the Government of Northern Ireland during the absence of Sir James Craig in Canada, sent the following telegram to President Cosgrave:—"On behalf of the Government and people of Northern Ireland I desire to say how deeply grieved we are to learn of the appalling tragedy in County Limerick, and at the same time to express our profound sympathy with those who have suffered bereavement by this terrible calamity."

President Cosgrave's reply was as follows: "Am deeply grateful for your kind expression of sympathy on behalf of the Government and people of Northern Ireland with the sufferers in the Drumcollogher tragedy. Your message will be sincerely appreciated by the bereaved relatives, to whom it will be at once communicated."

The Consul for the Netherlands in Dublin (Mr. I. R. A. W. Weenink) sent the following telegram to President Cosgrave:—"Please accept expression of deep regret for Drumcollogher disaster, and convey sincere sympathy to relatives of unfortunate victims."

President Cosgrave replied:—"Am much obliged for your kind message of sympathy, which I am communicating to the relatives of the victims of the Drumcollogher disaster."

CARDINAL'S TELEGRAM.

The messages received by Canon Begley include the following:—

From Cardinal O'Donnell, Armagh:—"Words can scarcely convey how deep is the universal sorrow at the awful tragedy of Drumcollogher. The agony outside and inside the doomed building wrings every heart. God rest the dead; God comfort the living."

From the Archbishop of Cashel:—"Deepest sympathy with you and people of Drumcollogher."

From Limerick Methodist Synod:—"The Limerick Synod desires to express sympathy with the sufferers of Sunday night's appalling catastrophe."

The Loran estate, Roscrea, recently acquired by the Land Commission, is to be divided in the near future.

NEW FREE STATE PARTY.

PLAN FOR CONSTITUTIONAL OPPOSITION.

MANIFESTO BY FORMER NATIONALIST M.P.'s.

The need in the Free State for a responsible Opposition party which accepts the Treaty, and is inspired by the traditional principles of Irish nationalism, is urged in a manifesto which we publish below over the signatures of Captain W. A. Redmond, T.D., and Mr. Thomas O'Donnell, a former member of the old Nationalist Parliamentary Party.

It states that a Provisional Committee has been formed, and that a series of public meetings will be held—the first takes place at Waterford next Sunday.

Subsequently a national conference will be called to draft a programme, create an organisation and provide funds.

TEXT OF MANIFESTO.

NEED FOR RESPONSIBLE OPPOSITION.

TO THE PEOPLE OF IRELAND.

There is a grave and urgent necessity for a new constitutional party in the Irish Free State which shall ensure that Irish national development shall proceed in accordance with the desire of the Irish people. Such a party must be inspired by the traditional principles of Irish Nationalism: must accept without reservation the Anglo-Irish Treaty and the Constitution; must recognise as valid and binding all engagements already entered into by lawful authority, and must direct its policy towards an effective reconstitution of our partitioned Ireland, as well as a restoration of the economic welfare of our country. Prosperity, based on increased wealth production and lowered taxation, must be sought primarily in a sense of general security. Every citizen must be assured, not merely of the enjoyment of his personal liberty, but of the possession of his property and means of livelihood, and that of these he shall not be deprived save by due process of law and after such compensation as natural justice requires.

A responsible Opposition party is necessary in order to secure a genuine discussion of legislative projects in Dail Eireann; to press for sound methods of finance and for the closest economy in public expenditure; to scrutinise, and to act as a check upon, the executive and administrative acts of Ministers and of public servants whom they control; to insist upon the constitutional responsibility of the Government, not to any organisation or society, but to the whole electorate of Saorstat Eireann, and to be prepared, if and when required by that electorate, to undertake the duties of government.

The conviction of these necessities has been enforced upon our minds not only by the circumstances which are known to all, but by pressing representations addressed to us from all interests and all parts of the country. We feel ourselves bound, therefore, to take the initial steps to enable the electorate to create the necessary instrument for giving effect to its own will. With this object in view, a series of public meetings—the first at Waterford on Sunday next—is being organised by a provisional committee, on whose behalf we have the honour to address you; and immediately afterwards a National Conference will be summoned on representative lines to work out a programme, to create an organisation and to provide funds. That National Conference will be asked by us, after unconstrained deliberations, to create a new party adapted for constitutional action in the new circumstances of Ireland, and to create it free from all entanglements with past controversies and from any control from previously existing organisations.

FREE STATE POLITICS.

THE ELECTORAL OUTLOOK.

VIEWS OF THE McGILLYCUDDY OF THE REEKS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—The past quarter of a century has seen a great many changes in the composition of Irish political parties, both in the British House of Commons and in our own newly-constituted Dail. The disruption of Parnell's united party led to a weakness, at a critical time, which was never again made good, and which, by its very weakness, eventually brought on Ireland the sad years of civic strife and unsatisfactory compromise from which we are now painfully and slowly recovering.

The Irish temperament is one which cannot long exist without the stimulus of political excitement, and the two years of continued quiet which have resulted from the more or less dictatorial control of a Government which has lacked the necessary Parliamentary opposition to give much-needed balance to its large volume of necessary legislation, may be followed by two years of political, and consequent economic, unrest—certainly not to the advantage of the Irish people. Readers of the daily Press will have noted the disastrous economic situation which has come to France during the past year, and is definitely the outcome of the jealousies of a large number of small political parties, eager to trample unreasoningly on one another and incidentally on their native land. It needed the serious threat of a national convulsion owing to the inordinately high cost of living (some 500% more than in the Free State to-day), the danger of imperialistic aims on the part of a neighbour and the possibility of international bankruptcy, to effect a compromise among these patriots sufficient to enable the fall in the value of the franc to be checked at all.

Readers of history will have marked the results of the Monroe Doctrine on the financial position of the United States of America and the long periods of peace which brought the Roman, British and German Empires to the zenith of their power.

The campaign of political effort for the 1927 election is already beginning to take definite shape, and we see a multiplicity of parties raising their voices in battle for our votes. Let us pass them in short review:—

(1) Cumann na nGaedheal, divided between tariff and free trade; with a sound record of services rendered in the pacification of the country and the repair of the ruthless and unpatriotic damage wrought during our civil strife; with a record of a large pension list, in great part unnecessary except for political reasons, and a number of departments of which the staff appears large for the needs of a country of this size; with a record of legislation drastic and hurried, but mainly in the country's best interests.

(2 and 3) Republicans (two kinds), who take no part in government and weaken the machine by the absence of some of its most valuable parts; who possess ideals from which they will not depart though Ireland be dying by inches, and which one of their leaders is prepared "to wade through Irish blood" to obtain; with no constructive programme whatsoever; whose advent to power would mean a fresh pension list to be borne by the taxpayer.

(4) The Magennis Party, with no policy or programme and only three members.

(5) The Farmers' Party, suffering from the want of any adequately considered policy or programme other than the destruction of the existing state of affairs and an idea that money and land can be got for nothing.

(6) The Nationalists, a phœnix-like resurrection of Mr. Redmond's Party, pledged to criticise and oppose the party in power, which may contain some sound and gifted elements. So far we do not know sufficient to form any opinion as to its merits or otherwise.

(7) Labour, possessing one leader of proved ability of a critical nature; owning, as a whole, socialistic tendencies foreign to the Irish mind.

(8) Independents, many of them good, sound men, but from their very name lacking the power which gathers strength from unity.

"REBEL OFFICERS SURRENDER."

NEW DECREES.

"AN EXAMPLE TO TO BE MADE."

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.
MADRID, Tuesday.

AS far as can be judged, the Government has the situation well in hand. Messages from various provinces state that the situation is absolutely calm. If disturbances have occurred, no report concerning them has as yet reached Madrid, and it would appear that no very serious outbreak has occurred.

There was, nevertheless, much anxiety yesterday concerning the attitude of the officers of the Artillery Academy at Segovia, who at first refused to obey the orders of the authorities. Late in the evening, however, the colonel in command and the other officers submitted to the Military Governor and were put under arrest inside the Academy.

It was after the receipt of this news that the Marqués de Estella went to the theatre, accompanied by General Losada, and attended a performance of a light opera.

An official Note issued here early this morning declares that the military question was "practically resolved" by last night. All the rebel artillery organisation had then submitted, including the Artillery Academy at Segovia, "where the trouble originated and where the resistance was most stubborn."

The Note adds that the officers who directed the movement are being tried by a courtmartial assembled by the Seventh Artillery Regiment.

The official Note goes on to explain that the action of the Military Corps "was not a political or military revolution, but purely a rebellion by a corporation of officers against Government measures."

SUBMISSIONS.

OFFICIAL NOTE ON THE SITUATION.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
MADRID, Tuesday.

The Prime Minister's office has just issued an official Note to the Press. The Note begins with the following words:—"At this moment, at four in the afternoon, there does not remain in the whole peninsula and the adjacent islands an artillery corps, or any works or establishment managed by artillery, that has not submitted to the Government, and been placed under the command, or direction, of officers belonging to other arms or other corps."

The Note goes on to remark that the Government publishes these facts without boasting, or making a parade of its victory, or its strength, because it is very sorry, as probably the artillery officers themselves are very scorry, that the dispute should have come to such an issue, notwithstanding the cordial and generous settlement so often put forward by the Prime Minister and Minister of War, and as often rejected.

The Note goes on to say that, so that an example may be made, the law will be rigorously carried out, but without vindictiveness or useless vexations.

The Note concludes by foreshadowing the withdrawal of martial law before long, and condemning esprit de corps when carried to such an excess as to over-ride the calls of patriotism.

The King presided over a meeting of the Cabinet this morning. On its termination General Primo de Rivera made a statement to newspaper men.

Among other things, he said:—"I gave the King an account of the state of things in regard to the military question. The matter has already been laid before the Courts, and they have started investigations to find out who was really guilty. We exchanged some impressions about the League of Nations.

"The Minister of Finance reported on the position of the Treasury, which is a very favourable one, and called His Majesty's attention to the rise in the price of Spanish stocks.

"The King signed several decrees; the principal one authorises the Minister of War to enforce, interpret, and complete the decree dealing with the artillery officers."

In conclusion, the Marquis de Estella intimated that the King was leaving again within a few days, and that no more Cabinet meetings would be held before his departure.

TRAIN WRECKERS' CONFESSION.

HORRIFIED AT THEIR CRIME.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
BERLIN, Tuesday.

Two young men—a musician named Otto Schlesinger, aged 21, and a mechanic of 22, Willy Weber—have been found to be responsible for the deaths of twenty-two people, including two Englishmen, who were killed in the recent railway smash near Lehrte.

The men were arrested by the police in a casual ward in Berlin last night, and to-day they made a full confession. They had been wandering round Germany unemployed and penniless for months, and hit upon a plan to derail the train and rob the mail and the passengers in the confusion.

FLIGHT OF THE WRECKERS.

While near Lehrte they stole the implements with which to loosen the rails from the railway blockhouse, and did their work by moonlight. They then hid behind bushes and awaited the arrival of the Berlin-Cologne express. When, however, the train fell down the embankment, amid the screams of the injured people, the two criminals were so horrified at the spectacle that they fled without thinking of carrying out their plan of robbing the passengers.

The deed preyed on the mind of Weber to such an extent that he confessed to his brother at his father's grave, and it was this which put the police on the track of the murderers.

BELGIUM'S UNKNOWN WARRIOR

BRUSSELS, Tuesday.

Rear-Admiral Kelly, commanding the British Cruiser Squadron now at Antwerp, accompanied by the Military Attaché, placed a wreath in the name of the British Admiralty on the tomb of the Unknown Soldier. A delegation of Boy Scouts from Hull also decorated the tomb of the Unknown Soldier with a magnificent palm branch.—(Reuter.)

LATE NEWS

COAL MINES PEACE.

THE GOVERNMENT AND THE OWNERS.

The Times, in a leading article, says:—A door to a possible peace has been approached by the miners. Will it be closed and barred by the colliery owners, or, having been closed, will it be reopened? It is evident from Mr. Churchill's remarks that the Government was as much surprised as the public to learn a fortnight ago that the owners flatly refused to enter into national negotiations. As Mr. Churchill pointed out, the Mining Association all through the past years "has been before the public as the united spokesman of one side of the industry." Suddenly it announced that it had dissolved itself as a negotiating body, its powers had gone, and there was "nothing but the void to speak to now." Certainly as late as June the Association was prepared, and actually proposed, to engage in national discussions. It is true that since then the district associations of owners have independently offered their own terms of employment, and it is also true that the Eight Hours Act was passed in order to allow of better district proposals being made than would have been possible had the old law been retained. The Government was privy to the publication of district terms, and assisted in the opening of that door to a possible settlement of the dispute. But there is controversy between the Government and the owners as to whether these district offers were meant to be in substitution for, or complementary, or preliminary to a national settlement.

The Government does not accept the argument that the essential measure of freedom for district negotiations is necessarily destroyed by a national agreement—by such an agreement, for example, as the Coal Commission recommended. It is now disclosed that most of the members of the Cabinet were inclined to insert a series of limiting conditions in the Hours Bill, but accepted "certain assurances in general terms" from the Mining Association. The Government's record in the matter is clear, and it is wholly free and unfettered to promote a settlement by whatever means are the more hopeful. The Government believes—and the belief is undoubtedly shared by the public—that the miners' leaders have made a sincere proposal which commits them to seek a resumption of work on terms that take full account of the economic condition of the industry. They believe, further, that an unnecessary obstacle is put in the way of such a settlement by the owners' refusal to meet them in national negotiations. After all, and in spite of the scant attention that has lately been given to the report of the Commission, it is to its findings at last that reference has to be made for impartial and authoritative guidance, and it may be recalled that, while the Commission considered it essential that there should be, as there always has been, considerable variation in the rates of wages in the several districts, it was "strongly of opinion that national wage agreements should continue."

STORM DEATHS IN AMERICA.

END OF THE HOLIDAY SEASON.

FROM "THE TIMES" CORRESPONDENT.
NEW YORK, Tuesday.

Labour Day is by custom the time when hundreds of thousands of people return from their holidays, and when other thousands make their last summer excursions into the country.

Yesterday the rush of returning and outgoing holiday-makers was the greatest ever known in New York. While it was at its height a terrific rainstorm fell on the city and its environs, containing until late at night. At least nine lives were lost in resultant accidents.

TRAINS COLLIDE.

From Chicago it was reported that five persons were killed in a collision between two inter-urban trains.

In Brooklyn an electric train, on the way to Coney Island, was brought to a sudden stop when part of the embankment fell on the line. Two men who leapt from the train came into contact with the "live" rail alongside, and were instantly killed. In the panic that followed thirty other persons were more or less seriously hurt.

On Staten Island a valley was flooded by bursting dams, and two women were drowned. Five other persons in and about New York were killed in motor accidents directly attributed to the storm.

£300,000 DAMAGE.

Most of the roads on Staten Island were badly damaged, and the train service was brought to a stand-still. It is estimated that it will cost £300,000 to repair the roadways alone.

Similar damage is reported from Long Island.—(Per Press Association, Copyright.)

MEDITERRANEAN GALE.

WARSHIPS DRIVEN TO SHELTER.

GIBRALTAR, Tuesday.

A fierce easterly gale raging in the Mediterranean is forcing France-Spanish warships to seek shelter at Algeciras to-day. The British Royal Mail steamer, Araguaya, from Southampton, with hundreds of tourists aboard for the Mediterranean pleasure cruise, was unable to disembark passengers at Tangier this morning, and was forced to seek shelter in the harbour of Gibraltar. All sailings from Tangier to Spain have been suspended.

Notwithstanding the Spanish Government orders forbidding artillery officers to wear their uniforms, all officers stationed at Algeciras are continuing to wear them in the barracks and in the streets unmolested. I saw this afternoon at Algeciras a Spanish artillery commanding officer arrive in an automobile from Cadiz. It is understood that the officer was conveying secret instructions to his corps.

PARIS RESTAURANT RESTRICTIONS.

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.
PARIS, Tuesday.

At noon to-day gourmets of Paris faced the menus of their favourite restaurants with a new interest. It was not, however, one of pleasant anticipation as in the past, but rather tinged with a note of melancholy.

Hitherto, they could pick and choose as they pleased; to-day they had to do their best with only two meat dishes, which meant a certain amount of hardship to a number who were wont to eat exceedingly well, if unwisely.

For to-day at noon the new food prohibition law went into effect. Frequenters of the more modest class of restaurant, however, did not find things so difficult, for most of them are not in the habit of eating more than two meat dishes. Their chief hardship is that, according to the law, there are only four meat dishes, and three vegetable dishes from which to select.

Restaurants will benefit materially from the new rule, as they will be able to concentrate on a small number of dishes, and save the losses sustained on a larger selection.

News was received at Devonport yesterday that Mr. J. Rogers, constructive manager of the dockyard, had been appointed to succeed Mr. J. King Salter as Deputy Director of Dockyards at the Admiralty.

NEGOTIATIONS TO BE RENEWED.

LEADERS HURRY BACK TO LONDON.

OWNERS TO CONSULT THE DISTRICTS.

THE miners' leaders last night left Bournemouth hurriedly for London, to resume negotiations. This statement was made at an open-air meeting at Bournemouth, which Mr. Cook was to have addressed.

It was stated that the party left by road, and that their decision was the result of a telephonic message from the Government to the miners' leaders.

The miners' leaders also had a conference with Mr. Ramsay Macdonald.

The Central Committee of the Mineowners' Association, at its meeting yesterday, expressed approval of Mr. Williams's statement before the Coal Committee of the Cabinet on Monday last. In deference to Mr. Churchill's request, however, it decided to submit the question raised by him to the District Colliery Owners' Associations for immediate consideration.

It is understood that the Coal Committee of the Cabinet feels that in this respect the Mine-owners' Association has taken the proper course.

IMPORTANT DECISION.

OWNERS' REPLY TO CONFERENCE.

The Central Committee of the Mineowners' Association met at the Association's London offices yesterday morning, when Mr. Evan Williams, President, gave an account of Monday's meeting with Mr. Churchill and other Ministers at 10 Downing street. A verbatim report of the proceedings was placed before the meeting.

After the owners' meeting, the Secretary, Mr. Lee, sent a letter to the Government stating that the Central Committee of the Mining Association, having before them a report of the proceedings at the meeting with the Cabinet Coal Committee on Monday and verbatim notes thereof, fully endorsed the views expressed on their behalf by Mr. Evan Williams, President of the Association. They agreed, in deference to the appeal by the Chancellor of the Exchequer, to refer the matter to the District Colliery Owners' Associations for their immediate consideration.

CABINET COAL COMMITTEE.

A meeting of the Cabinet Coal Committee was held at five o'clock in the afternoon, at Downing street, and it is understood that the members had before them the decision of the Mining Association. The Cabinet Committee sat for nearly an hour and three-quarters, and when they rose it was stated that no official communiqué would be issued.

It is believed in well informed circles that the general feeling of the committee was that the Mining Association had taken the proper course in referring to the District Associations the question whether an agreement should be reached upon a national basis.

THREE-PARTY CONFERENCE PROSPECTS.

The Labour Correspondent of The Times writes:—It may not be known until next week whether a three-party conference can be arranged to negotiate a settlement of the dispute in the coal industry. The hint by the Chancellor of the Exchequer that if the Government set up an industrial court the Mining Association would have to attend as a national body does not seem to be regarded seriously by the Association. The view taken yesterday was that the coal-owners could be summoned to attend as witnesses, but that the conditions of the industry would make it essential that their evidence should be on district rather than on national lines. Doubt is expressed, too, whether the Miners' Federation would agree to submit their case to such a court, and it is recalled that the Federation refused to appear before the Court of Inquiry held in July last year.

IN THE COALFIELDS.

INCREASED NUMBERS AT WORK.

One hundred and three pits were raising coal in the Nottinghamshire and Derbyshire area yesterday, compared with 98 on Monday. The total increase in returned miners in the Midlands is 1,597.

The figures are as follow:—

	Monday.	Tuesday.	Increase.
Warwickshire	5,506	5,862	356
Leicester	2,198	2,277	79
Cannock	5,255	5,621	376
Notts and Derby	21,853	22,639	786
Lanarkshire	6,597	6,674	77

For the week ending September 4, 34,976 tons of coal were moved over the London, Midland and Scottish Railway from the Warwickshire pits. This is in addition to an amount, estimated at 7,000 tons, distributed locally by road and canal. It compares with 28,310 tons for the previous week.

LANCASHIRE AND CHESHIRE.

A special delegate conference of the Lancashire and Cheshire Miners' Federation was held at Bolton yesterday, when a resolution was passed to resist any interference with hours and wages, and calling upon members to maintain an unbroken unity.

RELIEF IN DURHAM.

The new and reduced scale of relief to persons affected by the coal stoppage, issued by Mr. Norman Batterbury, who was appointed last week to supersede Chester-le-Street Guardians, insists upon prior production by single men of medical certificates, showing them to be so reduced by privation as to be incapable of working. Cuts are made in school children's free meals. Relief to miners' dependents is to be in kind, the maximum value allowed to any household being 35s. 10,000 relief cases arise out of the stoppage.

A conference of County Durham Labour Boards of Guardians has decided to place the Chester-le-Street case before the Executives of the Trades Union Congress, the Labour Party, and the Miners' Federation, and to send a deputation to the Minister of Health.

BONDS OF EMPIRE.

IMPERIAL CONFERENCE PROPOSALS.

SPEECHES BY MR. COATES AND GEN. HERTZOG.

Farewell speeches on the policy they intend to adopt at the Imperial Conference were made yesterday by General Hertzog (South Africa) and Mr. Coates (New Zealand).

The South African Prime Minister said that he was convinced that the surest guarantee of South Africa's future welfare and prosperity was by co-operation within the British Empire.

The loyalty of New Zealand to Great Britain was emphasised by Mr. Coates in a long speech, in which he stated that their great objective was to bind the Empire together.

HELPED BY BRITAIN.

NEW ZEALAND'S ONE OBJECTIVE.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
AUCKLAND, N.Z., Tuesday.

The Prime Minister, Mr. Coates, who is leaving for England to attend the forthcoming Imperial Conference, received an enthusiastic farewell yesterday, when he addressed a meeting of his constituents at Kaipara Harbour, and dealt with a number of important Imperial questions.

He realised, he said, the importance of the Imperial Conference, and how essential it was for New Zealand to be represented at it. No other Constitution offered the freedom and liberty that ruled under the stystem existing in the Dominions, and they had been helped along by the Mother country. No doubt existed in the minds of New Zealanders as to where they stood within the Empire or about their loyalty to Great Britain. Their great objective must be to bind the Empire together.

"We must keep New Zealand British," he declared. "If others adopt New Zealand as their own country they should become loyal to our Constitution and our flag."

IMPERIAL DEFENCE.

New Zealand could wholeheartedly subscribe to the ideal of the League of Nations, he continued. It could be made so perfect as to prevent conflict, but it was absolutely necessary to have sufficient naval protection while working to further the League's objective. As they had accepted their maturity they must accept more responsibility in the protection of trade routes and their defence. Great Britain had carried the load for a long time, and was now hard up against it. They could gradually accept responsibilities that would be of vital assistance to the Mother land.

BRITISH WORKMEN PREFERRED.

With special reference to trade, Mr. Coates said:—

"We owe a preference to British workmen against those not of our race. Possibly manufacturers at home can be brought to realise the needs of Colonial people, and will make an effort to satisfy their requirements. More often than not, we are now unable to get a suitable motor vehicle, except from makers outside Great Britain. There is a great opportunity for cementing the bonds of the Empire by improved trade relations, and it is coming about."

IMMIGRATION POLICY.

Mr. Coates defended New Zealand's immigration policy.

"We must," he said, "bring out as many immigrants as this country can carry, but not so many as to cause unemployment or depression in New Zealand's total trade. Exports and imports with Great Britain last year amounted to about £118,000,000, being greater than her trade with Russia before the war. Great Britain's trade with Australia and New Zealand, combined, was greater than her trade with Europe."

NATIONAL STATUS.

GENERAL HERTZOG WANTS CO-OPERATION.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
CAPE TOWN, Tuesday.

In the course of his farewell speech, General Hertzog referred to the difference stated to exist between Mr. Bruce and himself on the advisability of "having our national status authoritatively declared to the world."

"Mr. Bruce," he continued, "must evidently be under the impression that I spoke for the other Dominions as well as for South Africa, but that was not my intention. I consistently abstained from confusing the requirements of the other Dominions with those of South Africa. With the consciousness that I am the representative of a free and independent nation, fully accepted into the comity of nations, I shall proceed to the Imperial Conference in the full conviction that in our relations with Great Britain and the other Dominions as a Comonwealth of Free Nations there lies the surest guarantee of our future welfare and prosperity, and with the sincerest intention of co-operating in making that Commonwealth a blessing to us all.

"But that can only be on the basis of equal and absolute national freedom to us all, frankly and openly known, and, I declare, on that basis and that basis alone shall we attain to wholehearted national co-operation, without which the Commonwealth of Nations must prove a fatal illusion."

The Premier had a splendid reception from a remarkably numerous audience. There was, however, a certain amount of good-humoured dissent from various references he made to the Union Jack. General Hertzog disclaimed any intention of giving offence by such references.

NEW FREE STATE PARTY.

oratory, family ties, the desire for change and the many other factors which affect an election may well bring us a Dail with a membership composed of fairly equal numbers of each of the many politicians.

The true Irishman—and by him is meant the man who places the real peace and the economic development and welfare of his country before all things—may well pause before he casts his vote, and by a wrong selection assists in the election of a Dail such as has been suggested: a Dail which, by kaleidoscopic combinations, can and will attack and defeat all constructive efforts for economic advancement, and, when there is no longer anything to destroy, dissolve to a fresh election, with its consequent expense and doubtful advantage to the nation.

There is an old saying that the devil you know is better than the unknown quantity, and, with this in mind, the views of Dr. Parker Willis, the American Chairman of the Banking Commission, give matter for thought. In effect, he says that our obligations are small, our credit high, and that we are progressing on the right road to economic security. The power and credit of a nation are measured by its wealth. Under great difficulties the present devil has done much to consolidate our position. Let us be certain that in hunting him back into the outer darkness we know of a new one who will serve us better and will not make us poorer and of less account among the nations.

It were better far to keep him in the light where we can see him, and provide a policeman in the shape of a sound, united Opposition, who will ensure that he observes the rules of the road.—Yours, etc.,

SERIOUS CHARGE AGAINST A WOMAN.

At the Carrickfergus Petty Sessions yesterday, Susan Ainsworth, of Cloughfin, Islandmagee, was sent for trial, charged with attempted suicide and also with the attempted murder of her infant daughter, Katherine, at Whitehead, on August 19th. The magistrates allowed bail.

NAVAL FIGHT AT YANGTSE

TO RELIEVE SEIZED SHIPS.

BRITISH OFFICERS AND MEN KILLED.

CHINESE GENERAL'S RUSE.

THREE British naval officers and four men have fallen in the course of an engagement between British gunboats and the Chinese forces, under General Yang Sen, who had seized a number of British ships at Wanhsien, on the Yangtse.

General Yang Sen was approached and asked to release the seized ships, on condition that an inquiry should be held and compensation should be paid if it was found that they had been at fault. He refused to release them on any condition, and thereupon a couple of gunboats were sent to attempt their release.

The gunboats, however, were shelled heavily by field guns and other armament from both sides of the river, and after a stubborn fight they withdrew.

THE CASUALTIES.

INCIDENTS OF THE FIGHT.

PEKING, Tuesday, 11.20 p.m.

The latest reports state that three officers and four men on board the steamer Kaiwo were killed in the firing at Wanhsien, on the Yangtse, on September 5. A considerable number of men were wounded, but no details are available.

It will be recalled that the merchant steamer Kaiwo, manned by a naval detachment, was accompanying H.M.S. Widgeon in an attempt to release two British ships, the Wantung and the Wanhsien, which had been seized by Chinese troops. It appears that when the firing started the crews of the Widgeon and the Kaiwo gallantly resolved not to leave in Chinese hands the six officers of the captive vessels. These consisted of the captain, the mate and the engineer in each case. The remainder of the crews were Chinese.

The officers of the steamer Wanhsien were safely taken off, and also the captain of the Wantung. The Wantung was heavily fired upon by the Chinese, and thereupon the mate and engineer attempted to swim to a French gunboat nearby. The engineer succeeded in reaching the gunboat, but it is reported that the mate was hit by a bullet while swimming and was drowned. Thus only the two steamers now remain at Wanhsien City, with their Chinese crews, who are unlikely to be maltreated.

The crews of the Widgeon and the Kaiwo carried out their part in this action with characteristic self-sacrifice, and their bearing was beyond all praise.—(Reuter.)

AUTHORITATIVE ACCOUNT.

CHINESE GENERAL'S TACTICS.

The Press Association is informed that on the information at present available the following may be regarded as an authoritative account of the incident at Wanhsien, on the upper Yangtse, in which casualties were suffered by British naval forces in attempting to rescue two British ships which had been seized and detained by General Yang Sen, an adherent of Wu Pei-fu:—

On August 29 the British steamer Wanliu arrived at Yun Yang, forty miles below Wanhsien. As she was discharging passengers, and apparently still under way, Chinese soldiers came on board, and another sampan full of soldiers also approached. Fire was opened on the Wanliu from both banks of the river, and the soldiers on board rushed the bridge and engine-room. The ship's officers drove the Chinese soldiers off the bridge, but meanwhile the other sampan, which had been trying to come alongside while the Wanliu was still under way, fouled another boat and sank. The soldiers already on board then seized the campradore of the Wanliu and threatened to kill her captain, and remained on board while the ship proceeded on her journey to Wanhsien. When she arrived there H.M.S. Cockchafer turned the soldiers off, and the Wanliu proceeded.

TWO OTHER SEIZURES.

On August 30, General Yang Sen seized two other vessels belonging to the same British company—the Wantung and the Wanhsien, and placed three hundred soldiers on board them, apparently as a reprisal for the accidental sinking of the Sampan full of his soldiers. The ships were anchored alongside H.M.S. Cockchafter, and Chinese soldiers were posted behind cover, with their rifles trained on the Cockchafer, which was heavily out-numbered and immobilised.

General Yang Sen refused to negotiate with the commanding officer of the Cockchafer. His Majesty's Minister at Penking sent a message to Wu Pei-fu, at Hankow, asking him to telegraph instructions to Yang Sen to withdraw his soldiers, guaranteeing compensation if it were proved that any British ship had been to blame.

His Majesty's Consul at Chungking proceeded to Wanhsien on a river steamer, and on September 2 reported to His Majesty's Minister that he had had a four hours' interview with Yang Sen, who was unyielding, and declined to withdraw his troops, except on conditions that would have allowed him to extract compensation from the company, without regard to the actual facts of the case.

NEGOTIATIONS.

On receipt of this report, His Majesty's Minister instructed His Majesty's Consul at Hungking to endeavour to secure the release of the two ships by proposing to Yang Sen:—

(1)—That an inquiry should be held into the circumstances of the accidental sinking of the junk by the Wanliu.

(2)—That the British officers should be released and the Chinese soldiers withdrawn from the Wantung and the Wanhsien, which should then be detained in custody of a British gunboat pending the arrival of the Wanliu.

(3)—That a sum mutually to be agreed upon should be deposited with some person or institution at Wanhsien or Chungking, pending the result of the findings of the Court or Arbitration Board.

In spite of these conciliatory proposals, General Yang Sen remained obdurate, and his attitude stiffened to one of defiance. It was only after all attempts at an amicable settlement had failed and in view of the dangerous and humiliating position of the two British vessels and H.M.S. Cockchafer, that H.M.S. Widgeon and a merchant steamer, Kiawo, manned by a naval detachment which had been ordered to proceed from Ichang to Wanhsien, were authorised to use force as a last resource

THE ENGAGEMENT.

On September 5th the naval forces attempted to effect the release of the two steamers with their six British officers. They were assailed with very heavy field-gun and rifle fire, to which they replied. They eventually retired. The captain of one of the merchant vessels appears to have escaped, but there is no news of the five other mercantile officers held prisoners.

NO ARMAMENT RACE.

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S VIEW EXPLAINED.

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

In amplification of the references to disarmament made in the speech of August 18th by Mr. Kellogg, the Secretary of State, President Coolidge's attitude was more fully outlined yesterday at the Summer White House, and emphasis was laid on the President's determined opposition to any United States naval or aerial building programme which might cause competition with other nations.

The President is interested in limiting armaments as a means of reducing taxation and preventing warlike feeling, and it was explained that he is determined to avoid giving any Power an incentive to start an armaments construction race against the United States.—(Per Press Association, copyright.)

CINEMA FIRE.

heroism in trying to save his financée is one of the chief topics of conversation in this district. He was to have been married tomorrow in the little church beneath the shadow of which his sweetheart now lies.

He was on duty in the hall, he told me, and was standing near the centre. The first he knew of anything untoward was when he heard a cry of "Fire!" behind him.

"I grasped two girls," he said, "and rushed for the exit. Somebody shouted from the door to go back, that there was no danger. The two girls were pulled away from me. I rushed over to May O'Brien, my fiancée, and we got caught in the crowd in the middle of the hall, and went towards the door.

STRUGGLING CROWD.

"A great crowd was struggling there to get out—I then tried to knock down the partition, but did not succeed. I shouted to the people at the top to follow my example. I saw a terrible sight, where the people were behaving like savage beasts, mauling, tearing and struggling with one another. They were holding one another in frenzied, deadly grip. They were shouting, screaming and fighting. I did not know where the girl was. The crowd had knocked her out of my hands and separated us.

"By then the hall was a blazing inferno. The smoke was terrible, and it was a miracle I was not suffocated. The crowd at the back were behaving like a hive of beasts; the men knocking down the women and children in their frenzy.

"Flames were all around us when I rushed out of the exit and down the half-burned staircase. Going around to the back I helped an old man out of the window, and then a woman whom we found to be dead from the heat and suffocation. The whole thing seemed to have taken only four minutes. I got burned then and could do no more."

PRESS COMMENTS.

STRICT REGULATIONS NEEDED

The Daily Telegraph:—Sympathy in the face of such overwhelming horror will certainly be evoked from all corners of the world. By establishing its melancholy pre-eminence as the scene of the most far-reaching cinema disaster ever suffered in these islands, Drumcollogher has won for itself a tragic kind of fame. We may be sure that many years will pass before a village, hitherto hardly heard of beyond Limerick, will be forgotten. We may hope at the same time that this fire, by its very frightfulness, will burn into the minds of local authorities, even in the remotest rural districts, the imperative necessity of taking stringent precautions wherever cinema performances are licensed. That the wooden edifice on the upper floor of which the fire blazed out was utterly unfitted to be used for any public gathering need not at this moment be stressed. The fact has been made only too plain to all concerned. This experience should, however, silence in the future the complaints that are sometimes heard in this country against what is stigmatised as "red tape" fussiness.

The Liverpool Post says:—If the disaster inspires the Free State authorities to institute more stringent regulations for cinemas in out-of-the-way parts, some good will come out of this terrible affair. On the other hand, it is very melancholy to reflect that public vigilance in such matters has so often to be sharpened by calamity involving, as in this case, the loss of many human lives. One shrinks from trying to visualise the scene when the frenzied victims tried to escape by the only two windows in the theatre. It is shocking beyond words that their opportunities to get out of the blazing structure were so tragically derisive. Irish opinion ought to be profoundly moved by the disclosure of ineffective supervision by the local authorities. The Drumcollogher cinema was no better than a death-trap.

The London Star:—In England the very strict regulations and by-laws, the wisdom of which has been proved over and over again, would prevent a cinematograph exhibition from being given under such conditions as were the case in Drumcollogher. It is certain that similar legislation will be enforced in Ireland after such a terrible warning.

The London Evening News:—"It is a horror that should never happen that people should be imprisoned inside barred windows unable to help themselves, beyond the reach of help outside, till the flames reach them. It is good to know that such a thing is impossible in London, and, indeed, in nearly every part of England and Scotland, and Ireland too. The local authorities have been given the power by Parliament, and they exert it so that the standard of safety in a cinematograph theatre is higher than in many private houses.

NORAH HANNIGAN.

"A most lovable child" was the description given yesterday by a friend of Norah Mary Hannigan, of 46 Adolphus street, Deptford, the eleven-year-old London girl who perished in the cinema fire at Drumcollogher.

"She was very nervous and highly strung," her school teacher told a reporter, "and one does not like to think of what she must have suffered in the panic. She was a typical Irish girl, with long red curls and a rather pale complexion, and was popular in the school. She was the youngest of a fairly large family, and her parents were devoted to her. She was due back at school to-day and one of her school friends had a picture card on Saturday saying she would see her to-day."

The following resolution was unanimously passed by the Belfast Presbytery of the Irish Presbyterian Church yesterday:—"We express our deep sympathy with all those terribly bereaved in the heartrending calamity that has befallen the village of Drumcollogher, and also with all the sufferers; and it is hereby resolved that this expression of sympathy be conveyed to the representatives of the religious communities in the district."

The Rev. J. A. Duke, Chairman of the Dublin Synod of the Methodist Church in Ireland, last night sent the following communication to Canon Begley:—"The Dublin Synod of the Methodist Church in Ireland, assembled to-day, has heard with deep distress of the deplorable loss of life by the conflagration in Drumcollogher on the 5th instant. The Synod feels the sincerest sympathy with those who have been thus suddenly and sadly bereaved, and respectfully begs the parish priest to convey to them this expression of the Synod's sorrow and the assurance of its prayers."

The following message, signed by the Rev. Dr. Isaac Herzog, M.A., D.Litt., Chief Rabbi of the Jewish Community in the Irish Free State, and the Rev. A. Gudansky, Minister, Dublin Hebrew Congregation, has been telegraphed to Canon Begley:—"Heartbroken at the appalling calamity, we ask you to convey the profound sympathy of the Jewish community to the people of Drumcollogher, and to the sufferers in particular."

Other messages were sent by the Earl of Clancarty, Alderman J. J. Wyley, Mayor of Waterford, the Mayor of Limerick, the Mayor of Clonmel, Canon Lee, Kilkee; Messrs. Browne and Nolan, Dublin; Mr. P. Clancy, T.D., and Mr. O'Keeffe, solicitor, Chicago.

ARRESTED WHILE ON LEAVE.

BANK OFFICIAL SENT FOR TRIAL.

BOMBAY, Tuesday.

Mr. L. Evans, chief accountant of the Bombay Branch of the Hong Kong and Shanghai Bank, who was stopped at Aden, on his way home to England on leave, and brought back to Bombay, was to-day committed for trial on charges of criminal breach of trust and falsification of accounts in respect of a sum of 540,000 rupees.

In the course of the hearing, the prosecution stated that the whole of the securities which, it was alleged, were missing had been recovered.—(Reuter.)

THE FRENCH DOCKERS' LOCK-OUT.

DUNKERQUE, Tuesday.

After a three months' lock-out, the delegates of the dockers came to an agreement with the employers for a scale of wages varying with the official figures for the cost of living. At a general meeting to-day, however, the dockers refused to ratify the decisions taken by their delegates, and consequently the lock-out continues.—(Reuter.)

NATIONAL BANK CLERKSHIPS.

THE INQUEST.

NO APPARATUS TO FIGHT FIRE.

The inquest on the victims of the disaster was opened at Drumcollogher on Monday evening and was adjourned until next Monday. After William Forde, the owner of the cinema, and Patrick C. Downing, the operator, had given evidence,

Both men admitted that no precautions had been taken against fire.

William Forde, of Drumcollogher, who had hired the hall and the films for the entertainment, was the first witness. Before he gave evidence he was cautioned by the Coroner.

He said that the projection machine was placed in the centre of the hall, about fifteen feet from the door. It was totally unprotected. The films were on a table about 10 feet away on the side, and they were also unprotected. There was a candle burning on one end of the table. There was no fire extinguishing apparatus in the hall, and there were no buckets of water or sand.

THE FIRE.

Downing, the operator, was assisted by two boys, William Quirke and Bartholomew Barry. Fifteen minutes after the machine had started one of the films on the table caught fire.

"I made an attempt," said Forde, "with some others, to quench the fire, but did not succeed, and the rest of the films then took fire suddenly. I then went to the end of the hall, and I could not get out, and I returned to the entrance door and got out. When the films took fire the people rushed for the door, and some of them went to the back of the hall, and they could not get out there. Part of the roof was on fire when I got out."

He added that he had no experience of cinema work.

OPERATOR'S STORY.

Patrick Christopher Downing, 42 MacCurtain street, Cork, who was also cautioned by the Coroner, was the next witness. He said that he had had ten or twelve years' experience of cinematograph work. He arrived in Drumcollogher on Sunday, bringing with him the films in cases.

"I was working the machine," he said, "when I looked around and saw a glare on the table. I immediate cut off the current from the machine, and this automatically lit up the hall. I ran over, and just as I got to the table I clapped my hands on the burning films."

Asked by Superintendent O'Reilly if there was a lighted candle on the table, Downing said: "I believe there was, but I did not see it."

Superintendent O'Reilly—When you went over to extinguish the fire, how many films were on fire?

Downing—Two.

How did you try to extinguish them? I ran over and clapped my hands on them, but unfortunately someone came along and hit the burning film with a cap, and the flame went on to the other films.

"KEEP COOL."

What did the crowd do at this time? The crowd stayed for a while as it expected the fire would be quenched; then they ran to the door, and I shouted, "Keep cool, keep your seats." But they rushed down to the door. I stayed there for a good bit. "Honestly, whether it was the excitement or not, as true as God is above in Heaven, I thought there was nobody else in the hall when I rushed out myself."

There was a general stampede, went on Downing, after which they sat for a moment again, but then a few rushed to the door and others must have rushed to the back of the hall, where they were trapped. The witness here apparently was overcome with emotion.

The Superintendent—How long did you remain?

Downing—I stopped until I thought every-one had gone out. I stopped in it as long as I thought it was safe, and I was not burned. I did not get hurt until I got out.

Coroner—How did you injure your hand?

Downing—I went to the back of the hall and I went up a ladder and tried to rescue some people, and when I was bringing out somebody the ladder fell down on top of me and my hand was injured.

Superintendent O'Reilly—When did the floor catch fire?

Was the table completely on fire? It was, and the flames were running around the wainscotting.

What about the roof? The roof had not caught fire when I came out, but when I tried to get back again the flames were bursting through the door.

A BROKEN LADDER.

Downing added that he ran out into the street and called on some men to help, and then went around to the back with the Civic Guard and some others. They obtained a ladder and put it up against the wall and some climbed on to the roof of the hall to try to pull out some people, but the ladder fell down and the whole place was in a mass of flames in a few minutes.

The Superintendent—"There was no fire extinguishing apparatus in the hall?"

Downing—"No."

"And there was no means of exit except through the entrance door?" "That is so."

"Is it usual to start a performance like that without making proper arrangements for the safety of the people?" "When I came down here I did not want to start the thing at all. I did not like the place, but Mr. Forde said that he would like to start the first performance that night."

The Coroner—"You did not think it was suitable for the performance?"

Downing—"No; I did not."

The Superintendent—"As an operator of twelve years' standing, you know it is your duty to take all precautions to prevent accidents?" "Yes."

The Superintendent—"And when the films are not being used in the machine they should be enclosed in metal cases?" "Yes."

The Coroner—"Were there any metal cases with the films?"

Downing—"No; I brought them in a portmanteau without any cases."

The Coroner—"You know that was not safe?"

Downing—"I put them on a table fifteen feet away, and there were two people in charge of them."

The inquest was adjourned.

PREVIOUS DISASTERS.

January, 1906—200 deaths at Boyerstown, Penn.

SIR,—The fire on Sunday evening in the cinema at Drumcollogher has not only in my mind, but, I am sure, throughout the whole world, caused intense horror. I am writing as an insurance man, with over twenty years' managerial knowledge, to state that the company which I represent does not insure cinemas in country districts where the buildings have been converted, instead of being specially built for the purpose of these entertainments. Such buildings, in my opinion, may be death-traps.

I quite agree with the concluding lines of your leading article, that "the Government must institute an instant and drastic inquiry into the whole matter." The so-called fire-proof chambers that are erected even in some specially built cinemas are inadequate to prevent fire from spreading.—Yours, etc.,

GERMANY'S SEAT IN THE LEAGUE.

SOME CRITICISMS.

LIVELY DEBATE ON PLAN FOR NEW SEATS.

GENEVA, Tuesday.

It is evident that a good many delegates to the Assembly of the League are not pleased with the plan adopted for the increase in the membership of the Council of the League, whereby, in addition to the giving of a permanent seat to Germany, three new non-permanent seats are to be created.

The arguments against the increase are, first, that a council of 14 members is too large a body for practical purposes; secondly, that, in raising the number of seats in an attempt to satisfy Spain, Brazil and Poland, the League has, to a certain extent, yielded to blackmail, and set up a bad precedent; finally, that the original object of the change no longer exists, since Spain and Brazil has retired from Geneva.

The most prominent critics of the arrangement at present are members of the Norwegian delegation. Dr. Nansen's intervention in the Assembly yesterday was evidence of their discontent. The same spirit is shown in a leading article published this morning in the Journal de Geneve, which suggests that the Council has forced the hands of the Assembly. It writes:—

> It remains to be seen whether a syndicate of Powers has the right to capture the mechanism of the League, and use it for its own ends. Some of the recent deliberations of the Council have been very disturbing in this respect. If one or two statesmen can settle everything without appeal before coming to Geneva, what is the point of having a League of Nations?

This passage expresses in a rather extreme form the views of some of the smaller members of the League. There was some speculation this afternoon as to whether a demonstration will be made to-morrow against the Council's decision. The Assembly could, if it liked, by a majority vote, refer the matter back to a committee for further examination. This would delay Germany's entry into the Council, though not her admission into the League. It is most unlikely that this will happen, though voices of protest will, no doubt, be heard.

TO-DAY'S PROCEDURE.

LIVELY DEBATE EXPECTED IN ASSEMBLY.

FROM REUTER'S CORRESPONDENT.
GENEVA, Tuesday.

The procedure to be followed at to-morrow's session of the Assembly with reference to the admission of Germany to the League, with a permanent seat on the Council, and the increase in the number of non-permanent seats, gave rise to some discussion and divergence of views in the course of the meeting of the Assembly's Business Committee.

Some of the members were of opinion that the whole of the Council's resolution of September 4th should be submitted to the Assembley en bloc, and a vote taken thereon, while others favoured separating the resolution into two parts—namely, voting first on Germany's admission and the allocation to her of a permanent seat, and next voting on the increase of non-permanent seats.

It was finally decided that the Committee should recommend the Assembly to proceed as follows:—To vote in one resolution on the election of Germany to the League, and in another the allocation of a permanent seat to Germany, and the increasing of a number of non-permanent seats by three.

The Committee will further report regarding the method of election, etc., to the first Assembly Committee.

Dealing with legal and constitutional questions, the President of the Assembly is to make an appeal to the good sense of the Assembly to agree to the foregoing procedure, but, as there are some dissentients, an interesting and possibly lively debate is expected to-morrow.

COMMITTEE'S DECISION.

The First Committee (legal and constitutional questions), which had to deal specially with the admission of Germany and the alteration of the Council, after a brief sitting to-day decided to refer the question of German admission direct to the Assembly without discussion.

So this matter will, as expected, be brought up at to-morrow's Assembly meeting. It was also decided to defer all debate as to the alteration of the Council until after the arrival of the Germans on Friday, except the alteration of the number of non-permanent seats to nine, the discussion of which will come up at to-morrow's meeting of the Assembly.

FRENCH VIEWS.

PARIS, Tuesday.

The opening of the seventh Assembly of the League of Nations is widely commented on in the French Press, which, while generally expressing satisfaction at the consecration about to be bestowed on the policy of Locarno, regrets that the League's position as a universal institution will be weakened by empty seats.

"The two vacant chairs opposite the German seat, which will at last be occupied," writes the Temps, "is not a result upon which we can greatly congratulate ourselves."

The Temps urges that a determined effort should be made to remedy the situation, which does not consolidate the moral authority of Geneva, and suggests that Spain might not remain deaf to an unanimous manifestation by the whole Assembly.

The Liberte remarks that if Spain withdraws from international life and international duties, the whole weight of maintaining order in Morocco will fall on France.

Several papers call attention to the fact that M. Nintchitch having been elected President of the Assembly, the German delegates will be welcomed, on behalf of all the members of the League, by a Serbian—that is to say by a native of the little country over which the waves of aggression first broke in 1914.

THE RAID ON BELFAST LABOUR EXCHANGE.

GOVERNMENT EMPLOYE IN CUSTODY.

Francis Hoey, a clerk employed by the Northern Ireland Ministry of Labour, was taken into custody in Belfast last night on the charge of the larceny of £500, the property of the Northern Ministry.

The arrest is a sequel to the reported raid on Thursday last on the Shankill road branch of the Labour Exchange, which was stated to have been raided by two armed men, who "held up" the clerk and decamped with the money.

THE LATE REV. MICHAEL BURKE.

The remains of the Rev. Michael Burke, Parish Priest of Parke, County Mayo, were buried in the local churchyard yesterday after Requiem Mass, at which the Archbishop of Tuam (Dr. Gilmartin) presided.

U.S. MARKETS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAMS.)
NEW YORK, Tuesday.

Stocks opened irregular. A violent rise in General Motors and other high-priced issues in the final dealings, steadied the market, after some of the leading issues had weakened on realising and bear selling, due to the higher money rates, and Pullman, General Motors, Woolworth and Du Pont rose 6 to 8 points. The list generally showed a rising tendency in sympathy with the sustained investment absorption of dividend-paying Railroads and pool operations among Equipment, Public Utility and Oil shares. Some early selling of Motors was attributed to fears of a further price cut and the continued liquidation of Stewart Warner, which touched a new low level for the year on the expiration of the pool agreement. American Beet Sugar Preferred declined 4½ points to 61¼, the lowest price for four years. The market closed firm. Government Bonds irregular; Railroad Bonds firm. The day's sales totalled 1,930,000 shares.

Money on call closed firm at 5 p.c. bid and 5¼ p.c. asked. Business done during the day ranged from 4½ p.c. to 5 p.c., with the ruling rate 4½ p.c. The last loan was made at 5 p.c. Sterling exchange lower. Silver ½c. lower at 61½c.

KINGSTOWN'S BIG TANK.

URBAN COUNCIL'S NEW SCHEME.

At last night's meeting of the Kingstown Urban Council, Councillor Devitt made an interesting proposal in view of the holding of the next Tailteann Games. It was that the Council should provide a full-sized swimming bath at the local baths. This suggestion has the approval of the Leinster Swimming Association.

Mr. Devitt said that the work of laying down such a swimming tank was one with which the Council could occupy itself, and was a scheme in which the bulk of the money would not be spent on materials—it would go in wages. They had found that a certain sum of money could be borrowed from the Council's own funds for the purpose of providing a much-needed attraction to the district, and, at the same time, provide for the largest number of the unemployed.

When the Tailteann Games were last held in Dublin a sufficiently large-sized swimming tank could not be found in which to hold the water contests, and they were obliged to hold them in some place in the Zoological Gardens. The Swimming Association would not allow their members to use it again. The Council's present establishment had suffered through having no large swimming tank, and all the swimming clubs were compelled to go to Blackrock to hold their galas and contests. The Council would have an assured revenue from a full-sized tank. The Baths Committee had already got into touch with the Leinster Swimming Association, who were prepared to appoint two members of the Association to act with the Committee which would deal with the scheme. If the work was put in hand during this winter the swimming tank would be available for next season, and certainly would be ready for the next Tailtean games.

MONEY WELL SPENT.

Mr. W. J. Kerslake said that they had the money; let them go on with the work.

Mr. Good said that such a tank was wanted, and if the Council spent £20,000 on the scheme it would be well spent money.

Mr. Cook pointed out that the Development Committee had already resolved on such a scheme, but thought that the Construction Committee was the proper body to carry out the work of laying out a full-sized tank.

Mr. Devitt said that he did not mind what committee undertook the work so long as it was done.

Several other Councillors spoke in support of the proposal.

Mr. Dixon, speaking for Labour, said that he thought that the money available should be applied to building eight or nine houses, and not be devoted solely for the benefit of a certain class.

On Mr. Devitt's suggestion, the Council agreed that the matter be immediately taken up by the Construction Committee.

In order to expedite the work, Mr. M. F. O'Brien proposed, and it was agreed, that the Committee be given power to offer a public prize to architects and engineers to submit plans.

FRANCE'S WHEAT SUPPLY.

PHOSFERINE for HAPPINESS

Mrs. IRIS GREENWOOD writes:—

"FOR years I have found Phosferine a splendid tonic for keeping me well; and not only feeling, but looking well too. In fact, I have been fortunate enough on several occasions to win prizes in various Beauty contests. My little girl, too, was recently placed fourth in the Children's Beauty Competition organised by the "Daily Graphic," and as the first three prizes were taken by provincial children, she was actually voted the prettiest little girl in London. I find giving her an occasional dose of Phosferine keeps her bright and happy, and it seems (if I may say so) to develop thereby her good nature. The way to keep children happy is to keep them well, and Phosferine will do this, making them strong to resist children's ailments and prevalent epidemics."—(March 10th, 1926).

From the very first day you take PHOSFERINE you will gain new confidence, new life, new endurance. It makes you eat better, and sleep better, and you will look as fit as you feel. Phosferine is given with equally good results to the children.

THE BETTING TAX IN ENGLAND.

TURF GUARDIANS' PROPOSAL.

Mr. W. J. Randall, the Secretary of the Turf Guardians' Society, yesterday pointed out that there had been a lot of misunderstanding among the racing public regarding the effect of the resolution passed at the conference on the previous evening. The resolution, Mr. Randall said, provided that members of the Turf Guardians' Society would collect the betting tax by charging their clients 3½ per cent. on their gross winnings and 3½ per cent. on the stake invested to produce these winnings, and there seemed to be a common impression that in this way the bookmakers would be charging their clients twice and recovering from their clients more money than the bookmakers would have to pay over to the tax collector.

That was not the case, said Mr. Randall; for, on the other hand, this method of passing on the tax left the bookmaker to bear himself a portion of the tax. Bookmakers cannot possibly pay the 3½ per cent. tax out of the profits that they are making under the present conditions. Backers who do not recognise these very certain truths, and who go elsewhere for more generous terms, are quite likely to find that if they had the best of the betting they will get the worst of the settling.

If a backer prefers to have the exact amount of the tax charged to him in his weekly account on all his bets, whether he wins or loses, it will, no doubt, be quite easy to meet his wishes. There seems to be among backers a quite natural objection to having a betting loss increased by a tax demand, but the objectors are for the most part quite willing to submit to a small reduction from their winnings in respect of the tax. It was to fall in line with this argument that the resolution to apply the tax only to winnings was passed.

LIFEBOAT WORK.

V.C.'S APPEAL FOR SUPPORT.

Captain the Hon. E. B. S. Bingham, who won the Victoria Cross at the Battle of Jutland was the principal speaker at the meeting of the Bangor Branch of the Lifeboat Institution.

He appealed for generous support for a great national and humane institution that was responsible for the saving of lives from shipwreck round the 5,000 miles of coast, and particularly for sufficient support to defray the cost of maintaining the twenty-five lifeboats round the Irish coast. These boats, boat-houses, and slipways had been placed by the institution in London, and they had spent in capital outlay over £150,000. The institution was carrying on the work (with the active assistance of local committees in Ireland) at the invitation of the Governments of Northern ireland and of the Free State, from whom they do not ask for a penny contribution. (Applause.) Ireland would have fifteen motor lifeboats within a year, each boat costing from £7,000 to £10,000, as against the cost of a large sailing lifeboat in 1910 of less than £1,500. More motor lifeboats were needed, because they were more efficient and can rescue lives in spite of a gale that makes life-saving by a rowing and sailing lifeboat impossible.

Mr. Herbert G. Solomon also addressed the meeting.

On the motion of Lady Clanmorris, it was resolved:—"That this meeting heartily approves of the heroic and national work carried on by the brave Irishmen round the coast, and resolves that a branch of the Royal National Lifeboat Institution be formed for Bangor and district."

BRAY WORKMEN'S WAGES.

At a meeting of the Bray Urban District Council last night a report was submitted of a conference regarding the workmen's wages, recommending a "cut" of 3s. per week, to take effect in October, 1s. in January, and 1s. in April.

Mr. Mulvey opposed the "cut," and attacked the representatives of the National Union of Railwaymen and the Transport Union for agreeing to the reduction.

Mr. Dunne contended that it was the Council's men who agreed to accept a reduction of 3s., rather than have a reduction of 7s. enforced on them.

Mr. R. Heatley said that the ratepayers' representatives were a lot of "jelly fish," who went begging to the unions.

The report was adopted, Messrs. Heatley and Mulvey dissenting.

THE LATE MR. D. F. CONDON.

Kingstown Urban Council last night passed a vote of condolence with the relatives of the late Mr. D. F. Condon, who died on Monday after a prolonged illness. Mr. Condon was for some twenty-two years Township Accountant. He resigned his office owing to ill-health about twelve months ago, but failed to obtain the improvement he sought in retirement.

Mr. Condon was a member of the Irish Bar. He had a distinguished career as a law student, becoming a gold medallist and auditor of his society. Mr. Condon enjoyed the esteem of a wide circle.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR.

THE REVIVAL OF IRISH.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—It is a real pleasure to me to cross pens with a good-humoured and courteous controversialist like Mr. Louis J. Walsh. There is no difference between him and me in regard to love and admiration of the Irish language. I think it is a good thing that it should be taught in the schools, and I have a great admiration for those young men and women who keep up the study of it after leaving school.

It is quite a different matter, however, when I see an attempt being made to restore Irish as the vernacular language of the rising generation of Irish children, and to rob them of their priceless possession of the English language as their mother tongue, which practically opens the world to their talent, energy and ambition. A Gaelic-speaking Ireland would now mean an isolated Ireland; and that is not my ideal for my country. I did not argue that because a thing is old it must be inefficient. For fox-hunting a horse is much more efficient than a motor car. What I do maintain is that, as a means of communication, English may be compared to a motor car and Irish to an ass and cart, as means of locomotion. Greek is said to excel in its power to express the finer shades of thought, but to-day it is almost useless as a means of general communication. A language is no use to you unless others know it, too.

As Mr. Walsh has exposed his head, I have been thinking how I could give it such a whack as would render him speechless. Here it is:—A boy is born in some remote region in the Kerry Gaeltacht. He feels that he has brains and ability. He wants to know what is going on in the outside world. To do this he must be able to read the papers—but the papers are all in English. So he must learn English in order to read the papers. Having learned English, he finds that an inexhaustible treasury of knowledge is open to him, and that the world lies at his feet. Can this be said of Irish? I think this argument ought to stretch Mr. Walsh!

Mr. Walsh refers to the recommendations of the Mulcahy Commission. One of them is that all civil servants who can speak Irish should be sent to the Gaeltacht. If this be adopted, I can prophesy that there will be a remarkable epidemic of aphasia among the said civil servants we learnt so to love in the days gone by.—Yours, etc.,

THE COAL CRISIS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—The public are informed through Press reports of interviews with Dublin coal merchants that there is no danger of a shortage of coal, supplies of Continental and American coal being available. In this connection the following extract from a leading British trade journal may be interesting, summing up, as it does, our experience in the using of foreign coal in our effort to keep our factory going and our staff employed:—

"The mills and works requiring power, who are using foreign coal, are having trying experiences. I hear of cases where firms have to burn oil with the coal, which means an extra 20/- per ton, plus the cost of the stuff bought as coal or slack. Other firms have to supplement the coal with wood to keep the boiler fires going. I have heard of another firm having to cart the coal to a refuse heap as it was absolutely useless. In the case of cotton mills, one town in East Lancashire has over forty mills closed down for want of coal, as the foreign is useless, even if they were able to pay the price demanded."

The position of manufacturers in the Free State, whose industries are not protected against Continental dumping, is anything but an enviable one at present.—Yours, etc.,

"DUBLIN MANUFACTURER."

FRANCE AND FONTENOY.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—In your issue of the 6th September you published a letter from "Pat Abroad," in which he says that the French nation have not adequately thanked Ireland for the victory at Fontenoy. Do ask "Pat" to have another look at H. Vernet's battle-piece in the Palace of Versailles. In this he represents the victorious exiles presenting the Colours of the British regiments of Guards to Louis XV. Many of the victorious party are wearing Highland uniforms—no unusual thing in those days.—Yours, etc.,

"B. W."

Dublin, September 7th, 1926.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—Your La Rochelle correspondent, "Pat Abroad," is in error when he infers that the Irish Brigade is unrepresented in historical French pictures as I have a very fine reproduction (I think from the Louvre) of a brilliant battle scene in which the Irish Brigade occupies a prominent position on the right of the French Brigade. I have wandered over the battlefield, and the scene of the Irish success is well known and readily pointed out; and every man, woman and child at Fontenoy seem to know, and can tell of, the Irish success.

In recent years this has been further accentuated by the erection of a fine Irish high cross, with a suitable inscription, in the centre of the village. It is not to be expected that short French accounts of the battle would contain full details of the conquering army. The bloody Duke of Cumberland remembered the havoc which the Irish Brigade wrought amongst his forces, and took his cruel revenge on his Stuart adversaries at Culloden a couple of years later.—Yours, etc.,

FRANCIS JOSEPH BIGGER.

Ardrigh, Belfast, September 7th, 1926.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE IRISH TIMES.

SIR,—I would like to point out that in the Dail Library at Government Offices, Upper Merrion street, there are three contemporary folio documents, London, printed 1745. One is "The Journal of the Battle of Fontenoy, published by order of His Most Christian Majesty King Louis, and now translated into English." The other two are "An Account of the Battle of Fontenoy between the Allied Armies and the French," and "An investigation of the conduct of Major-General Ingoldsby—maybe a scape-goat—at the recent Battle of Fontenoy." Perhaps, your correspondent or any others interested might find in these a more trustworthy account of the Irish Brigade than in the pictures or books which have been referred to by him.—Yours, etc.,

TERRITORIAL ARTILLERY

SHOOTING FOR THE KING'S CUP.

The King's Cup, which is competed for by Territorial heavy artillery brigades from England, Scotland and Wales, was won yesterday afternoon by the Suffolk Brigade. It was an easy victory in a competition in which the shooting was below the high standard of previous years.

The Kent Brigade, who made the best performance in the first series on Monday, and who had a good prospect of winning, finished second, and the Glamorgan Brigade were third. The contest took place at the Yaverland Battery, North-East of Sandown, Isle of Wight, under the auspices of the National Artillery Association.

DAMON'S CLEVER NECK WIN.

RECORD SALES.

From Our Travelling Correspondent.

DONCASTER, Tuesday Night.

So many things happen at this, the greatest meeting of the year in the North of England and in many respects the most interesting four days of the whole of the racing season, that it is best to take them in order. The sales began this morning on a high note and utterly and entirely falsified the predictions of the croakers. Never in the history of yearling sales has it happened that the seventh lot offered on the Tuesday morning has made 7,000 guineas, the price which Fred Darling, acting for Lord Dewar, paid for the colt by Hurry On out of the Prince Palatine mare, Inflammable, from the Buckland Stud. Sir John and Lady Fitzgerald usually sell at Newmarket, but this year some of their yearlings could not come up in July and were kept for Doncaster, with the happiest results.

A little later a filly by Flying Orb out of Tamarisk, from Ballykisteen, and a full-sister to the super-plater Globula, made 3,000 guineas, and before the morning sale was over the Aga Khan gave 4,500 guineas for the grey colt by Tetratema out of Deccaun, bred at Garristown, Co. Dublin, by Mr. A. N. Reynolds. The morning session realised the sum of 39,790 guineas, which breaks all records.

A SPLENDID DAY.

It was a gorgeous autumn day for the opening of the meeting, and the racing for variety of interest throughout could not have been surpassed. Doncaster begins with a super-selling plate, the Fitzwilliam Stakes. The start was not too good for this, and the two-year-old Chandos was crowded out. The favourite, Gavin, was never quite in the picture, and after Dawson City had looked like winning, Bright Land, who was bred by the late Mr. P. Cullinan and who started at an outside price here, came to run him out of it by half a length.

There was a big field for the Doncaster High-Weight Handicap, which Birchbroom won comfortably by half a length from the King's horse, Runnymede, who showed prominently, but did not run on nearly so well as the winner. Blueberg was third, two lengths away, and did not seem to perform well enough to give him the chance in the Cambridgeshire which some people seem to think he has. Bella Minna showed good speed, but dropped back two furlongs from home.

If the Champagne Stakes did not definitely decide the question of two-year-old superiority it may at any rate have served to explode for the time the pretensions of Hot Night, who did not even finish in the first three. The Race was won by the Stefan The Great colt, Damon, owned by the New York millionaire, Mr. T. F. Ryan and trained by Mr. Persse. He won a trifle cleverly by a neck from Call Boy, with Sickle two lengths away third. Hot Night made a bad impression in the paddock, for he was run up on the leg, was sweating heavily, and was very excitable. Damon, a nice thick-set grey colt, who looked fit and well, impressed as much as anything. Sickle was on his toes, but Mr. Lambton had not been able to give him the preparation he would have liked, as he had had a fall on the roads a few weeks ago which left him very stiff, and he had to be eased in his work for some time. Applecross looked well, and he started joint favourite with Hot Night from Damon and Sickle.

The start was not an entirely good one, for Call Boy threw his head up, lost some ground and was crossed, while Sickle was almost broadside on as the tapes went up. Damon settled down in front of Applecross, and Call Boy was then dashed up to join them. When they had gone two furlongs Hot Night took the lead, but he was soon finished with, and then Damon went on again. At the distance Call Boy challenged, but Damon held on to win a trifle cleverly.

SICKLE SHORT OF A GALLOP.

Sickle ran on under the whip, but he was obviously short of a gallop and did not last home. Mr. Frank Curzon, who owns Call Boy, had no fancy for his chance, for the colt had had an interrupted preparation and was not nearly at his best. He ran so well, however, under difficulties, as to suggest that when they meet again he will beat Damon, who had everything in his favour to-day. I am not sure, however, about his beating Sickle, who was not at his best here.

Never has there been a greater race for the Great Yorkshire Handicap than that of to-day, in which at the finish only inches separated Seradella, Winalot and Pons Asinorum. Mrs. Drummond's daughter of Orpiment winning by a short head and a head, and reversing the Ebor form with Pons Asinorum. Hercules made the running until they were coming to the turn, when Longquill took it up, only to be passed soon after by Seradella. It is possible that Wragg and Childs on Pons Asinorum and Winalot held her a little too cheaply and delayed their efforts just too long, for they failed to catch her.

Pons Asinorum challenged first, and then Childs, who had lain a long way in the rear on Winalot, came. The latter hung towards Pons Asinorum, and he, in turn, went over to Seradella, but the filly, running on with the greatest gameness, just won. If this race were run over again twice we would probably have two other different results, so little was there in it between the three. Tournesol, who started favourite, ran badly, as did Nonchalant, the three placed horses having it all to themselves.

The Glasgow Nursery does not need any description. It was won from end to end by Flashing Star, who had a four lengths margin to spare from Hard Lines.

In the last race Constantius, from Mr. Persse's stable, was well backed, but the Manton colt, Duke of Buckingham, won it.

To-morrow's race for the St. Leger needs very little discussion. I saw CORONACH at work this morning and the Beckhampton colt looked splendidly fit and well. All connected with him are full of confidence, the conditions of the going are all in his favour, and he should break the long spell of ill-luck that has attended winners of the Derby in this race. To fill the other two places I choose the French colt, MASKED RULER, and FOLIATION. FOUNDATION STONE missed the last race this afternoon and has a chance of winning the Cleveland Handicap from Melon. I like the chance of TEMPLESTOWE in the Rufford Abbey Handicap, of NUN OF KENT in the Bradgate Park Nursery and of HANDYMAN in the Tattersall Sale Stakes.

FOUR WINNERS FOR LOMBARD.

The Claremorris executive have made great efforts to bring their meeting up to date, and a fine permanent stand has now been erected, while the enclosure has been enlarged and improved. Yesterday's meeting was the first that has been held for many years, and the attendance was far below that of the old days, but for this the weather can in a large measure be blamed; for the morning bore far from a promising outlook.

Fields were for the most part on the small side, and only four turned out for the Stewards' Handicap Hurdle Race. The Sligo winner, Glenmore, was in most request, and he set his penalty at defiance and, making all the running, he won easily from Brackbawn. Slight odds were betted on Fighting Bird beating his only opponent, Silverfield, in the Traders' Plate, and this he did, as, when sent to the front at the second last fence, Fighting Bird readily put paid to the account of the other. This success for Lombard's Clonakilty stable was followed up by another when Glenoge cantered away with the Committee Plate, and, being saddled again for the Claremorris Steeplechase, the same animal scored another victory, winning by two lengths from Jink, while the third runner, Tipperary Boy II., ran out early in the contest. Pearlmore had odds laid on her for the Ladies' Plate, but Miss McDonnell's mare found the task just beyond her, and another penalised candidate in Pearleen beat her just comfortably. Cappylass, who was pulled out for the second time during the day, made the running to the straight, where she was beaten. Then Queen Chow for a moment showed in front, but the issue was really confined to the two penalised candidates. Oliver's Mint was intended to run for the Commercial Plate, but did not go to the post, and in a field of three Georgina Town easily prevailed over Attaboy, and thus scored a fourth win for Lombard's stable. M. Hynes, J. Lombard and P. Glavin were presented with silver-mounted whips as mementoes of their successes in having won the first hurdle race, steeplechase and flat race, respectively at the revived meeting. Details:—

Mr. Jos. Flood's b. or br. h. GLENMORE, by Drinmore—Symington's Pride, a, 10-4 M. Hynes 1

(Winner trained by Mitchell.)
Betting—Evens GLENMORE, 2 to 1 agst. Brackbawn, 6 to 1 19th Hole, 100 to 12 Cappy Lass.
Glenmore made the running from Cappy Lass, Brackbawn and 19th Hole, until half a mile from home, when Brackbawn took second place, but could make no impression on Glenmore, who won by two lengths; ten lengths separated second and third.

2.30—THE TRADERS' PLATE of 50 sovs. A steeplechase. 2 m.
Mr. C. O'Driscoll's br. g. FIGHTING BIRD, 6, 10-2 J. Lombard 1
Mr. J. A. Coen's SILVERFIELD, 5, 10-5 J. Hamilton 2
(Winner trained by J. Lombard.)
Betting—5 to 4 on FIGHTING BIRD.
They ran in close company to the final fence, when Fighting Bird took the lead, to win a good finish by a length and a half.

Betting.—Evens GLENOGE, 11 to 10 agst. Light Hussar, 100 to 12 Bachelor's Daisy.
Bachelor's Daisy settled down in front of Glenoge and Light Hussar, for half the journey, when Glenoge drew to the front, to win easily by twenty lengths. There was no bid for the winner.

3.45—THE CLAREMORRIS PLATE of 50 sovs. An open steeplechase. 3 m.
Mr. J. C. O'Sullivan's b. or br. g. GLENOGE, by Bridge of Earn—Columbina, a, 10-7 J. Lombard 1
Mr. S. Gourlay's JINK, a, 10-7 J. Moloney 2
Mr. M. O. Springfield's Tipperary Boy II., a, 10-12 Owner 0
(Winner trained by J. Lombard.)
Betting—2 to 1 on GLENOGE, 5 to 2 agst. Tipperary Boy II., 7 to 1 Jink.
Tipperary Boy bolted soon after the start, and Glenoge settled down from Jink, and, making the remainder of the running, won by two lengths. There was no bid for the winner.

4.15—THE LADIES' PLATE of 50 sovs. A handicap flat race. 1 m. 3 f.
Mr. H. Tully's b. m. PEARLEEN, by Morena—Bachelor's Pearl, a, 9-8 J. H. Harty 1

Major W. Stewart's QUEEN CHOW, 5, 8-5 M. McCormack 3
Mr P. Glynn's Cappylass, a, 8-3 J. Tucker 0
(Winner trained by Owner.)
Betting—2 to 1 on Pearlmore, 2 to 1 agst. PEARLEEN, 10 to 1 any other.
Cappy Lass made the running from Queen Chow, Pearlmore and Pearleen, to the straight, when Pearleen took command, and, resisting the challenge of Pearlmore, won by three lengths; one length separated second and third.

4.45—THE COMMERCIAL PLATE of 50 sovs. An open handicap steeplechase.
Captain H. A. Gairdner's b. m. GEORGINATOWN, by Kroonstad—Georgina Mac, 5, 10-10 J. Lombard 1
Mr. M. O. Springfield's ATTABOY, a, 11-8 Owner 2
Mr R. Power's LARRY THE FLAIL, 6, 9-9 J. Moloney 3
(Winner trained by J. Lombard.)
Betting.—2 to 1 on GEORGINATOWN, 3 to 1 agst. Larry the Flail, 100 to 16 Attaboy.
Larry the Flail led from Georginatown and Attaboy, to the last fence, when Georginatown took command, and won easily by ten lengths; four lengths separated second and third.

HOCKEY.

LEINSTER BRANCH, IRISH HOCKEY UNION.

The annual general meeting of the Leinster Branch, Irish Hockey Union, will be held, by kind permission, in No. 8 Merrion row, Dublin, on Friday, September 17th, at 7.30 p.m. The business will include the reports from the various officials, election of officers and committees, some suggested changes in the rules, and general business. Each senior club is entitled to send two delegates, and each junior and school club one delegate each. New clubs desiring to affiliate are requested to communicate with the Hon. Secretary, Mr. J. S. McMahon, 38-39 South Great George's street

DUNDALK.

TO-DAY'S SELECTIONS.

The abandonment of the July meeting at Dundalk was a disappointment to the many owners in the Meath and adjoining districts, as well as the public, and the meeting which opens to-day will be welcomed. Although the entries are not up to the usual standard, this does not always mean that the racing will suffer, as was evidenced at some other meetings held of late. There are few venues better catered for as regards train arrangements, and visitors from Dublin can travel by the 9.15, 11.30 or fast special at 12.15 from Amiens street each day. Selections:—

Castlebellingham Plate—Knockeffer.
Roden Plate—Miss Hermes.
Lisdoo Plate—Golden Light.
Ravensdale Plate—Oiseau d'Or.
Ardee Plate—Mischievous.
Tally Ho Plate—Buster.

Betting—"Sporting Life"—7 to 2 each agst. Hot Night and Applecross, 4 to 1 DAMON, 9 to 2 Sickle, 10 to 1 Call Boy, 100 to 6 any other. "Sporting Chronicle"—Same.
Hot Night and Toureen broke through the tapes. Damon settled down with a slight lead of Applecross, Hot Night, and Sickle, with Call Boy, who lost a little ground at the start, next. After going a quarter of a mile, Hot Night raced up to the leader, and for a few strides was leading Damon, Applecross, and Sickle. Shortly after half-way Hot Night weakened, and Damon resumed the lead, and, resisting a strong challenge from both Call Boy and Sickle, went on to score cleverly by a neck; half a length separated second and third. Applecross was fourth, Hot Night fifth, Dingaan's Day sixth, and Giovanni last. Time—1 min. 13 secs.

3.30—STAND SELLING HIGH-WEIGHT H'CAP, a plate of 200 sovs. Second to save entrance out of plate. 1½ m.

Longquill forced the pace from Seradella, Hercules, and Joy Rider. After going a furlong, Hercules raced to the front with a six lengths' lead of Longquill, Seradella, Joy Rider, and Tournesol, with Nonchalant last. Rounding the bottom turn, Hercules weakened, and, turning into the straight, Longquill assumed command, only to give way to Seradella half-way up the straight. Pons Asinorum and Winalot challenged from the distance, but in a desperate finish Seradella stayed on to score by a short head; a head separated second and third. Tournesol was fourth, Joy Rider fifth, Hercules sixth, and Longquill last.

4.40—GLASGOW NURSERY HANDICAP, a plate of 250 sovs. Second 25 sovs. and third 10 sovs. 5 f.

Won by a head; half a length. Princess Lointaine was fourth and Squabbler last.

THE ST. LEGER.

In all probability Coronach will start one of the warmest favourites of late years for the St. Leger to-day, and it is, indeed, difficult to see what there is to prevent the Derby winner from adding the last of the season's classics to his record. There will be about a dozen competitors. Continental rivalry will be offered in the form of Masked Ruler, who is a brother of last year's Cambridgeshire winner, Masked Marvel, and this French colt, having acquitted himself well in a recent gallop over the full "Leger" distance, will not lack admirers. Lambton has given Caissot a special preparation. The colt will be accompanied to the post by Piazzetta, a stable companion, and the fact that the former will have the strong handling of Carslake is all in his favour. Comedy King has been showing up well in his recent races, and of the Manton pair Foliation is preferred to Booklet. On their previous running this season it is difficult to see what prospect Lex has of beating Coronach, while such as Glen Albyn, Hilika, Southbourne, and Steel Point will probably find the company a trifle too good for them. As an endeavour to anticipate the judge, the placings may be as follows:—

CAISSOT 2
COMEDY KING 3

The Rufford Abbey Handicap has on numerous occasions had an important bearing on the Cesarewitch, and a careful analysis of the form suggests that whatever beats Trapeze will be returned the winner, though Paris Flight is said to be strongly fancied. Selections:—

Cleveland Handicap—Ruskin.
Milton Selling—Hanging Fire.
St. Leger—Coronach, win; Caissot and Comedy King, places.
Bradgate Park Nursery—Nun of Kent.
Tattersall Sale Stakes—Adieu.
Rufford Abbey Handicap—Trapeze.
DOUBLE—Nun of Kent and Hanging Fire.

PROFESSIONAL MATCHES IN WALES.

For the first time in the history of Rugby football in West Wales an attempt is now being made to introduce professional Rugby into the district, and Llanelly, which has long been the stronghold of amateur Rugby, is to be the venue of a series of Rugby league games this season. A powerful Northern Union syndicate have just completed negotiations for the leasing of Stebonheath Park, formerly the ground of the Llanelly Association Football Club, now disbanded, where there is accommodation for 30,000.

FREE STATE LEAGUE.

JACOBS (2) v. ST. JAMES'S GATE (0).

Owing to the annual exhibition and show of the St. James's Gate Industrial Association on Saturday, this, the first meeting of these local rivals in the Free State League, had to be postponed to yesterday evening. With the exception that Heslin, of the second team, replaced Keogh as the left wing forward, St. James's Gate were represented by the same side which pressed Shamrock Rovers to a goal last Wednesday. Jacobs were represented by their full League side. With the advantage of the considerable fall in the pitch, Jacobs had the better of the opening play, and for the greater part of the first half kept St. James's Gate on the defence. The latter's backs were up to a point, sound, but they often proved slow to cope with the virile efforts of Jacobs' forwards, the wing play of whom was a feature of their game. Blackford, on the left, repeatedly beat the opposing backs and centred well, but Ronan and Heron were not quite equal to controlling the lively ball on the hard sod, and many opportunities of scoring were lost in the opening minutes. Contrary to expectations, the St. James's Gate backs were frequently at fault, and the fulls were beaten repeatedly, as a consequence of which Aungier, in the home goal, was often in difficulties. He saved a number of hard shots well, but was decidedly lucky to have been only beaten once in the opening half of the game. Jacobs were much smarter on the ball, and when a slight shower made the sod slippery, they operated better than the home side, making much more of their play. They were well served by a useful set of half-backs, who were smarter than the home trio. The work of both sides in the loose was good; the winners, however, always exhibited the better ball control, and their combination was most effective. On the run of the play they were worth a couple of goals in the opening period, and had the inside forwards been a little steadier in the goal area, they would have crossed over with a comfortable lead. The St. James's Gate forwards were mostly at fault through want of combination, and the wing play suffered by over-anxiety on the part of both Heslin and Farrell. The half-backs lacked stability, and failed to prove equal to the efforts of the opposing attack, while the full-backs often miskicked, and gave Aungier little assistance.

Ten minutes after the start Smith gave Jacobs the lead, but previous to this hey had several shots which Aungier saved. A few breaks away by the St. James's Gate forwards were badly finished, and they failed to respond before the interval. Against the hill in the closing period Jacobs did not do so well; nevertheless they were always better in their execution. Half-way through this period Murphy gave away a penalty, and Blackford scored Jacobs' second goal from the place-kick. Result:—

Jacobs 2
St. James's Gate 0

Teams:—

St. James's Gate—Aungier; Murphy, Clarke; Doyle, Mooney, Behan; Farrell, Dowdall, Booth, Donnelly, Heslin.

Jacobs—Collins; Buffy, Boyne; Tucker, Kelly, Byrne; Hickey, Heron, Ronan, Smith, Blackford.

Referee—Mr. J. J. Kelly.

FREE STATE LEAGUE.

JACOBS (2) v. ST. JAMES'S GATE (0).

Owing to the annual exhibition and show of the St. James's Gate Industrial Association on Saturday this, the first meeting of these local rivals in the Free State League, had to be postponed till yesterday evening. With the exception that in the second team, replaced Keogh as the outside-left wing forward, St. James's Gate were represented by the same side which pressed Shamrock Rovers to a goal last Wednesday. Jacobs were represented by their full League side. With the advantage of the considerable fall in the pitch, Jacobs had the better of the opening play, and for the greater part of the first half kept St. James's on the defence. The latter's backs were, up to a point, sound, but they often proved slow to cope with the virile efforts of Jacobs' forwards, the swing play of whom was a feature of their work. Blackford, on the left, repeatedly beat the opposing backs and centred well, but Ronan and Heron were not quite equal to controlling the greasy ball on the hard sod, and many opportunities for scoring were lost in the opening minutes. Contrary to expectations, the St. James's Gate forwards were frequently at fault, and the fulls were again repeatedly, as a consequence of which matters in the home goal, was often in difficulties. He saved a number of hard shots well, but was decidedly lucky to have been only beaten once in the opening half of the game. Jacobs were much better on the ball, and when a slight shower made the sod slippery, they operated better than the home side, making much more of their play. They were well served by a useful set of half-backs, who were smarter than the home trio. The play of both sides in the loose was good; the Jacobs, however, always exhibited the better ball control, and their combination was most effective. On the run of the play they were worth a couple of goals in the opening period, and had the home forwards been a little steadier in the goal area they would have crossed over with a comfortable lead. The St. James's Gate forwards were mainly at fault through want of combination, and their wing play suffered by over-anxiety on the part of Heslin and Farrell. The half-backs lacked ability, and failed to prove equal to the efforts of the opposing attack, while the full-backs often blundered, and gave Aungier little assistance.

Ten minutes after the start Smith gave Jacobs the lead, but previous to this he had several shots which Aungier saved. A few breaks away by the St. James's Gate forwards were badly finished, and they failed to respond before the interval. Against the hill in the closing period Jacobs did not do so well; nevertheless they were always better in their execution. Half-way through the period Murphy gave away a penalty, and Blackford scored Jacobs' second goal from the spot-kick. Result:—

DONCASTER SALES.

FIRST DAY REALISES 77,440 GUINEAS.

IRISH STOCK IN DEMAND.

The morning opened fine for the commencement of the important yearling sales at the Glasgow Paddocks, Doncaster, yesterday, and there was a large crowd round the ring when Mr. Somerville Tattersall opened the proceedings. The highest price obtained in the morning was 7,000 guineas, given by Mr. F. Darling for a bay colt by Hurry On—Inflammable, from the Buckland Stud. There were many lots from Ireland, which obtained good prices, the highest being 4,500 guineas, given by the Aga Khan for Tetracaun, a grey colt by Tetratema—Deccaun, submitted by Mr. Reynolds, Garristown, Co. Dublin. On the whole, the morning's sale was very satisfactory. The lots realised 39,790 guineas. This is much better than last year, when the morning sales fetched 35,653 guineas.

The highest price of the day, however, was reached at the evening sales, when Lord Beaverbrook went to 8,000 guineas for a Gainsborough colt from the Harwood Stud. The evening sales realised 37,650 guineas, the aggregate for the opening 77,440 guineas. Details:—

MLLE. LENGLEN'S TOUR.

TO TRAVEL WITH MISS MARY BROWNE.

NICE, Monday.

Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, who is preparing to leave for America on September 21st, returned here yesterday evening.

Interviewed this morning the famous tennis star said:—"I am delighted to hear that Mary Browne has turned professional. She is an excellent player, and I shall be pleased to play against her in America. I shall be glad to travel round with her, as she is a charming girl, who will make a delightful travelling companion."

BILLIARDS.

SMITH v. DAVIS.

A break of 450 by Davis was the chief item in yesterday afternoon's play in the 9,000 game with Smith at Scarborough. He played with marked freedom of strokes throughout, and never appeared to be in any difficulties. Smith's principal breaks were 119 and 87, and Davis, after making his big break, closed the session with 68, 75, 68, 81 and 47, unfinished. Interval scores:—Davis (rec. 1,500) (in play), 3,265; Smith, 1,936.

Smith did much better in the evening session, and scored 779 against Davis's 603. The latter added only 18 points to his unfinished 47, and had subsequently 70, 82, and 271, unfinished. Smith's best contributions were 71, 374, and 183. Closing scores—Davis (rec. 1,500) (in play), 3,868; Smith, 2,715.

THE IRISH OPEN CHAMPIONSHIP.

TITLE HOLDER BEATEN.

THE LAST EIGHT.

(By Our Special Correspondent.)

When the fourth round of the Irish Open Championship concluded at Portmarnock last evening the position was most interesting. The holder of the title, T. A. Torrance, had passed out, as also the holder of the Irish Close Championship, A. C. Allison, and the eight left in consisted of three Ulstermen, a similar number of Dubliners, one from Cork, and a Scotsman, the latter of whom, Dr. Scroggie, had in the morning sprung the major surprise of the tournament by his defeat of last year's winner. Whether Dr. Scroggie will prove equal to the task of bringing the championship cup across the Channel again remains to be seen, but in his efforts to do so he will have to contend against the stoutest opposition. He will likely have the hardest match he has had so far when he drives off this morning after Roy McConnell; for the Queen's University golfer has been playing golf of a high class, and with remarkable consistency. Above McConnell is E. F. Spiller, a splendid match player and former holder of the championship; and then there are Dr. MacCormack and Major Hezlet, to say nothing of Dr. Gerald Moore, Arthur Dinan and Fergus O'Connor—all excellent golfers. It is to be regretted, however, that during yesterday Major Hezlet had an attack of lumbago, which, in all probability, accounted for the slackness which he displayed at several holes in his match with D. Wilson Smyth; but it is to be hoped that he will have recovered this morning, and that his chance of winning the championship will not be affected by the unexpected happening.

THRILLING FINISHES.

There are times when the golfer is inclined to become excited over an ordinary golf match, and if that happened occasionally yesterday there was a reason for it. Who could have watched the overthrow of the holder on the last green without a thrill; and what golfer could have followed Walter Carroll and the Irish Close champion for those four extra holes without taking more than a passing interest in the playing of each shot, on the success or failure of each of which the fortunes of the two players depended? Then there were the struggles in which Dr. MacCormack was engaged, and which ended on the seventeenth and the last green respectively, and the battle which Major Hezlet was waging under difficulties against Wilson Smyth, who a few years ago at Newcastle, in the final with Joseph Gorry, turned what looked like certain defeat into a thrilling victory. All these happenings, and others less noteworthy, served to invest the day's play with an exceptional interest.

Major Hezlet may justify his favouritism for the championship, but he has several stiff obstacles to negotiate before he achieves the ambition for which he has fought so long and so well. Nor is Roy McConnel yet done with. In fact, should the latter maintain the brilliant form which has brought him so far, victory might easily go to this representative of the younger school of Irish golfers, just as did the Native Championship at Portrush.

But in an eventful day's golf the outstanding feature was the defeat of T. A. Torrance in the forenoon. He had not been playing in anything like the form which he displayed at Portrush last year, and there were many who considered he would find it difficult to shake off his fellow-countryman, Dr. Scroggie. The Carnoustie player won on the last green by one hole; but had the holder accepted his chances the result might have been the other way, although it must be said that Scroggie played the better golf from the first teeing ground to the home green. Yet it was not brilliant golf which either man exhibited, and if there was one factor which contributed to Scroggie's success more than another it was his chipping and holing out. On the other hand, Torrance lost the second, third and fourth holes through weak approaching, for the turf had undergone a change as the result of the rain of the morning. Had he not made such a bad start, there is no knowing what might have happened, for from the fourth to the eighth Scroggie went to pieces and lost these holes, with the result that at the turn his opponent had become 1 up. It was a keen struggle to the sixteenth, which Torrance won to square; but he played a bad second shot to the home green, which sliced a bit, and, with Scroggie well over the green in the like, there seemed a possibility of the match going to the nineteenth. But though Torrance played a fine third he did not get as near to the hole as Scroggie, who chipped up beautifully, and the match was over. Torrance missed a difficult putt, and did not even lay a stymie, and Scroggie, getting down a short putt, brought about the defeat of the champion.

CUTTING IT FINE.

Dr. MacCormack had to go, as remarked, to the seventeenth and eighteenth for his victories over Captain Bailey and Captain West respectively. So far the doctor has not got on to his usual game; it may be that he is reserving himself for the more arduous portion of the journey, but he cut matters rather too fine in all his matches, except the first. Indeed, had Captain West got his drive to the home green away properly there might have been an even more interesting finish to the match. But he pulled his tee shot into the "roses," and that led to his undoing, for the doctor had a capital 4 to win the match by 1 up.

About the best golf of the day was played in the afternoon by Dr. Gerald Moore against Captain Hames, whom he beat 2 and 1. On the way out the Clontarf man was not steady, and found himself 2 down at the turn, but he effected a splendid recovery, having a 4 at the tenth, two 3's to follow, a couple of 4's, and he finished in 6, 4, 3. J. Gorry in the forenoon found James Henderson off his game somewhat, and had taken a lead of five holes at the eighth, but he went no further, for Fergus O'Connor in the next round beat him 3 and 1, the Royal Dublin man, who has been playing consistently well all through the tournament, and the matches which preceded it, again giving another finished display. It was a splendid match between Walter Carroll and A. Allison, and in winning it on the 22nd green Carroll did uncommonly well. He, however, had a narrow escape on the eighteenth green. Winning the sixteenth for the lead, which had changed frequently, Carroll played the seventeenth badly and lost it, but Allison missed a golden opportunity on the home green when he took three putts. The winner then passed out, beaten by E. F. Spiller by 3 and 2. The champion of two years ago likewise had a close call in his match with A. C. Patterson, having to go to the nineteenth. Inclined to take matters leisurely in the early stages, Spiller was almost caught napping, for Patterson, who took the lead for the first time at the fifteenth, sunk a putt from the edge of the last green to keep the match going to the 19th, where, however, Spiller had a 4 for the win.

Dr. Scroggie entered the fifth round by a 3 and 2 win over the Frenchman, M. A. Vagliano, and, in a moderately interesting match, Major Hezlet overcame D. Wilson Smyth on the seventeenth green. It was not good golf which either player put up, but the winner seemed always to have that little in reserve which tells in the end. Twice ere they got to the ninth Smyth was in the lead, but Hezlet was 1 up at the turn. Smyth again squared at the short twelfth, where his opponent was over the green on the left, but the Major playing the fourteenth was up against a deficit. He lipped the hole here for a 3, and with Smyth missing a three-footer, the match was squared. But from that point the Royal Portrush player had the measure of the Royal County Down golfer, and after Smyth had missed another short putt on the sixteenth, the end came at the next. Arthur Dinan so far has been the surprise of the tournament. He has achieved several substantial successes, but, perhaps, the best performance which he has put in was his 4 and 2 win over W. F. Quinlan, of Tralee.

THIRD ROUND.

D. Wilson Smyth (Royal County Down) beat J. C. Nicholson (Bangor)—2 and 1.

Major C. O. Hezlet (Royal Portrush) beat A. B. Babington (Royal Portrush)—5 and 4.

Captain C. Hames (Hermitage) beat H. Thrift (Milltown)—2 and 1.

R. McConnell (Queen's University) beat H. M. Cairnes (Portmarnock)—4 and 3.

Dr. F. H. Scroggie (Carnoustie) beat T. A. Torrance (Sandy Lodge)—1 up.

FOURTH ROUND.

Hezlet beat Smyth—2 and 1.

Moore beat Hames—2 and 1.

Dinan beat Quinlan—4 and 2.

O'Connor beat Gorry—3 and 1.

MacCormack beat West—1 up.

Spiller beat Carroll—3 and 2.

McConnell beat Figgis—7 and 5.

Scroggio beat Vagliano—4 and 3.

ENGLISH CLOSE CHAMPIONSHIP

The first day's play in the English Close Championship produced several surprises at Walton Heath yesterday. W. MacCallum (Sonning) was easily beaten by A. E. Mainwaring (Handsworth), Noel Layton could only dispose of Leslie Rankin after playing an extra hole, and Arthur Platt, one of the Northern hopes, went down to Bernard Drew; but the biggest surprise of all was the defeat of S. Robinson, the Southport player, who was beaten by a local player in G. Russell. Details:—

FIRST ROUND.

J. P. Barnett (Hythe) beat W. F. Ashbrook (Stockport)—3 and 2.

A. E. Mainwaring (Handsworth) beat W. MacCallum (Sonning)—3 and 2.

LAHINCH OPEN WEEK.

The first and second rounds of the match play competition for the Bogberry Cup were played yesterday at Lahinch and several very interesting matches were witnessed. The outstanding struggle of the first round was that between Captain P. Hickey (Kilkee) and Major R. de R. Rose (Lahinch). The latter, at one point, was four down, but he squared at the 18th and won on the 22nd. In the second round the matches were, for the most part, hard contests, and from the midst of many rule interpretations, A. Stradling (Cirencester) emerged victor by 3 and 2 in his match with M. Barrett (Muskerry).

FIRST ROUND.

R. B. Heuston (Tipperary) beat H. K. Murray (Portmarnock), 4 and 2; Dr. D. P. Lucey (Cork) beat E. Leahy (Cork), 2 and 1; Dr. J. Murphy (Cork) beat F. B. Guy (Muskerry), 2 and 1; Captain J. A. Hickey (Kilkee) beat E. W. O. Rossell (Lahinch), 2 and 1.

James Barry (Muskerry) beat D. Sullivan (Portmarnock), 1 up; M. L. Counihan (Lahinch) beat T. Lyons (Muskerry), 4 and 3; Major R. de R. Rose (Lahinch) beat Captain P. Hickey (Kilkee), at the 22nd; M. O'Loughlin (Lahinch) beat C. Ragey (Muskerry), 2 and 1.

A SATURDAY HALF-HOLIDAY.

BELFAST WORKERS' EFFORT.

The question of a Saturday half-holiday was briefly discussed at yesterday's meeting of the Belfast and District Chamber of Trade following a letter from the Union of Distributive and Allied Workers asking for assistance in the movement to establish a universal Saturday half-holiday for all workers.

Mr. W. J. Hardy, the President, at the outset mentioned that the Chamber had often discussed this question, and as opinion was greatly divided in the matter, a letter should be sent to the union, intimating that as it was impossible to arrive at a decision in any way approaching unanimity, the Chamber was not in a position to take any action as regards co-operation.

Mr. W. H. Alexander, Mr. James Price, Mr. James Newell, and others took part in the discussion, in which various views were expressed, and finally Mr. J. H. Finlay proposed, and Mr. J. McComish seconded, that a letter be sent to the Northern Union of Distributive Workers embodying the views of the chairman.

Mr. S. Dunlop (Secretary) agreed to do so, and mentioned that letters of protest against the half-holiday on Saturday had been received.

GUIDANCE BY WIRELESS IN A FOG.

PARIS.

A message from Cherbourg states that the new radio-electric post, which has been erected at the Casquets for the purpose of guiding ships at a distance, worked for the first time this week.

The new system enabled the President Harding to manœuvre without difficulty in a thick fog. The captain declared himself very satisfied, and expressed the hope that many similar stations would be installed on the English coast.—(Reuter).

SHIPYARD WORKER'S FALL.

While working on a ship at Messrs. Workman, Clark's North Yard, Belfast, yesterday, John Millar, aged 26, of Parkmount street, fell a distance of about sixty feet.

He was removed to the Royal Victoria Hospital, where he is reported to be in a critical condition.

CRICKET.

YORKSHIRE'S RECORD.

ANOTHER CENTURY BY SUTCLIFFE.

Although a draw was practically certain at Scarborough yesterday, the concluding stage in the match between Yorkshire and the M.C.C. produced some very bright cricket, and a memorable achievement on the part of Sutcliffe, who followed up his hundred on Saturday by scoring 109 not out, and enjoyed the distinction for the second time in his career of making two separate hundreds in the same match. The previous success of this description was in the Test match at Melbourne in 1924-25. Yesterday, after starting quietly—he was at first quite overshadowed by Holmes—he reached his 50 in seventy minutes, and was let off when 73. He made 109, his seventh hundred this season, out of 226, in 2 hrs. 5 mins. Apart from the one chance, he played masterly cricket, with strokes through the covers, off drives and strokes to leg, eleven 4's and three 3's. Holmes stayed with him for 80 mins., while the score was raised to 133. When the Yorkshire pair were associated for the thirty-eighth time in a three-figure first wicket partnership. Major Lupton declared with two wickets down, Yorkshire having scored at the rate of nearly 110 an hour.

With yesterday's match Yorkshire brought their season to a close, their record being 35 games played, 14 won, 21 drawn. Unbeaten this year, as well as last, they have not lost one of the last 71 matches.

Like the first one, the second match of the Folkestone Festival ended yesterday in a draw, the Hon. L. H. Tennyson's XI. having had rather the best of the game.

INTERMEDIATE LEAGUE FINAL.

SANDYMOUNT v. PEMBROKE II.

The Intermediate League final, which started on Saturday at the Pembroke ground, Sydney Parade, and was interrupted owing to bad light when Sandymount had completed an innings of 172 and Pembroke had got 101 for the loss of five wickets, was continued last evening in bad light, Pembroke winning by four wickets. The not outs, B. Kelly 14, and W. E. Crawford 2, took the score to 140, when the former was badly run out when 37, including a 6 and three 4's. F. Warner, 27 not out, and W. E. Crawford, 20 not out, hit off the runs, and Pembroke 2nd won as stated. Of the six Sandymount bowlers tried, P. Byrne took 2 wickets for 65 and B. Hayden 2 for 30. Score:—

ULSTER SENIOR CUP.

North Down, for the fifteenth time in the history of the club, won the Ulster Senior Cricket Cup at Belfast yesterday, when they defeated North of Ireland by 270 runs. Scores:—

ULSTER CONSTABULARY CHANGES.

County Inspector R. R. Heggart has been appointed County Inspector of Armagh, in succession to County Inspector Moore (who retired a short time ago), and will take up the duties of his new position on the 1st September.

County Inspector R. Dunlop, C.B.E., has been appointed County Inspector of Antrim, vice County Inspector F. A. Britten, O.B.E., who was recently appointed City Commissioner, Belfast, and County Inspector H. B. W. R. Lenthall, O.B.E., has been appointed to County Derry, a position which has been vacant since the formation of the Royal Ulster Constabulary.

County Inspector Lenthall was born in Dublin in 1887, and was educated at Trinity College, Dublin, where he secured his B.A. degree. In 1908 he joined the Royal Irish Constabulary as a cadet and his promotion was rapid. In 1920 he was appointed Acting County Inspector and Assistant to the Divisional Commissioner in Ulster. During his service in the Royal Irish Constabulary he was stationed in Tipperary (North and South), Waterford, Londonderry and Belfast.

PRODUCE AND FOOD.

CATTLE.

CAMBRIDGE.—Beasts, 178; beef, 10/6 to 11/6. Sheep, 1,785; mutton to 8/-, lamb 1/2 to 1/3; calves, 86. Fat cattle—Fair supplies and trade unchanged; store beasts a small show. Dairy cows and down calves in good demand. Fat sheep a good show, and no alteration in prices. A special sale of store sheep and lambs resulted in large supplies, and business was moderate. Fat pigs a much larger show, and rates about the same as last week. Store pigs very dear.

LEEDS.—Trade slow for cattle. On offer, 439 beasts, 8d. to 10½d.; sheep, 1,981, 11d. to 1/2½, ewes 9d. to 10d., tups 6d. to 7d., lambs 1/2 to 1/4. Few choice pork pigs realised up to 15/- per stone.

SALFORD.—On offer—Beasts, 1,005 (decrease 6); sheep and lambs, 8,821 (increase 1,405). Included in above numbers were 508 Irish fat cattle, 71 dairy cows, and 704 sheep and lambs. Quality of stock penned generally very moderate, and while nice, useful lightweight animals cleared readily, especially lambs, very slow trade was experienced for other descriptions. Last week's prices were about maintained, though in some cases an easier feeling was noticeable. General quotations—Best butchers beasts 9d. to 9½d., a few choice heifers making up to 10d.; Irish 9d. to 10d., good fat young cows 7½d. to 8½d.; choice light sheep 1/- to 1/1, Welsh and North Country lambs up to 1/2, strong Irish lambs around 1/-, ewes 8d. to 9d. per lb. Cows suitable for dairy purposes numbered 79, and rather better demand reported at £22 to £29 per head.

GRAIN.

DUBLIN CORN EXCHANGE.—Our bi-weekly Corn Exchange presented a very idle and uninteresting appearance, few buyers being present. Business was on a limited scale and made prices too uncertain to quote.

FLOATING GRAIN CARGOES.—BALTIC.—WHEAT—The cargo section remained dull pending cables from the United States, and prices for the most part nominally unaltered. No. 1 Northern Manitoba September sellers 55/6, No. 2 hard winter afloat 52/9, September 52/-, white Pacific afloat 52/6, October 50/6, Australian sailer arrived 55/-, Barusso 63lbs new crop January-February 52/-, Rosafe 63lbs. ditto 53/3. Parcels quietly steady. No. 1 Northern Manitoba September sold 53/3 to 53/6, October-November 51/1½ to 51/4½, No. 2 hard winter arrived 49/3, September 50/- per 480lbs. MAIZE dull, and tendency easier, bids being solicited. Plate steamers afloat sellers 29/9 to 30/3, and for shipment up to December 30/-, Dan. Gal. Fox. October-November 32/-. Parcels easier; Plate afloat sold 29/4½, August-September 29/4½ to 29/6, October-November 29/6 per 480lbs. The Hercules 6,000 tons Plate loading sold at 30/-. BARLEY quiet and featureless. Cargoes of South Russian September to November sellers 28/3, Dan. Bess. Kus. September-October 28/6 per 400lbs. Parcels neglected. OATS inactive. Plate f.a.q. afloat sellers 20/9, September-October 20/6, No. 2 Canadian Western September 25/9, No. 3 ditto 23/9, No. 2 white clipped American September 21/9, Chilean September 21/- per 320lbs.

LIVERPOOL.—WHEAT—American markets were closed yesterday owing to the holiday, but with weakness in the Argentine forward deliveries of wheat here showed a moderate decline at the outset, but afterwards improved and fluctuated moderately, but with encouraging late afternoon cables finished at best, and marked a fair gain on Monday night. C.i.f. parcels of No. 2 hard winter September sold at 50/- arrived, 50/4½ to Liverpool; No. 2 red winter due 48/9, No. 1 red winter arrived 48/9 to Manchester. C.i.f. parcels of MAIZE River Plate afloat sold at 29/9, September-October and October-November 29/7½ to 29/9 per quarter. Wheat on the spot was quiet and favoured buyers. Maize spot parcels quiet at 6/7 to 6/7½ per cental for River Plate. FLOUR quietly steady and unaltered. Graded wheat futures opened ¼d. to ½d. per cental lower, lost a further ¼d. to ½d., then fluctuated moderately, but closed steady at ⅛d. to ¼d. over last night. Maize options nominally unchanged.

PROVISIONS.

LIVERPOOL. — BACON — Irish Danish and Canadian bacon continues quiet on the whole, though no further quotable change in values is reported. American selections of bacon here are again freely offered, and, despite the absence of the usual guiding factors from America owing to the holiday there on Monday, Cumberlands are reduced 1/- per cwt., all grades being now quoted 114/- to 117/- per cwt. HAMS also quiet with holders free sellers, and short cut further reduced to 136/- to 145/- per cwt. Shoulders quiet and generally easier, New Yorks being 1/- lower at 89/- to 91/- and squares 95/- to 98/- per cwt. LARD on the spot rules quietly steady at late rates in the absence of the usual cables owing to the holiday, and only a moderate demand is reported. CHEESE dull, and New Zealand 1/- lower at 83/- to 87/- per cwt. BUTTER still slow of sale, though no further decline in value reported. EGGS quiet at 15/6 to 17/6 per 120 for Irish fresh hen, 13/- to 13/6 duck, and 12/- to 12/3 for Polish.

MANCHESTER. — BUTTER — Shipments of Danish for week ending September 4th totalled 27,275 casks (decrease 621 casks). Market for Scandinavian remains quietly steady. Irish creameries plentiful, and both quality and prices have wide range. Choicest qualities quoted—Danish 176/- to 178/-, special dairies extra; Finnish 170/- to 172/-, Swedish 166/- to 168/-, Irish creameries 150/- to 160/-, according to quality. BACON—Shipments of Danish and Swedish, 11,625 bales (256 more). Better inquiry at recent reduction, but otherwise little change in generally quotations. Irish 120/- to 123/-, according to average weight; North of Ireland rolls 138/- to 142/-, according to weight and cure; Danish 117/- to 123/-, Swedish 106/- to 112/-, Dutch 112/-, Canadian 106/- to 114/-. LARD—Quiet and lower; English refined 80/6 boxes wholesale, American 76/- to 76/6, according to brand. CHEESE—Choicest cool-made Cheshire firm around 10d., but large stocks of inferior overheated cheese offered at low figures. Colonial easier; New Zealand white 86/- to 88/-, coloured 85/- to 87/-; Canadian white and coloured 84/- to 86/-. EGGS—Shipments of Danish and Swedish, 4,522 cases (1,107 more). Improved tone generally, some very fine French all-browns making 17/6 to 18/-; Irish extra selected 16/- to 17/-, selected 15/6, mediums 13/- to 13/6, ducks nominal; Danish 18lb. 17/6, 17lb. 17/-, 15½lb. 15/6 to 16/-; Dutch 15/- to 17/-, ducks 14/6; Belgians 14/6, Polish 13/-.

DUBLIN VEGETABLE AND FRUIT.—Supply of home-grown vegetables and fruits was good all round, and business equal, except for cauliflowers, Swede turnips and small white turnips, which proved more than sufficient for the business practicable. York cabbage made 20/- to 48/- per load, and also 2/6 to 3/6 per bag; cauliflowers 3/- to 3/6 per dozen; parsnips 3/6 to 4/- per bag; lettuce 1/- to 1/8 per dozen; parsley 6d. to 8d. per tray and 2/- per bag; turnips 4d. to 10d. per bunch; orange jellies 6d. per bunch; carrots 1/- to 2/- per dozen; marrows 2/6 to 4/- per dozen; peas 20/- to 26/- per sack and 2/- per float; Swede turnips 1/3 to 1/9 per cwt.; tomatoes 4½d. to 7½d. per lb.; rhubarb 2/- to 4/- per dozen; sprouts 5/- per float; leeks 1/- per dozen; kidney beans 1/6 per tray; celery 6d. per bunch; spinach 6d. per tray; apples (Irish) 31/- per barrel, also at 2/- to 4/6 per tray; damsons 6/- to 7/- per half-bushel. Imported fruits were not in such large supply as previously, which facilitated a clearance. Plums show an advance in price, as do tomatoes. Other prices remain as last quotation—viz. Apples, Gravenstein 22/- to 23/- per box, reds 12/- to 18/-, barrels 40/- to 60/-, cookers 15/- bushel; oranges, sunkist 32/- case, Cape 22/- to 38/-; lemons 20/- to 25/- case, bananas 20/- to 24/- crate, Jamaica 12/-, grape fruit 30/- case, melons 16/- to 20/- case, pears 10/- to 14/- crate, 48's 3/-, Californian pears 30/- case, grapes 1/6 to 1/8 lb., Lisbon grapes 16/- to 19/- case, plums 6/- to 10/- half-bushel, and 4/- to 5/- tray; English tomatoes 6d. to 7d. per lb.; onions 4's 10/-, 5's and 6's 12/-.

DUBLIN POTATO.—Business in potatoes continues slow and supplies are far in excess of demand at 4/- to 4/6 per cwt. for best grades.

DUBLIN POULTRY AND GAME.—Ducks, chickens and turkeys in large arrival on this market, with a quick sale for large, best quality birds at firmer prices, but stores and thin descriptions are not wanted. Rabbits in good demand and supply not equal; those of fresh, well-handled condition sell briskly at firmer rates. Chickens, best 1/- to 1/3 lb., smalls 1/6 to 2/- each, extra quality hens 3/- to 3/6 each, others 2/- to 2/6 each, small and thin 1/3 to 1/6 each. Good quality fatted ducks 3/- to 4/- each, stores 1/6 to 2/6, old 10d. to 1/- each; turkeys 1/2 to 1/6 lb.; rabbits, best 1/3 to 1/6 each, grouse 3/- to 8/- dozen; prime young grouse 3/6 to 4/- each, old 2/- to 2/6; prime young partridge 2/- to 2/6, old 1/- to 1/6 each.

DUBLIN EGG AND BUTTER.—The market is again easier for creamery produce and supply continues plentiful; demand is fairly good, but secondary butters only meet a slow inquiry. Finest quality Irish creams 1/4¼ per lb., and 28lb. packages 1/4½ per lb.; good quality creams to be had at 1/4 to 1/4¼ per lb.; some secondary lots around 1/3¼ per lb. Very little sale for farmers' butter; fine grades rate at 1/- to 1/2 per lb., and coarse descriptions, say, 8d. to 11d. per lb. Only a limited business passing in factory butter at 1/1 to 1/1½ per lb. The arrival of eggs continues equal to demand; really reliable fresh selected eggs meet a good trade, but doubtful parcels are hard to negotiate, and stale and badly-packed eggs absolutely unsaleable. Extra selected retail lots of hen eggs 17/- to 18/- per 120; case lots of hen eggs, ordinary and selected, 14/6 to 16/-; smalls and mediums 12/6 to 13/9 per 120. Duck eggs are nominally 14/6 to 15/6 for tested and repacked lots.

CORK BUTTER.—The market continues quiet, but steadier. Creameries 148/- to 152/- per cwt., choicest salted 150/-; special dairies extra.

DUBLIN FISH.—The 312 boxes from two steamers yesterday comprised a well-mixed catch and demand was fair for such, as well as the 16 chests of lobsters and small arrival of fish from the usual country and local bookers and wind trawlers. But sales were slack for herrings (30 boxes) and Mackerel (70 boxes). Prices—Large lobsters 12/6 to 15/-, seconds 7/6 to 10/-, and small 2/6 to 5/- per lot of 13; large sole 40/- to 50/-, mediums 20/- to 25/- and slips 5/- to 10/- per 9 pair; turbot 6d. to 15/- each; brill 6d. to 3/- each. Box fish—Plaice 15/- to 90/-, Codfish 20/- to 45/-, whiting 10/- to 35/-, white soles 30/- to 40/-, haddock 30/- to 50/-, hake 20/- to 80/-, ling 15/- to 20/-, ray 10/- to 20/-, congers 10/- to 15/-, gurnet 3/- to 5/- per half box; herrings averaged 4/- to 22/- per box; mackerel 2/- to 4/- per box.

BILLINGSGATE FISH.—Fair supplies. Steady demand. Cubes, ex refinery in London, less 1½ p.c. discount—First quality 33/3, H.T.S. 33/-, afternoon tea 33/6.

CLYDE CRUSHED SUGAR.—The tone of the market is rather quieter. A moderate business continues in ready sugars, which are quite steady.

MISCELLANEOUS.

LIVERPOOL COTTON.—American Futures—Prices advanced slightly during the morning, but market ruled quiet, and at the close there was no particular change from yesterday. Spot sales, 7,000 bales (sales for export included in above, 500 bales). American Futures—Tendency quiet; September 9.68d., October 9.54d., November 9.41d., December 9.42d., January 9.43d., February 9.43d., March 9.47d., April 9.47d., May 9.50d., June 9.46d., July 9.43d., August 9.35d., September 9.27d. Egyptian Futures (basis, f.g.f. sakels)—Tendency steady; October 16.95d., November 16.80d., January 16.67d., March 16.62d., May 16.57d.

MANCHESTER TRADE.—Business very small, buyers not taking risks; most offers too low. Few lots of dhooties, jacconets, fancies, printing cloths sold for India. China demand almost absent. Few whites sold for Egypt and Straits. Miscellaneous lines for Argentine Colonies and Continent. Home trade stagnant. Yarns sluggish, spinners of Americans not selling production, but holding for basic rates.

DUBLIN HAY AND STRAW.—Supply of hay was good but mostly of secondary and old meadow description. The few choice loads on market were in brisk demand, but anything under this standard was difficult to cash even at a late hour of the day. Prices may be written as follows:—1st crop 4/- to 4/3 cwt., 2nd and 3rd crop 3/6 to 3/9, old meadow 2/9 to 3/3, and inferior classes around 2/- to 2/6 per cwt. Wheaten straw in small compass and demand disappointing at 4/3 to 4/6 and 4/9 per cwt. The oaten straw offering was sold up to a fair demand at 3/- to 3/6 and 3/9 per cwt.

LONDON HAY AND STRAW.—Moderate demand. Best meadow hay £5 5/- to £5 10/-, medium £4 to £4 10/-, inferior £3 to £3 10/-, best mixtures and sainfoin £5 7/6 to £5 17/6, best clover £5 15/6 to £6 5/-; best trussed wheaten straw 80/- to 90/-, barley and oaten ditto 85/- to 95/—all per ton delivered.

LONDON METALS MARKET.

RISE IN TIN.

TIN—Values further hardened in sympathy with higher Eastern cables, combined with a fairly good demand, while sellers offered with reserve. On balance cash ruled 35/-, and forward also 35/- per ton dearer compared with the closing prices of Monday. Standard cash quoted £300 5/- to £300 10/-, three months £296 to £296 5/-; settlement price £300 5/-. Sales amounted to 800 tons, comprising cash at £300, £301, and £300 5/-, three months £296 to £297 and £295 15/-. English quoted £298 15/- to £299 15/-. COPPER steady for cash, but forward closed 2/6 per ton lower on balance. Standard cash quoted £59 2/6 to £59 5/-, three months £59 15/- to £59 17/6; settlement price £59 2/6. 600 tons changed hands, comprising cash at £59 5/- to £59 2/6, three months £59 18/9 to £59 17/6, and again at £59 18/9. Electros quoted £66 15/- to £67 5/-; wire bars £67 5/-. LEAD dull, and tendency in buyers' favour. 900 tons sold good soft foreign pig September at £32 7/6, October £32 7/6, November £32 6/3 to £32 5/-; settlement price £32 10/-. English quoted £33 15/-. SPELTER firmer, with a good demand. 1,000 tons sold September at £34 2/6, December £34 10/- to £34 8/9; settlement price £34 2/6 per ton.

GLASGOW IRON AND STEEL.—No report to-day.

IRISH FAIRS.

ATHLONE.—The September cattle fair, held yesterday at Athlone, was as well stocked as in previous years. There were good supplies of store and fat cattle and also young calves over six months old; good demand for Hereford cattle, but slow trade in milch cows, of which there was a negligible supply. Prices were as follow:—Three years old fat heifers and bullocks, 1st class, £18 to £21, 41/- per cwt.; 2nd class, £16 to £18, or 39/- per cwt. Two and two and a half year old stores, 1st class, £17 to £19; 2nd class, £16 to £17; 3rd class, £14 to £16. Two-year-olds, 1st class, £14 to £16; 2nd class, £12 to £14. Yearlings, 1st class, £10 to £12; 2nd class, £8 to £10. Calves, £3 to £5; milch cows, £16 to £23. The sheep on sale were of good quality. Every animal was bought up at fairly satisfactory prices. Since last September fair the price of sheep has decreased by 15/- per head. Quotations:—Two-year-old wethers £3 5/- to £3 10/-; hoggets, 1st class £3 to £3 7/6, 2nd class £0/- to £3; cross-bred lambs, 1st class 40/- to 45/-, 2nd class 35/- to 40/-; white lambs, 1st class 30/- to 38/-, 2nd class 32/- to 35/-.

FERMOY.—There was a fairly good demand at the monthly cattle and sheep fair held on Monday. Best three-year-old fat heifers made up to £24, and second quality £17 and upwards; first class polled bullocks fetched up to £21 each; second quality from £16 upwards; 1½-year-old bullocks and heifers, first class, up to £14 10/-; second quality £10 and upwards; springing cows, first class, £27 10/-; seconds, £20. Beef scarce and dear. Best quality, £4 5/- dead weight. A slow trade in sheep and lambs, but all were sold. Mutton, 9d. to 1/- per lb.

OMAGH.—There was a small supply of cattle at this fair yesterday, and, with the demand slacker, and although there was a good attendance of buyers, prices of stores were somewhat lower. Stores:—Yearlings £8 to £10, six quarter olds £12 to £14, two-year-olds £14 to £16. There was a small show of beef cattle, with prices from 40/- to 45/- per cwt. for best qualities. Springing cows were somewhat better in price, and best springers sold from £24 to £28, with second quality £20 to £24, and springing heifers from £18 to £22. There was a big display of sheep and lambs, with prices for the latter advanced and demand keen. Best lambs sold from 50/- to 55/- each, with an occasional lamb at £3; second quality from 40/- to 45/-, and cross-bred lambs from 35/- to 40/-. Fat sheep sold from £3 to £3 10/-. In the horse fair business was confined mainly to agricultural horses, and good quality horses sold from £18 to £25.

THOMASTOWN.—There was a record supply of first quality cattle on offer at the monthly fair, held yesterday. The demand for good conditioned cattle was much greater than at the previous fair, and prices soared, but rough and thin cattle were badly neglected, and had to be taken home unsold. Fat cattle and forward stores met with a ready sale at improved prices. Springers and new milch cows were much in demand, and those of first quality fetched fancy prices. Nice heifers, suitable for breeding purposes, were also much sought. In the sheep department trade was dull, and prices were about the same as those ruling at the August fair. Store pigs and bonhams were quickly bought up at increased prices. Quotations:—Calves under six months old £3 10/- to £5 10/-; store cattle, over 6 and under 12 months, 1st class £8 10/- to £10 10/-, average £9 10/-; 2nd class £7 to £8 5/-, average £7 15/-; one-year-old and under two years, 1st class £12 10/- to £14 10/-, average £13 10/-; 2nd class £10 10/- to £13, average £11 10/-. Two years old and under three years, 1st class £18 10/- to £22, average £20 10/-; second class £16 to £18, average £17. Three years old and over, 1st class £22 to £25, average £23 10/-; 2nd class £19 10/- to £21 10/-, average £20 10/-. Fat cattle, 1st class £23 to £27 10/-, average £25, live-weight 47/6 per cwt.; 2nd class £20 to £22 10/-, average £21, live weight average 42/6 per cwt. Springers, 1st class £26 to £32, average £29; second class £20 to £25, average £22 10/-. New milch cows (down calved), first class £21 to £25, average £23; second class £17 to £20, average £18 10/-. Fat sheep 55/- to 65/-; stores 45/- to 55/-; lambs 30/- to 42/6. Store pigs 75/- to 90/-; bonhams (3 to 10 weeks old) 30/- to 60/-.

DUBLIN AND THE PROVINCES.

DUBLIN.

Music in St. Stephen's Green.—The Dublin Metropolitan Garda Band will render a programme of music in St. Stephen's Green today from 4 to 6 p.m.

The Liquor Report.—The forthcoming legislation in connection with the Liquor Commission's recommendations is anxiously awaited by the Church of Ireland Temperance Society, which discussed the recommendations at its monthly meeting, held at 39 Molesworth street, Dublin. The visit of Miss Morton, B.A., arranged in consultation with the Hibernian Band of HUeionnoabp with the Hibernian Band of Hope Union, for a two months' lecturing tour in the schools of the city and country was welcomed.

Dublin Tobacconists.—At a meeting of the Committee of the Dublin United Tobacconists' Association yesterday a letter was read from the Revenue Commissioners, stating that they would attend to the matter of tobacconists having "Licensed to Sell Tobacco" printed over their doors. A resolution was passed asking tobacconists in the cities and towns of Ireland to seek representation on their Chambers of Commerce.

R.I.C. Pre-War Pensioners.—At a meeting of the R.I.C. Pensioners' Executive Association, Dublin, it was unanimously decided, on the proposition of Mr. P. Downes, Chairman, that no further meeting of the Association be held until after Parliament re-assembles. In the meantime, the Secretary to attend to correspondence as usual.

Unemployment in Kingstown.—A deputation from the Irish National Unemployment Association waited on the Kingstown Urban Council last night, and urged the Council to put into operation immediately schemes which would relieve distress among the unemployed of the district. The Chairman (Mr. Mallin), said that the Council would give sympathetic consideration to the matter.

Funeral of a Nun.—After Office and Solemn Requiem Mass yesterday, the remains of Mother Joseph Fottrell, Warrenmount, were laid to rest in the Convent cemetery. Entering Clondalkin Convent on the 2nd of July, 1872, she was professed on the 4th of January, 1875, and out of her fifty-two years in religion she spent twenty-four of them as Superior. The chief mourners were:—Mrs. Murphy, Mrs. Gartia and Mrs. Sweetman (nieces), Mr. Frank Fottrell (nephew); Mr. Owen Murphy and Mr. Ronald Murphy (grand-nephews); Miss Sheila Murphy (grand-niece); Dr. W. Fottrell and Mr. John Murray (cousins), and Mr. Ralph Byrne. The Right Rev. Monsignor Dunne, P.P., V.G., presided at the Office, at which the celebrant was the Rev. Patrick Hayden, P.P.

Passengers by B. and I. Line, via Liverpool.

DEPARTURES:—H. Auston, A. N. Sassoon, P. Lynam, J. Long, the Very Rev. Dean Kennedy, J. Westby, R. Dunphy, Miss M. Condron, Mrs. F. E. Horsfield, G. Westby, E. Esmond, R. K. Dickie, R. T. White.

LEINSTER.

Withdrawn Resignation.—Dr. M. P. Coghlan, Mullinavat, who resigned his position as medical officer of the Kilmakevogue dispensary district, and gave an undertaking that he would not seek superannuation if his son was appointed in his place, applied for, and was granted, permission by the Kilkenny County Board of Health to withdraw his resignation in view of the position of affairs created by the enforcement of the provisions of the Local Authorities (Officers and Employés) Act, 1926.

Technical Instruction.—The reconstruction of King's County Courthouse is now virtually complete, as far as office accommodation is concerned. Owing to demands made in this respect, the class rooms set apart for technical instruction are to be devoted to other purposes. The Commissioner for the County has decided to expend a sum of £1,500 on the erection of six new class rooms for technical instruction in front of the old disused county jail, adjoining the courthouse.

Ardee Water Scheme.—Louth Board of Health yesterday adopted provisionally a scheme, estimated by Mr. J. F. McGahon, civil engineer, to cost £12,700, for the improvement of the water supply to the town of Ardee. The Chairman said that it was probable that the Government, with a view to relieving the unemployment in Ardee, would grant a loan for the carrying out of portion of the work.

Dragged by Runaway Horse.—A boy named John Leonard was watering a horse at Derrymore, Bluebull, King's County, when the animal suddenly took fright and bolted, dragging him, entangled in the harness, for some distance along the road. The boy was subsequently found unconscious on the road, suffering from injuries about the head and face. He is now being treated in the County Hospital, Tullamore.

Works Which Were Failures.—Wexford Corporation has appointed William McGrath clerk of works for the new housing scheme. Mr. T. Walsh, who opposed the appointment and suggested that an inspector of the Local Government Department should be asked to make periodical inspections, pointed out that they had clerks of works on the last two jobs, which were failures.

Wexford Harbour Control. — Wexford Harbour Board and Wexford Corporation have agreed to a conference to consider an application of the former to have the maintenance, cleansing and lighting of the quays—up to now carried out by them—done in future by the Corporation, who are the receivers of the rates paid for property on the quays.

Power of Public Opinion.—Observing that, as far as he knew, the election of officers in Co. Wexford was open and above board, Mr. W. Thorpe, at a meeting of the Co. Wexford Committee of Agriculture and Technical Instruction, proposed a resolution of protest against the provisions of the Local Officers (Appointments) Act. On a show of hands the proposal was carried, Mr. A. McCann remarking that public opinion had overcome bigger obstacles than this in the past.

The Weeds Act.—Wexford County Committee of Agriculture, at its last meeting, decided, by eight votes to four, to enforce the Weeds Act in the county.

Claim for Lost Benefits.—Justice Fahy, at Gorey Court, gave a decree against F. C. Walsh, Moneylawn, for £3 7s. 6d., loss sustained by Anthony Murphy by the defendant's failure to stamp his insurance card. The defendant said that he believed the boy was under age.

Motorist Charged.—At Mullingar yesterday, Thomas Burns, bookmaker, Merrion street, Dublin, was brought before Miss Corcoran, Peace Commissioner, on a charge of having caused the death of Rose Reilly, Kinnegad, by negligent driving of a motor car. He was remanded to the District Court, bail being accepted.

MUNSTER.

Water in Butter.—When, at Listowel District Court, Bridget Rellihan and Matthew Kennelly were fined 2s. 6d., with 20s. costs, for selling butter which contained more than 16 per cent. of water, Mr. Browne, solicitor, defending, said that 16 was too low a percentage in warm weather, and under the old régime the local magistrates, mostly farmers, had always refused to convict unless the percentage of water was over 20.

Youthful Offenders.—Three youths, named P. Ryan, J. McMahon and C. Woodhouse, were charged at Nenagh District Court yesterday with entering the licensed premises of Mrs. Gleeson, Barrack street, and stealing £16. Ryan and McMahon were put on probation, while Woodhouse was discharged. All the money was returned.

A Bailiff's Chase.—In a fishery prosecution against James Galvin, Finuge, at Listowel District Court, Thomas Fitzgerald, bailiff, stated that while in pursuit of the defendant, who was using a gaff, he was compelled thrice to cross the river on foot. The defendant was fined £4 and £1 costs.

Loss to Nenagh.—The death took place yesterday in Nenagh, after a brief illness, of Mr. Patrick McLoughlin, insurance agent, who was a prominent member of the Committee of the local branch of the St. Vincent de Paul Society. He was also a member of the Urban Council for over twenty years.

The New Housing Act.—At a meeting of the Lismore Town Commissioners yesterday the Town Clerk (Mr. Ormond) said that the new Housing Act gave wonderful powers for corruption to public bodies. It was not wise to grant money out of local rates to private individuals. Mr. Goulding said that it gave very dangerous powers to unscrupulous bodies.

NORTHERN IRELAND.

Belfast Harbour Traffic.—The Harbour Master reported to the Belfast Harbour Board yesterday that 326 vessels arrived at the port during the period from 15th August to the 4th September, as follows:—Coastwise and cross-Channel, 245; foreign, 74; non-trading, 7. The total tonnage of the vessels which arrived from the 1st January to the 4th September was—Coastwise and cross-Channel, 1,234,797, a decrease of 324,529 compared with the corresponding period of the previous year; foreign, 499,804, an increase of 65,237; non-trading, 50,035, a decrease of 20,726; total, 1,784,634, a decrease of 280,018.

Good Work by R.U.C.—When the Grand Jury had disposed of all the bills which had been sent up to them at the Belfast Recorder's Court on Monday, the foreman (Mr. Robert M. Martin) said that he wished to call the attention of his honour to the splendid work of the Royal Ulster Constabulary. Those whom he wished particularly to mention were Head Constable Smylie, Sergeant Hefferman, and Constables Neely, Nixie and Costello. The Recorder said that he was very glad to have that recommendation as regarded the work of the Constabulary, and he would see that it was submitted to the proper authorities. They were all aware of the good work which the Royal Ulster Constabulary had accomplished in the past.

Election of Chairman.—At a meeting of Warrenpoint Urban District Council on Monday night Mr. C. J. Slade (Unionist) vice-chairman, was unanimously elected chairman of the Council, in succession to the late Mr. M. Hourican, J.P., whose son, Mr. W. J. Hourican, was co-opted as a member of the Council. A vote of sympathy was passed with the widow and family of the late chairman, and the meeting adjourned as a mark of respect to his memory.

Downpatrick Subsidy Houses.—At a meeting of Downpatrick Urban Council on Monday evening plans for the building of twenty-four subsidy houses were approved. It was resolved to ask the Home Ministry for an inquiry as soon as possible for sanction to a loan of £7,500 for the execution of the scheme. It is estimated that the new houses will be rented at 6s. a week each.

Boardroom Comedy.—Recently the Enniskillen Board of Guardians passed a resolution prohibiting their officials from being present in the boardroom during the proceedings of the Board. Yesterday Mr. George Bell called attention to this fact, and stated that he now noticed that certain officials stood in the doorway of the Clerk's office with their hands to their ears. He would suggest that the Board should arrange to have their proceedings broadcast and procure earphones for the use of all their officials. (Loud laughter.)

Where Free State Leads.—It was alleged at a meeting of the Enniskillen Board of Conservators yesterday that there was a large wholesale trade done in poached salmon and trout by fish vendors in Enniskillen. Colonel Darley, Chairman, instanced a case where he saw exposed for sale between 70 and 80 trout, and declared that it was impossible that all these were caught with rod and line. Mr. H. A. Burke, D.L., said that in the Free State people were made to account for the fish which they had for sale. In this respect the Free State was ahead of the North.

Northern Bankruptcy Laws.—The Belfast and District Chamber of Trade yesterday agreed to co-operate with the Chamber of Commerce and the Wholesale Traders' Association with a view to submitting evidence to the committee which has been appointed to consider changes in the bankruptcy law.

'Bus Overcrowding. — James McCourt, Woodhouse street, Portadown, was fined 10s. and costs at Lurgan Petty Sessions yesterday for allowing a motor 'bus, of which he was the conductor, to be overcrowded. The 'bus carried 58 passengers, although the seating capacity was only for 30 persons.

Adulterated Milk.—At Lurgan Court yesterday, William Maxwell, Edward street, Lurgan, was fined 20s. and costs for selling buttermilk containing 20 per cent. of added water. For the defence, it was stated that the milk was sold as it was bought from the farmer.

SALES BY PRIVATE TREATY.

CASTLEGOLAND, CLOONEY, AND KILCLOONEYMORE.

ATTRACTIVE RESIDENCE AND FIVE VALUABLE HOLDINGS

FOR SALE BY PRIVATE PROPOSAL.

WE have received instructions from the Very Rev. C. Canon Kennedy, P.P., Glenties; the Reverend John Byrne, P.P., Ardara, and Mr. P. M. Gallagher, Solicitor, Donegal, the Trustees of the Will of William Gallagher, Deceased, to offer for Sale, by private proposal, the following Holdings:—

LOT 1—That Residential Holding, comprised in Folio 13607—County Donegal, known as Castlegoland House, and Farm, containing 73 acres and 2 roods, held in fee-simple, subject to the terminable annuity of £16 4/2, payable to the Irish Land Commission in half-yearly instalments.

This Holding is beautifully situated in one of the most charming seaside resorts in County Donegal. Castlegoland House is a gentleman's Residence, fitted up in modern style, with every up-to-date convenience. It is suitably situated for and could be converted into a first class Hotel, with the facilities at hand for sea bathing, lake fishing and shooting, and the adjoining lands are most suitable for a golf course. Inspection is invited and the necessary arrangements can be made with the Solicitor having Carriage of the Sale, or the Auctioneers. The purchaser of this Lot will have the option of purchasing the Furniture, at a valuation to be made by the Auctioneers.

LOTS 2, 3, 4 and 5—These Holdings, comprising 265 acres in all, and held in fee-simple, are situate near Castlegoland House and Farm. Particulars of each Lot will be supplied at the request of intending purchasers.

Proposals for purchase of all or any of the Lots will be received by the Auctioneers up to the 30th day of September, 1926.

For Conditions of Sale, etc., apply to FRANCIS GALLAGHER, LL.B., Solicitor for the Vendors, Donegal; or to

KENNEDY & McCAUL,

Auctioneers,
